The advance reservation for space for exhibits in agriculture at the State fair, Sept. 3-8 has already assured the filling of all space in the great building at the southeast corner of the grounds. Superintendent T. B. Keedie of Minden says the entries already received make it a "fech" that Nebraska will again have the best agricultural show to be seen in the United States this year.

The correspondence department of the International Harvester Co., have been kept busy answering questions regarding hitching horse drawn farm implements to the farm tractor and for the benefit of all tractor owners and prospective owners they have issued an illustrated booklet containing much valuable information on this subject. They also have issued another booklet, "Farm Power". It contains much information for those interested in power farming. These booklets will be mailed free of charge to anyone who will request them. Communications should be addressed to the Chicago office.

Rev. G. W. Hummel of Red Cloud was here Wednesday conferring with L. C. Peisiger regarding the exhibit of Webster county products to be displayed at the state fair. These two men, as they have for several years, will spend their time and not a little of their private means, in keeping Webster county on the map in the matter of keeping it in its place before the people at the state fair. Space has been secured for an exhibit and Mr. Hummel and Mr. Peisiger will make every effort to have a display of farm products that will reflect the fertility of Webster county soil and demonstrate the fact that this is a good part of the country in which to live. Blue Hill leader.
