Your Home Should Reflect Good Taste

To "advertise" oneself sounds like something a really refined and well-bred person would hardly care to do, and yet, even you, in countless ways, every day, do advertise yourself.

In YOUR HOME, particularly, the Chairs, you offer your guests; the Rugs upon the floors, the Tables, the Lamps, the Decorative Objects; the Dressing Table and other appointments of your boudoir; even your kitchen range or your Kitchen Cabinet are your "publicity agents".

A setting for your personal charms that is itself eloquent in praise of you is an Artistic, Comfortable, Livable Home—such as this store is so unusually competent to create—with our large and beautiful, fairly priced assortment and our thoughtful provision of generous terms of payments.

Thieves are Again Busy

Despite the fact that every precaution is being taken to protect the property of our citizens against house breakers and sneak thieves, they continue to operate in our midst. The latest victim of the house breakers was Geo. W. Trine, his store being entered Tuesday evening at about 7:30. Entrance was gained by way of the rear-upstairs door. It was an easy matter to pass unnoticed up the stairway just north of the store, and down the hall to the rear of the building. Here a door was unlocked. The prowler then came down to the lower floor, pulled the electric switch left the store in darkness. On coming to town after supper Mr. Trine noticed that the night light was not burning as usual and entered the building. The electricity failed to respond to the touch of the button and he at once began an investigation, which revealed an open switch as well as an open back door, through which the thief is believed to have made his exit. Mr. Steven's bill had been sacked and several dollars taken from that of Mr. Trine. The fact that several dollars were left indicate that the thief had been disturbed before he had completed his work. This robbery as well as that of the Cotting drug store some time ago leave no doubt in the minds of many that it is the work of "home guards" and who are not professional in this line they have made a study of the surroundings before beginning operations. To date no clues have been found that will lead to the arrest of the thief.

Pioneer Answers Summons

The hand of death has reached out and taken from our midst another of our pioneer citizens. On Tuesday evening the spirit of Mrs. Charlotte Cook returned to its maker. The deceased was born in Germany December 1, 1837. She came to America in 1870 and was united in marriage to A. Cook in 1872, moving to Red Cloud in 1879, where she has since resided. During the forty years she lived here she endeared herself to a large circle of friends who will mourn her passing.

Two daughters, Miss Tilla, at home, and Mrs. Emma Robertson of Donnellson, Iowa, survive her.

Funeral services were conducted from her late home this afternoon, at three o'clock, and the remains laid to rest beside her late husband.

Called to Her Eternal Home

Mrs. Elizabeth Trine, one of Webster county's oldest and most highly respected pioneer citizens passed away at her home east of Blue Hill on Thursday, March 4th, after an illness of about two weeks duration.

Up until a short time ago Mrs. Trine appeared to be in the best of health and her passing came as a sudden shock to her relatives and many friends. Physicians who attended her attribute her death to a natural weakening of constitution, as she appeared to sense no suffering during her illness. Several days previous to her death she passed into a state of semi-unconsciousness from which she never recovered.

The deceased was born in Virginia September 18, 1842. She came to Nebraska and settled in this county in 1884.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Jennie Carroll of Hays Center, Kansas and Mrs. Gertrude Norris of Hastings, Neb.; three sons, William and Joseph of Blue Hill and George W. of this city.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, interment being made in the Oak Creek cemetery.

The revival meetings at the Christian church have been transferred to the South Mission church where the ladies will conduct the same for a week or more.

Tom Nash, who has been working on the Oxford and Red Cloud local freight, went to Republican City Sunday evening, to take charge of a run on the Oberlin branch.

Hassinger Sells Suitatorium

On and after March 15th the Hassinger Suitatorium will be under new management, its proprietor, Roy Hassinger having sold out to Frank R. Hughes of Hastings. During the many years that Roy has served in this capacity he has given his many customers all that could be desired in this line but as the new man comes highly recommended this business establishment will continue to maintain its high standard.

At the present time Mr. Hassinger has no definite plans for the future mapped out but is of the opinion that he will continue to reside in our community.

Yola Swartz, Librarian.
The above figures do not give all whom the library is perhaps serving, as a book taken out by one person is very often read by a number of others before it is returned. Also the report gives no idea of the help the library has been this winter to the school children in the use of reference books.

The circulation for the year showed an increase of 1193 volumes over last year.

During the year, the adult books, 8311 volumes of fiction, 738 volumes of non-fiction and 376 magazines were drawn.

A nice lot of books were recently donated to the library by Mrs. Fred Plumb.

Tan-Gors Powdered Buttermilk Hog Builder

IN TESTS made at the Iowa State Agricultural College it was found that the free use of this preparation with other foods shortens the feeding period one third, obtaining same results. Aside from acting as a tonic, keeping hogs exceptionally healthy, it is high in food value. It contains the right elements for rapid growth. For brood sows and suckling pigs it has no equal.

170 pound barrel, with water added, makes 1400 to 1600 gallons of liquid buttermilk, and 1-3 add'd feeding liquid

Can you afford to be without this highly valuable preparation?

As A Poultry Food--

You breed them to lay. Do you feed them to lay? Fed right, poultry thrive and pay. Fed wrong they are an expense. Their rations must be properly balanced. Some foods make shells, some make yolks, and others make whites. You would not expect a factory to turn out finished products without the proper raw materials. You cannot expect a hen to manufacture eggs without the necessary, proper raw materials.
