Cotton-Plant Pest.

The moth known as Alabama argillacea, a serious pest of the cotton plant, is one of the most prolific of insects. In the Gulf states it produces at least seven generations annually, and at the end of the fourth generation the progeny of one moth, if they all survived, would amount to over 300,000,000,000 individuals.—Science Service.

The Art of Life.

The art of life is to keep step with the celestial orchestra that beats the measure of our career, and gives the cue for our exits and our entrances. Why should we willingly miss anything, or precipitate anything, or be angry with folly, or in despair at any misadventure? In this world there should be none but gentle tears, and fluttering tip-toe loves. It is a great carnival, and amongst these lights and shadows of comedy, these roses and vices of the playhouse, there is no abiding.—G. Santayana in the Dial.

Woodrow Wilson Foundation

Omaha, Nebr., Nov. 21—Miss Edith McKeighan of Red Cloud has just been named chairman for Webster county for the Woodrow Wilson Foundation according to a list of county chairmen announced this week by the state committee of the Foundation. She will have full charge of the Foundation work in this county and will select her own county committee to assist her. The campaign will culminate in January in a solicitation for funds with which to establish the Foundation.

The Woodrow Wilson Foundation has been undertaken by a national committee of 250 representative men and women. Its purpose is to honor a great American and to create a method whereby public service will be encouraged and conspicuously recognized in this and future generations. From the income of the Foundation, which it is hoped will be at least $1,000,000, the Woodrow Wilson Award will be granted from time to time in recognition of distinguished public service during a stated period.

After the fund has been raised a Board of Trustees, composed of eminent Americans, will be entrusted with its permanent administration. While the active campaign throughout the country will begin the week of January 15, 1922, subscriptions will be received at any time if sent to W. F. Baxter, State Chairman for Nebraska, Omaha. Checks should be made payable to The Woodrow Wilson Foundation.

They Spoiled Our Road
The Federal Highway Number 41 running north of Red Cloud through Cowles to Blue Hill was constructed two years ago. Those of us who have traveled this road know that it was as perfect as any dirt road could be made. It was as smooth as the best urban pavement. In no place in the whole 23 miles was it necessary to slow down for the slightest rut or bump. Some have called this road a dream, but were they to use this road now, they would find their dream turned into a nightmare.

Recently some engineer decreed that the road must be made over and they have started on the work. The highway crews have been and will be employed making over a perfectly good road. The net result will be the depriving the public of the use of a good road for a period of time, and the employment of the highway crew is something utterly useless.

The farmers of Nebraska must awake to the realization that road building is their problem, and not the problem of some sinecure at Lincoln or Washington. However, no blame is laid to our County Highway Commissioner, Geo. H. Overing, as he is compelled to do this on account of the rigid inspection of the higher ups.

Keepers of Libraries.

Those who read many books are like the eaters of hashish. They live in a dream. The subtle poison that penetrates their brain renders them insensible to the real world and makes them the prey of terrible or delightful phantoms. Books are the opium of the Occident. They devour us. A day is coming on which we shall all be keepers of libraries, and that will be the end.—Anatole France.

Get Away This Winter

Get away from business and household responsibilities, care and worry. Get out into the glorious semi-tropical atmosphere of California, where health, rest, comfort and delightful outdoor activities await you—amidst the flowers and orange blossoms beside the blue Pacific. 'Twill do you a world of good! If your neighbor has been there, ask him—he knows.

Be sure to make the most of the trip, however, and see Denver, Colorado Springs, Pikes Peak, Pueblo, the Royal Gorge, Scenic Colorado, Salt Lake City, and the Feather River Canyon, through the Sierra Nevada Range—in daylight.

For the accomodation and convenience of Burlington patrons, main-line train 3 carries a through sleeper daily, direct to San Francisco—connecting service from Salt Lake City via the short line to Los Angeles. A delightful—easy, care-free trip—takes a little longer but, but it costs no more and is "The Route Beyond Compare it You Have The Time to Spare."

Reduced-rate round-trip tickets are now on sale daily to California—long limits, liberal stop-over privileges—go one way and return via an entirely different route.

Deducting the cost of remaining at home and considering the price of things generally, you'll be surprised how reasonable the trip can be made—especially when you contemplate what this will mean to you and remember that a life which isn't pleasantly spent isn't well spent. Think it over!

Better let me make your reservations well in advance.

Glen C. Fry of Red Cloud today participated in the beautiful academic ceremony of senior recognition at Nebraska Wesleyan University where he is a member of the junior class. The juniors formed a line thru which the university procession passed. They wore caps and caps of the university colors, yellow and brown and held aloft pennants of the same colors to make an arch. The event was witnessed by a large audience in the Wesleyan auditorium. The orator of the day was Habel Skerik, a senior. Mr. Skerik is a Syrian who plans to return as a missionary to his native land. He spoke with eloquent mastery of the English language.—Nebraska Wesleyan News Bureau, Nov. 18th.

BECAUSE
you don't know I do these things—Well I do. With me it isn't simply a case of charge your battery and throw it back in your car, but with every battery that comes into my shop, I follow the above procedure.

It increases the life of a battery just about 100 per cent.

That's why I get practically all of the battery business.
