

TABLEAU FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE DEMONSTRATION

October 21 is to be celebrated by suffragists all over the country as the second of the "Federal Amendment days," and in many cities a tableau will be staged representing the political status of women in the United States. The illustration shows a dress rehearsal of the tableau, to serve as a model for all. Liberty, Justice and Victory are symbolized at the back of the picture, the nonsuffrage states in chains at the right, the partial suffrage state on the left, while massed in front are the victorious states, flanked on one side by Motherhood and on the other by Womanhood.

JERSEY SPECIAL. IOWA TO MASSACHUSETTS

This is the Jersey Special, a fast train on which ten show herds of Jersey cattle were taken from the National Dairy congress show at Waterloo, Ia., to the National Dairy show at Springfield, Mass. The ten Arms palace cars contained 108 cows and bulls, and the owners and attendants occupied four Pullman's that were attached to the novel train. The Jersey Special made three stops, at Indianapolis, Columbus and Utica, N. Y., at each of which cities there was a parade and banquet in its honor.

THE "ANGEL OF ANTWERP"

Sister Maria Somers, the brave Belgian nurse who has come to be known as the "Angel of Antwerp," wearing two medals recently conferred upon her for distinguished service at Antwerp where she saved the lives of three royal marines. One medal was given by the king of Belgium. The other was the Militaire War Cross, conferred by General Konings of the Belgian army.

Poisoning by Varnish.

The enormously increased production of aeroplanes during the war lends point to a warning regarding the varnish employed. At the aeroplane works in Johannisthal a number of workmen employed in the varnishing department were taken seriously ill, and two deaths resulted. The most important system was jaundice due to decomposition of the blood. On investigation the cause was found to be poisoning by tetrachlorethane, the only solvent known for the highly combustible acetylenolose. These accidents led to an order forbidding the use of solvents containing a high percentage of tetrachlorethane.

Diplomatic Parson.

"Mabel," queried the caller of the minister's little daughter, "does your father ever preach the same sermon twice?" "Yes, I think he does," replied Mabel, "but he talks loud and soft in different places each time, so it doesn't sound the same to outsiders."

ROBBER ROBBED IN CLOTHING SHOP

Slick-Tongued Lipp, Caught With "the Goods," Had to Pay for Trick.

ADVENTURE COSTS $3

Cohen, the Cashier, Takes $11 From Stranger Who He Thought Had Stolen That Amount From Cashbox

Chicago, Ill.—There's $3 waiting for "Mr. Lipp of Columbus, O.," at the office of a local clothing house. Maybe he'll have nerve enough to call for it, anyway.

Charles Cohen, office manager, was putting away a line of fall models, 32 to 40, Saturday afternoon, when a young man with "snappy" clothes and an air of efficiency breezed in.

"Mr. Lipp been here?" he inquired choppily. "Lipp of Columbus. Don't know him? He's m' father. General store. Wants bill o' goods. I'll wait."

Recalls That $400 Pay Roll.

Lipp, Jr., was in a chair when Cohen strolled back to overlook the stitching of a consignment of white duck pants. He was just leaving the inner office when Cohen, recalling a $400 pay roll in a desk drawer, returned hastily.

Cohen halted Mr. Lipp and searched his pockets. Twenty dollars. He examined the office. Only one cash compartment touched. He looked over the daybook. Balance, $11.

Cohen counted off the eleven and handed the remainder back.

"Now, git," he advised. "You ain't even a first-class crook."

Morris Snower, head of the firm, came in later. On hearing Cohen's story he chuckled.

"Believing Is Nix."

"Believe me, Mr. Snower—" his aggrieved employee began.

"Believing is nix," returned Snower. "I know. This morning I bought three tickets for the policeman's benefit and, I forgot to put it in the daybook. Your friend, the burglar, is $3 shy. He ain't the only robber around here."

"Well, I'll show him," said Cohen. "I'm a good sport. I'll tell the newspapers. Maybe they print a piece and Lipp comes back for his three dollars, eh?"

"Maybe," said Snower. "How about it, Mr. Lipp?"

HIS BADGE SAVES POLICEMAN

Bullet Strikes Shield When Officer Is Shot at by Roommate and Makes Only Slight Wound.

Dallas, Tex.—His metal police badge, worn on the front of his blouse, saved the life of Motorcycle Officer Jared McConico early the other morning when his roommate, John J. Gleason, shot at him, thinking he was a burglar. McConico was entering the room through a window to get some matches, having left his key in his room. Gleason awakened to see the form of a man at the window and seizing his pistol, fired one shot. The bullet struck McConico's badge and turned to one side into his left lung. His condition is not serious, it was said at the city hospital, where he was taken for treatment.

THIS LINEMAN HAD BAD DAY

Nearly Electrocuted, Lost an Eye and Found Wife Had Eloped With Friend of Family.

Bethlehem, Pa.—David Hehney, a lineman, narrowly escaped electrocution here when on a high pole when he came in contact with a live wire carrying several thousand volts. The fact that he was strapped to the pole prevented him from being dashed to the ground. The end of the wire struck him across the eye, destroying the sight.

More hard luck greeted Hehney when he reached home several hours later and found that his wife had eloped with a young man who was a frequent visitor to the Hehney home.

Leonardo da Vinci Statue.

The museum of fine arts at Budapest, Hungary, has acquired what is declared to be a treasure in an almost unknown bronze statue of Leonardo da Vinci, executed by himself.

The Hungarian sculptor Stephen Ferecny bought the bronze in Italy early in the nineteenth century without knowing that Da Vinci was its creator.

It was not until after Ferecny's death that the authorship was established.

Japan's Rising Cotton Trade.

Japan's exports of cotton yarn have shown a large increase since the latter part of last year. According to the Japan Chronicle, report of investigations made by the Spinning association, exports of various cotton cloths during the first half of this year amounted in value to $23,415,072. This figure is unprecedentedly large and shows an increase of $4,123,467 over the amount for the preceding six months and $10,966,488 over that of the corresponding period last year. The highest rate of increase was seen in the exports to India, followed by the exports to Siberia, while the exports to the Philippines decreased by about one-half, as compared with the preceding half year.

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate People 200% in Ten Days

In Many Instances—Persons Have Suffered Untold Agony for Years Doctoring for Nervous Weakness, Stomach, Liver or Kidney Disease or Some Other Ailment When Their Real Trouble Was Lack of Iron in the Blood—How to Tell.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. Sauer, Specialist, of this city said: If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night, others are sleepy and tired all day; some fussy and irritable; some skinny and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases, it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your flagging vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what anyone tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were alling all the time double, and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonders wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated Iron, for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

NOTE—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $10.00 to any Charitable Institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed by most druggists. If your druggist or general store is without a supply, ask them to get it for you.—Adv.
