"YOU'RE FIRED," said the editor.
 "UNLESS YOU can dig up
 A LIVE story today."
 SO THE cub reporter,
 DISAPPEARED FOR hours.
 BUT WHEN he recovered,
 FROM HIS trance, he had
 A STORY—here it is.
 OUR DEPUTY constable,
 WAS WAKENED by the 'phone.
 AND A shrill voice cried,
 "FOR THE love of Mike,
 BEAT IT here quick.
 AND NAIL a nut.
 WHO'S TALKING wild.
 IN THE cigar store."
 THE LONG arm of the law,
 PUT ON his pants,
 SPED TO the scene.

AND AFTER a brief,
 BUT TERRIFIC struggle,
 MADE THE pinch.
 AND WHEN interviewed,
 BY OUR star reporter,
 GAVE OUT this statement.
 "HE'S A loony, all right.
 THE ASYLUM says, by Heck.
 THE WORST they ever had.
 WHY THE poor nut,
 CLAIMS HE can copy.
 THE SECRET blend,
 OF THE cigarettes,
 THAT SATISFY."

NO—the blend can't be copied. It's one way of blending fine tobaccos
 —both Turkish and Domestic—that the other fellow can't get onto. That's why Chesterfields "satisfy," and that's why only Chesterfields can "satisfy."

STATE CAPITAL

The house is holding night sessions twice a week in order to dispose of bills that are up for third reading.

Eleven Nebraska institutions engaged in child work have petitioned bills that would interfere with their work.

The sifting committee gave out the apportionment bills first. Others will follow in the order of their supposed importance.

The senate finally passed the bill providing for a standard loaf of bread but considerable oratory was necessary in order to do it.

The senate approved a motion that senate employees must be on the job by 8:15 in the morning instead of coming when they please.

Among bills passed by the senate are one increasing the penalty for bank hold-ups, and one providing nine judges for the Omaha district, in both men, was the chief figure.

The senate had the stage all set for a fight over the movie bill but changed its mind at the last minute. A large audience was disappointed.

The house added $100,000 to the appropriation for state aid bridges. The appropriation bill was approved by the house without much difficulty.

The senate approved the bill that reduces the amount of butter fat that is included in ice cream. This may have the effect of reducing the price of ice cream.

By a close margin the house decided to put judges, school superintendents and others back on the partisan ballot, thus doing away with the non-partisan ballot.

The Yieser bill making it a crime to allow food products to spoil in order to keep up prices received favorable consideration in the house and will probably pass.

The finance committee overlooked the Kearney tuberculosis hospital when making up the appropriation bill but an item of $120,000 was added for this institution.

Senate file 282 gives the pardon board the right to do as it pleases about hearing applications for pardons and paroles. The bill also provides rules under which the board Members of the house judiciary committee petitioned Governor McKelvie to introduce a bill to continue the supreme court commission for two years. The senate has twice killed a bill to continue the commission.

The language bill, passed by the senate, has reached the house and it is expected to pass without serious opposition, altho an active lobby is working against it. It will have to be reported out by the sifting committee.

It is said four or five potential candidates for governor are functioning in the legislature. It will be a lab- or of love for the newspapers to start fires under some of them when their boomlets are launched.

The American Legion soldiers' relief bill passed the house by a big majority. This bill provides an appropriation of two million dollars which is to be invested in government bonds and the interest will be used for needy former soldiers.

Representative Epperson fought to the last ditch in his effort to defeat the highway bills but he was systematically and enthusiastically defeated at every turn. He admitted that his object was to do away with federal aid in road building and put the entire jurisdiction within the counties.

A special effort was made by the house last week to dispose of as many bills as possible in order to keep them from falling into the grip of the sifting committee. This committee took charge of the general file Monday and from now on only such bills will be acted on as this committee passes out. The senate expects to get along without a sifting committee.

The Douglas primary bill provoked a lot of oratory in the house but was finally advanced. This bill provides for a combination of convention and primary. Candidates are to be selected by a convention and then selections will be made from the list in a primary. Opponents of the bill predict that if it becomes a law that referendum will be invoked and the people will kill it.

Senate file 120, which asks congress to provide a national board for censoring moving pictures, was taken away from the house committee on child welfare and reported out. Charges were made that the chairman of this committee was trying to smother the bill because he wanted to get favorable action on his own bill on the same subject. The action of the house is taken as a prediction of what is likely to happen in the way of action on censorship.

As predicted, the state hail insurance bill still lacks a whole lot of being out of the woods and predictions are made that it will not pass unless the $100,000 revolving fund section is taken out. Friends of the bill say it will still be better than the present law, even if this section is stricken out. One reason it will be better is because it requires the payment of premiums in advance. Under the present law premiums do not have to be paid in until the hail season is over and it is said many do not pay.

The house approved the soldier bonus bill but it cannot go into effect until voted on by the people. It provides for a tax levy of one million dollars a year for ten years. Some feeling was stirred up over the bill and the American Legion men refused to vote either way.

The senate also approved the bill requiring general registration of voters. This bill requires assessors to register all voters while making their rounds. No further registration is needed unless one removes from one precinct to another. Voters who wish to change their politics before voting in a primary must notify the county clerk thirty days in advance. The object of the bill is to keep voters from switching from one party to the other in primary elections.

The senate advanced the marriage bill but cut out some of its most drastic features. The section requiring medical examination was taken out for the reason that only a few physicians in the state are able to make the proper tests. Ten days notice are required before a license may issue but if the parties are over 21 the judge may waive this requirement. The old marriage law now on the books is unchanged.
