Before Prices go up
Come in for the details of our Budget Plan

If you are thinking about purchasing a New Edison, mark this. The New Edison today costs less than 15% over what it did in 1914. Mr. Edison has personally, held prices down by absorbing more than one-half of the increased costs of manufacturing. He may not be able to do this much longer.

The NEW EDISON
 "The Phonograph with a Soul!"
 Our Budget Plan will take care of the payments.

 A. Gauvain of Minatare, Nebraska is in the city this week in the interests of a stock company which is being organized for the purpose of building a sugar factory in that town. The same is capitalized at three million dollars and stock is offered for sale to the farmers only, as this will be a strictly co-operative association. This gentleman has Franklin and Webster county as his territory.
 Supt. Holtzen, local manager for the Red Cloud Chautauqua states that 425 tickets have been guaranteed for next season's Chautauqua, but the Midland people must have a guarantee of 500 tickets before they will arrange to come next summer. Those who guaranteed the Chautauqua this year were compelled to dig up out of their pockets in order to make up the deficiency and as the citizens of the community do not care to again go on the guarantee list it is up to the people to sign up for the season tickets if they wish to have a Chautauqua the coming year. He states that six people have already signed for ten tickets each and if four more would sign for ten tickets each the Chautauqua would be assured. Those who wish to secure tickets for next year's entertainment can do so by seeing him or calling at the printing offices.
Convertible Skates.
 A Chicagoan has invented a convertible skate. Which reminds us—though it is nothing appertaining to the subject—did you ever notice how quickly a man sobers when his wife slights him? The convertible skate is not new by any manner of means.—Buffalo News.
Event Worth Remembering.
 In 1838, on the twenty-fourth of January, Samuel F. B. Morse gave his first demonstration of the code of dots and dashes used in telegraphy and now known as the Morse code.
AS MCCOALE SEES IT
 In my last letter, treating on the political situation in Ireland, I described the sad state of affairs existing during my stay in that country. When writing, I generally comment on the subject under consideration and do not touch on religion, as it is a subject I prefer not to introduce, or in any way comment on, but after reading a few paragraphs by a noted writer in Capper's Weekly, headed "Religious Civil War in Ireland," I deem it my duty to say a few words in the defense of my native land.
 The writer of the above article says conditions grow worse instead of better, the old religious intolerance has been revived, apparently, in all its bitterness. Protestants are killing each other, not because they are for or against the independence of Ireland, but because of the differences in religion. The above seems to sound rather harsh to me and more than likely to others at this enlightened age of civilization.
 One must admit that the writer covers the subject too generally. I wish not only to mention, but to impress upon the minds of the readers of this widely circulated paper, that it is wholly wrong to say that Protestants and Catholics are murdering each other. I was in that country long enough to know the difference, to know that the greatest harmony existed among the Catholics and Protestants and all other denominations in Ireland. Even to go a step farther—the enlightened and far-seeing Protestants of England and Scotland were always our best friends and gave ample proof of their sympathy in Ireland receiving their just rights.
 Therefore, I say that neither the Protestants or Catholics are the aggressors in these cowardly and lowly acts. The real instigators of the crimes are a miserable handful or clique of scoundrels—the dross among the followers of William of Orange, having their dens in such places as Dorey Belfast, and have a double object in view when pouncing, with merciless severity, upon the Catholics, irrespective of sex, as well as plundering and looting everything in their path.
 These very people—the very scum—call themselves the true Loyalists of Ulster and are looked upon by Sir Edward Carson and the British government as the real philanthropists of Ireland, and I do believe that they are better qualified for entrance to the asylums and sanitariums than to mingle with civilized and religious people of Ireland. The Irish at home, including the Irish of Great Britain, as well as the Irish abroad, sacrificed considerable for world Democracy. What has the result in return? Coercion and prices have been the result.
