Lecturer Pleases Audience

Mr. Will H. Farley, representing the National Cash Register Co., gave an illustrated lecture Tuesday evening, in the Newhouse building, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. The subject "Getting the Most Out of Retailing" was splendidly handled in both pictures and lecture. Many points were brought out in relation to best methods of advertising, window trimming, salesmanship and systematic business accounting that were of great value to the business man, clerk or salesman who endeavors to incorporate them in his every day activities. No business man can heed the splendid suggestions offered and fail. Colored slides were shown of properly trimmed windows, suggestions given for the correct manner of getting up copy for newspaper advertising that will appeal to the public and impart the information the merchant wishes to convey, and the lecture on how the successful salesman treats his customers cannot fail to be of value to the clerk or merchant who heard it.

Arnold-Sherwood

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Arnold, three miles north of town, was the beautiful scene of the marriage of their daughter, Aimee, to Mr. Philip S. Sherwood, on last Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The wedding party, as they descended the stairway, was composed of: bridesmaids, Miss Ethel Hilton of Hardy and Miss Neile McBee of Haigler, Nebr.; the groomsmen was Ray Arnold, of Omaha, brother of the bride. Six little flower girls preceded the couple, and were little Mary Hamilton and Margery Crabill of the Kindergarten, with the other four being Virginia Auld, Helen Robinson, Opal Weesner and Aileen Hamilton, all carrying baskets of pink and white roses.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Chas. Arnold, sister-in-law of the bride.

Rev. J. M. Bates performed the ceremony, using the Episcopal service.

The color scheme throughout was pink and white, even to the dresses of the bridesmaids, flower girls, ice's and decorations.

The ceremony took place before an altar of pink and white flowers on the rose latticed porch. The guests were seated on the lawn during the service. The bride was given away by her father.

She was attired in a white satin gown, with overskirt of shadow lace, her veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She wore a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

After the ceremony the guests were served in the dining room by cousins of the groom, Miss Margaret Miner, and Josephine Gund of Lincoln, both dressed in pink and white.

A display of their many beautiful and valuable presents was held in the room adjoining the dining room.

The Arnold family are old settlers of this county and are connected with many old families near Blue Hill and Rosemont.

The bride was a very popular teacher in various towns of the county; was a graduate of the state university; was in war work as a nurse in the Base hospital at Des Moines; the past year she has been kindergarten teacher in the ward building.

The groom is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sherwood of this city. He is a graduate of the local high school and the state university, was a soldier in the World war having served overseas and is now connected with his father in the Peoples Bank.

He has bought and prepared a home for his bride and they go to housekeeping immediately in this new house.

A list of out-of-town guests were: Miss Ethel Hilton of Hardy, Miss Neile McBee of Haigler, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Gund and family of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Hall of Bladen, Mr. and Mrs. John McGinnis of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. McCleary and son Jack of Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Long of Cowles, Fred Arnold and family of Blue Hill and Ray Arnold of Omaha.

The bride possesses a personality which makes fast friends of all with whom she becomes intimately acquainted. Her kindly christian character has always won for her the highest standing with her associates.

The groom is a resident of Burlington, Iowa, where he has extensive manufacturing interests. He is a very keen, straightforward business man. The bride and groom are childhood acquaintances.

Are you fair to your watch?

An automobile needs frequent attention. What about your watch—a mechanism infinitely more delicate?

CARBON in the motor of a car will decrease the running efficiency of that car. And yet the carbon will accumulate. The car owner, knowing this, has his car frequently overhauled—and the carbon removed.

And yet this same man, perhaps, will allow his watch, a mechanism infinitely more delicate, to run for years without attention. All the while it is accumulating dust—for tiny dirt particles will sift in through the most tightly fitting case—and this will in time impede the timekeeping performance of the watch.

Your automobile performs occasional service, but your watch has to run continuously for a full twenty-four hours each day. Look at your watch. How long has it been since you took it to a jeweler for examination?

If your watch is to run at its highest efficiency, it should be cleaned, oiled and adjusted at least once a year—before the last particle of oil has disappeared from the bearings.

Our Service Department is well equipped to make any repairs and adjustments that may be necessary.

And while you are in, we particularly invite you to view our very complete stock of new watches dressed in attractive Wadsworth Cases.
