The Death of W. T. Auld Hamilton - Sisco Wedding

W. T. Auld passed away at Hemet, California, on Monday afternoon, to which place he had journeyed some months previous to spend the winter, and the following tribute to his memory will be easily recognized as coming from the pen of Attorney Jas. S. Gilham:

"Mr. Auld was born May 10, 1845, in the state of Ohio. His boyhood was spent at Knoxville, Iowa, where his body will be taken for burial.

"He came to Guide Rock in 1885, where he organized the Bank of Guide Rock. In 1892 he organized the State Bank of this city. In 1899 he became the owner of one of the leading banks in Lincoln, and in 1912 he became the owner of the Corn Exchange Bank of Omaha.

"His connection with a bank was an assurance of stability and a guarantee of success. He was a friend of all his customers—and those who followed his advice always found it leading to prosperity.

"In those dark days of Red Cloud's history, when all the banks had failed, when the credit of the merchants was worthless, and all the financial enterprises of the city were crumbling, Mr. Auld restored the financial standing of the community, and put the credit of the city upon a secure footing.

"Mr. Auld was one of the few wealthy men in the state, who recognized the duty and privilege of using their wealth in public benefactions to the communities where they reside. Guide Rock and Red Cloud will always remember him with gratitude for the beautiful library buildings donated by him. Lincoln has gratefully inscribed his name on its most extensive park.

"There will be hundreds of children and youth who will look with saddened eyes on the crepe hanging from the door of the public library in this city. They had not known the donor. But they had learned to speak his name with grateful respect—and they will cherish his memory with increasing affection, as their minds are enriched with the means afforded by his generosity.

"Not-with-standing his absence from this city, caused by his conduct of banks at Lincoln and Omaha, he always regarded Red Cloud as his home, and the people of this city will always recall with affectionate pride their most prosperous, most generous and most public spirited citizen."

Appalling, Fatal Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Swartz were called to Inavale the first of the week by a peculiarly pathetic accident which cost the life of the latter's brother, a lad of about 17 years.

Beauford Pierce, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce, who formerly resided on the Frisbie place known as the Amboy mill farm, in company with a companion, Jim Heilman, a lad several years his senior, endeavored to ride belated No. 16 out of Riverton on last Friday night, the boys, so it is presumed, intending to ride the train to within a short distance of the Pierce home. At about 11 o'clock that night the Heilman boy, in an unconscious condition, dragged himself to a nearby farm house, where on being taken in, it was ascertained he was seriously, but not fatally, injured. On the restoration of partial consciousness he began asking for his companion, with the result that a search was at once instigated, which ended by the finding of the lifeless body of the Pierce boy in a snow bank near the track, a little ways out of Riverton. The unfortunate lad's limbs had both been broken, as well as one arm and his head badly crushed.

The Heilman boy, at this writing, has not sufficiently recovered as to state just how the accident occurred or as to what part of the train they were riding.

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hamilton, when the former's sister, Miss Belle Hamilton, was united in marriage to Howard Sisco, Rev. John D. Hammel officiating. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hamilton of Guide Rock, and not only enjoys a wide circle of friends in her home town, but in our city as well. The groom is a prosperous young farmer of Pawnee county and while a stranger in this community, yet his choice of a life-time companion is sufficient recommendation. The happy couple left this morning for the eastern part of the state to visit his parents.

Farmers Telephone Hearing

State Railway Commissioner Wilson, in company with his stenographer, Miss Taylor, arrived on the scene yesterday for the purpose of holding the long anticipated, and many times postponed hearing, relative to the raise in rates sought by the Farmers' Independent Telephone Company of this city. The hearing, itself, affords but little for publication and the outcome of the same will remain a matter of conjecture, for some time, if the Commission travels the same round-about course in arriving at a verdict, as that taken, prior to the holding of the hearing. The time yesterday was entirely consumed by the gathering of data, relative to the cost of this, that and the other, and the proceedings, so we are informed, would have been entirely devoid of either comedy or drama, were it not for the presence and testimonials of Secretary O. C. Teel, of the Independent Company, Local Manager Geo. Warren, of the Lincoln T. & T. Company and Attorney Bernard McNeny, who represented the minority stockholders of the Independent Company.

District Court Proceedings

Judge Dorsey and Court Reporter Baird convened a term of court, with a jury Monday morning. However, on Tuesday the jury was sent home, as there was no jury work.

The court disposed of the following: William H. Moore vs Henry L. Heuereux, continued to March term.

Phebe A. Cook vs John L. Christian, settled and dismissed.

Floyd E. Derr vs Delbert Buckles, settled and dismissed.

Bernard L. Castor vs City of Red Cloud, dismissed.

Yance E. Nelson, et al. vs E. P. Nelson, et al. Sale confirmed. Deed.

Georgia Long vs Ralph Long, divorce for plaintiff.

The case of James Vance vs County Commissioners, for a contempt order, is a case wherein plaintiff claims damages for the overflow of water along the Inavale road, on his farm and on his crops. The county was given 15 days to answer the complaint and the case was set for the March 31st term.

Safety for Saws.

In order to prevent damage to circular saws and danger to workmen, it has been found advisable to give all logs which come to a sawmill a thorough spraying with jets of water. This removes bits of rock or gravel before the logs go to the saw.

Help the Child.

A child is prey to many fears which have little to do with physical cowardice. The sensitive child is positively afraid of many things without realizing he is afraid. What he needs is to be given a greater confidence in life and in himself.

Optimistic Thought. A city does not prosper that shakes with sedition and is rent by evil passions.
