THE ONLY DEMOCRATIC PAPER IN WEBSTER COUNTY

There has been no finer note of patriotism and Americanism struck in any campaign than the tributes Governor Cox is paying in his speeches to the memory and the valor of "our boys who died and are sleeping in France," and to their brave comrades who survived, and the reiteration of his determination to "keep faith with the dead." Governor Cox has not forgotten what they fought and what they died for, and as President of the United States they could have no more faithful and sympathetic trustee of their interests.

"NORMALCY" AND OLD TIMES.

Senator Harding has been saying in his speeches that he "wants to get back to normalcy," and Governor Coolidge professes to wish for a restoration of "old times."

These gentlemen are the candidates of the "Old Guard," and must, therefore, voice the wishes of the "Old Guard." The "normalcy" of "old times" Senator Harding wishes to get back to must be that of the good old, golden Mark Hanna days, when an "Old Guard's" campaign fund exceeded $16,000,000; when a price was paid for elections; when employees at great industrial plants were told by their superintendents, the agents of special interests, that unless they voted as they (the representatives of special interests) wished them to vote, their jobs would be closed to them on the day following the election; they were the days when corporation taskmasters wrung immense dividends from the very blood of women and children employed in unregulated "sweatshops."

On the other hand, in the days of "normalcy," in the "old times," there was no Federal Reserve system; panics were as frequent as the seasons, and national bank failures occurred on an average of one every three weeks; there was no Farm Loan system; small farmers were the victims of mortgage bank pirates and tenancy was the curse of the land; there was no Federal aid in road building; and every farmer paid a "mud tax"; there was no merchant marine; there was none of the many beneficent legislative enactments of the last two Democratic administrations, which wrested the power of government out of the hands of a few and lodged it in the hands of the people. In those days of "normalcy" an insidious lobby guided the hand that wrote the law placed upon the Nation's statute books, until driven from the corridors of the Capital as the money-changers of old were lashed from the Temple.

Such was "normalcy" in the "old times" for which the "Old Guard," the agents of the special interests, speaking through its candidates, so fervently sighs.

HOW TO PREPARE THE FORMALIN SOLUTION

The solution used is made up as follows: 1 pint Formalin (Formaldehyde 40 per cent) in 35 gallons of water. Barrels or tanks are not injured by the Formalin and may be used for holding the solution when soaking or dipping the seed. The solution may be used several times, but preferably not more than five times.

HOW TO TREAT

Run the seed through a good fanning mill before treatment. This will remove many of the shriveled and light weight kernels, spore balls, many of the free smut spores and dirt. Make up the solution as given above (1 pint Formalin to 35 gallons of water,) put the seed in loosely filled burlap sacks, dip into the solution and soak for five minutes. Drain on flats over the barrels or tanks to prevent wasting the solution. Place the seed on a clean floor or canvas, and cover with sacks or canvas for two hours. Dry by spreading in a thin layer and stirring occasionally with a rake or shovel.

The seed may be sown when dry enough to run freely through the drill, increasing to feed of the drill to allow for any swollen condition of the grain. If seed is to be stored for several days or longer, dry thoroughly. Seeding rate need not be increased when grain is dried. Disinfect sacks, bin and drill to prevent re-infection.

A treatment sometimes used for grains, but not recommended when the above treatment can be used, is given below.

Sprinkle the solution (1 pint of Formalin to 35 gallons of water) on the seed, using about one gallon to the bushel, shoveling over at the same time to make sure of uniform wetting. Cover in a pile with bags or canvas and handle as in the treatment above. The effectiveness of this treatment depends on the thorough wetting of each seed.

Lewis Stock Company Here

Sunday morning the Wm. F. Lewis Stock Company's Reo truck train pulled into Red Cloud and proceeded to the lot north of the mill where the tent was set up for the week's performance.

The appearance of Mr. Lewis and his company of theatrical artists is anxiously awaited by our citizens, as they have found from past experience that they are assured of a week's high class entertainment.

The opening play, Monday night, "The Unmarried Mother" was witnessed by a capacity house. Yes, Hankins was there, and just before the last act greeted the audience in his usual pleasant way and announced the bill for the ensuing week.

Tuesday night's play, "Heart of the Hills", made a decided hit with the audience. "The Arm of the Law" Wednesday evening, surpassed the expectations of all. The big feature play of the week will be "The Days of '61'" on Friday evening. A liberal sprinkling of high class vaudeville between acts is also given each evening. The Company is sure making good on Mr. Hankins' prediction, that each play will be just a little better than the last one.

Frank Richardson returned home the last of the week from Chicago. After spending a few days with his wife and family he left for Wyoming where he will take up his old position on the railroad.

Harry Stephenson of Courtland, Kansas, was in the city the last of the week. While here he had four fingers of his right hand amputated which had never healed since his accident last spring.

You're taking the right step when you switch to Spurs

YOU can't do better. After you've smoked through a pack of Spurs, you won't want to go back to other cigarettes.
You'll find your old kind sort of flat and uninteresting, like last year's politics.

For Spur's good tobacco taste
can't help but win you for keeps.
There's rich, mellow Turkish,
flavorful Burley and other home-grown tobaccos blended in a new way that brings out to the full the all-'round goodness of this top-notch cigarette.

And Spurs top all—all ways. They're crimped.
That means slow burn,
smooth taste—no paste.
The smart "brown-and-silver" package is threefold to keep Spurs fresh and fragrant.

Twenty cents will prove that Spurs are your kind of cigarettes—top-notch
quality at rock-bottom price. The sooner you try them the gladder you'll be.
