Daylight Saving Law

With the nation wide change in time on Monday, March 31, it will not be necessary for the railroads to issue new time cards, says the State Journal. The railway world, practically, will stop operation for an hour, altho to patrons that cessation will not be noticed and no new time cards will be issued, and no change in routine of business will be noticed. The clocks will be set ahead one hour. That is all.

At 2 o'clock on the morning of Monday, March 31, all clocks used in railroad administration will be set ahead one hour. The hour fixed for moving ahead the hands of the railway clocks is designated in an order received from Director General Walter Hines, in stating the permanent procedure that is to be followed by the carriers in complying with the day-light saving law. "This order is to continue during the federal control of railroad properties as long as the day-light saving law remains effective," says the instructions.

The same procedure gone thru a year ago will be followed this year.

MODES

In the film of "Cleopatra," in which Theda Bara portrays the title role, as much attention has been paid to the true presentation of Ancient Egyptian dress as has been paid to the crashing mass effects in Cleopatra's life. Thus it is that by looking at the picture one quickly obtains a clear idea of the dress of the Ancient Egyptians.

Dress in Ancient Egypt, as in every civilized country, showed a great diversity according to the class or occupation of the individual. Each caste had its distinct dress. At the Orpheum next Monday and Tuesday.

Dr. E. E. Lollar left Tuesday morning for Grand Island and Shelton, to attend to some business matters.

Attorney E. G. Caldwell was attending to legal business in Hastings on Tuesday.
