MOHAWK INDIANS IN BONUS PARADE HELD IN NEW YORK CITY

Mohawk Indians in Tribal Feathers—All of Them Yanks.

With seventy-five thousand former service men in line and headed by a flying column of automobiles bearing hundreds of wounded soldiers, the recent bonus parade in New York city presented an impressive spectacle as platoon after platoon of uniformed marchers swept down Fifth avenue amid a tumult of cheers.

Many striking groups appeared in the parade, one of them being a band of Mohawk Indians in tribal feathers and wampum, all of them Yanks who had fought overseas.

Another feature was a huge gun mounted on a decorated truck which by a compressed air device fired rounds of circulars urging the bonus for ex-service men.

Ninety bands along the line of march played such airs of war days as "Over There" and "Madelon" as the former doughboys and gobs stepped out behind them.

BOLLES AS MESS SERGEANT IN BRONCHO-BUSTING GAME

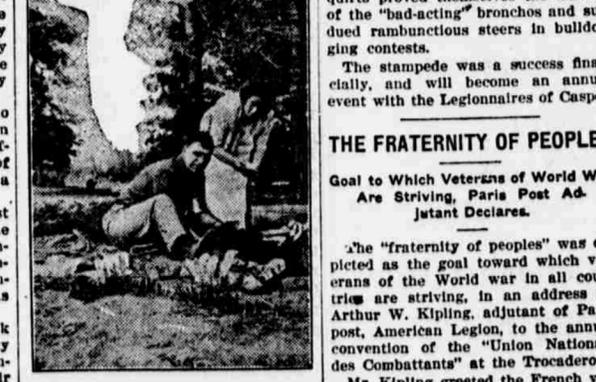

National Adjutant Proves Cleverness in Roasting Corn and Potatoes in Mud Coating.

There's plenty of work concerned with the job of being the national adjutant of the American Legion, but still, Lemuel Bolles of Seattle, Wash., who recently was reappointed to the office, finds time now and then in which to get away from the duties of his position.

Mr. Bolles, who was one of the original delegates to the Paris caucus of the American Legion, served as a lieutenant colonel on the general staff of the first army corps from May, 1918, to March, 1919. Before the war he had served in all grades up to and including that of captain in the infantry of the Washington National Guard.

He was assistant adjutant general of the state of Washington in 1916-1917. When the Washington National Guard was mobilized Mr. Bolles joined the forty-first division at Camp Greene, N. C., and went overseas with that outfit.

On his return to the United States he assisted in the organization of the
