FIRE

THE ALARM OF FIRE is a dreadful thing for the man without insurance. Every time he sees the engines racing along his heart comes up in his throat if the fire is anywhere near his place. What folly, what mistaken economy.

THE COST OF INSURANCE is so small that it need hardly be considered. The freedom from worry alone is worth it many times over. Have us insure you to-day.

WHAT HE STANDS FOR

Mr. Sutton's Record Disqualifies Him
for Governor of an Agricultural State.

A man's deeds provide an unflinching index of his character. They are more reliably indicative of his sympathies and impulses than can be any promises or pretenses he may make in a campaign.

Some measure of the fitness of A. L. Sutton to be governor of an agricultural state like Nebraska is afforded in his record while he was a member of the legislature. That was, of course, years ago, but a man's moral make-up is not easily changed.

"Once an exemplar of political immorality, always an exemplar of political crookedness," is not an unsafe standard in the measurement of public servants.

Here are some of the votes cast by Abraham L. Sutton as a legislator:
Against an anti-pass law intended to take the clutches of the corporations of the throats of the people—and incidentally take away his own railroad passes.

Against a bill to require railroads to provide free transportation for stock shippers to accompany their shipments.

Against the Newberry maximum rate bill.

He dodged the opportunity to vote for a bill to require railroads to build connecting switches at points of intersection.

He dodged the opportunity to vote for a bill to require railroads to transfer freights at connecting points.

He voted against every proposition made during two sessions for the regulation of stock yards charges against stock shippers.

Against a resolution favoring foreclosure of the government's lien for the debt owing the government by the Union Pacific railroad.

Against a resolution calling upon Nebraska congressmen to use all honorable means to secure foreclosure of the Union Pacific debt.

Do these votes show where the sympathies of Mr. Sutton lie? In not a single vote cast in either of the two sessions of the legislature did he show an inclination to favor the masses as against a corporation. Was his legislative course that of a moral man?

His record in regard to other than corporation interests is equally spotted. Here are some of his votes on other measures:

Against a bill proposed in the interest of the state's morals, to raise the age of consent in girls from 15 to 18 years, for the protection of society and the state's young womanhood.

Against a bill to appropriate $200,000 for the relief of farmers afflicted and impoverished by two drought years and to provide them with seed for the next year's planting.

In favor of a bill to pay a bounty to Henry T. Oxnard on every pound of sugar manufactured in Nebraska, for which the drought-stricken farmers were to be taxed. He voted to pass this bill over the governor's veto.

Against a bill to require the safe investment of the state's permanent school fund, as a result of the failure of which the defalcation of State Treasurer Bartley (republican) three years later stripped the state of $555,000 of its permanent school fund, which the taxpayers had to reimburse by taxation.

Against a woman suffrage measure in one session and against a suffrage memorial to congress in another.

Against a bill to forbid the employment of Pinkerton detectives as deputy sheriffs in time of industrial trouble.

Against three measures for the appropriation to the use of the university of its matriculation fees, its law college tuition fees and the Morrill fund, none of which came out of the state treasury and all of which were created especially for the uses of the University.

Against a measure for improvement of the buildings and grounds of the university.

Against a resolution forbidding legislators and legislative employes from carrying home the property of the state at the close of the session.

No recognized representative of the corporations who ever sat in the Nebraska legislature has a rottener record than this of Abraham L. Sutton, viewed from the standpoint of the producing classes of this state.

Show it to your republican neighbor.

A VITAL QUESTION

Essential to the disposition of favors and the representation of all sections of the state upon the boards which control the major part of the business of the state, is the election of the democratic ticket. Should the republican ticket be elected, every board will be controlled by residents of Lincoln and Omaha.

Remember this, Mr. Voter.

No taxpayer who approves of the more than a million dollar reduction in state taxes in two years can afford to vote against the men who effected it. They are Pool for secretary of state, Smith for auditor, George Hall for treasurer and Reed for attorney general. To vote to displace them would be to vote to rebuke them for their clean, capable and economic of self conduct. Can the taxpayers afford to administer that sort of a rebuke for splendid public service?

JUDGE ALBERT J.
CORNISH
Candidate for
Supreme Court Judge

Judge Cornish has served 21 years as District Judge at Lincoln. His ability, impartiality and fair-mindedness are proven by five elections to the district bench by his neighbors.

Judge Cornish is in the prime of life, alert, vigorous, human, a District Judge with an extraordinary record for decisions approved by the Supreme Court.

Three judges are to be elected. Judge Cornish's fitness for Supreme Judge can easily be learned. Ask the lawyers in your community.

JOHN C. MARTIN
Central City, Nebraska
Candidate for Election on the Non-Partisan Judiciary ballot
For Supreme Judge

MR. MARTIN is 56 years of age, was born and reared at Pittsburg, Pa., and where he read law for four years prior to coming to Nebraska. He was educated at Wooster University, Wooster, Ohio, and Lafayette College at Easton, Pa. He came to Nebraska in 1883 and first located at Columbus, where he practiced law until 1886 when he moved to Merrick County, Neb. He has devoted his entire time and energy to the practice of the law in this state ever since, excepting during the years 1899 and 1900 when he was legal adviser of the auditing department of the United States located at Havana, Cuba, under the military occupation of Cuba.

An evidence of his conception of the duties of the office to which he aspires, and for the purpose of advising the electors of Nebraska as to his conduct in that office if elected, he announces the following

PLATFORM
Equality before the law.
Remove the law's vexatious delays.
Substantial justice unhampered by technicalities.
Purify the courts by severe punishment for perjury.

No politics or favoritism known on the bench.
"To do the right as God gives me to see the light."

A. V. Ducker
Democrat Candidate For County Treasurer

Your Vote Will Be Appreciated

Wm. H. Smith, State Auditor.

State Auditor Smith is serving his first term and is a candidate for re-election. His motto has been "Business Methods Applied to the Public's Affairs." The cost of operating his department was reduced $5,039.53 during the first 15 months of his term. His influence and vote were exerted in securing a $1,018,000.00 reduction in state taxes in 1914-16, and in raising the valuation of the railroads $5,000,000.00 for taxation purposes in 1916.

Chief Justice
Andrew M. Morrissey
Non-Partisan Candidate to Succeed Himself.

The Judiciary has been taken out of politics. Judges are not nominated by political parties, but are voted for on a separate non-partisan ballot. Judge Morrissey's work as Chief Justice has been heartily commended by those having business before the Supreme Court. In the April primaries the voters showed their appreciation of his efforts by giving him a splendid majority. Out of 93 counties he received a majority of 80; and in the whole state he received 9,993 more votes than were cast for any other candidate for Chief Justice. He is in vigorous health; in the prime of life; has demonstrated his fitness for the position, and for these reasons you are asked to help elect him to succeed himself.
