Few Slang Phrases Last.
 The leniency with which some school teachers look on the use of slang, as reported in various interviews, may shock those of an age to have secured their idea of correct English from the McGuffey series of readers. It is true that the selections composing those readers were of an era wherein the language was at variance with what is heard today. It may have been stilted, but it did not corrupt the mind of the pupil. In fact, many persons got from the old fifth and sixth readers their knowledge of good literature. There was not a word resembling slang in the books.
 It is true that slang is expressive. That is why it is used. Yet much of it quickly passes out of use because it is overworked. Few words suffer a like fate, though occasionally under stress of circumstances a word of creditable origin is repeated to the point where it becomes necessary to discard it because it is "shopworn."—Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Express Dragon Flies.

When we come to birds, we find many very high speeds. Swifts have been known to overtake an airplane in flight. Their speed has been calculated to exceed one hundred miles an hour sometimes. The racing pigeon has on several occasions done short journeys at sixty miles an hour. The golden plover is very speedy, but his turning, twisting flight makes it difficult to time him accurately over any distance. The plover, though he does not look a very rapid flier, can do 45 miles an hour.
 Among insects, the most rapid is probably the dragon-fly, who does as much as 30 miles an hour in his swift dashes from place to place. The bee is capable of traveling at a speed of 20 miles an hour, and he achieves it by beating his wings more than 600 times a second—sixty beats for every yard he travels.

Gauges Food by Cans.

Dingley, who hails from the West and is merely a sojourner in the big city, sees all sorts of things to make him wonder.
 "Out where I come from when you ask a waiter about the slowness of the service he always tells you 'It's on the fire.' But it's different here. A few evenings ago I ordered pork and apple sauce. The pork came in due time, but the apple sauce was missing. I inquired about it and the waiter replied: 'I'll have it for you in a minute. Just opening a fresh can.'"
 "If there's anything that doesn't come in a can, the New Yorker thinks it isn't fresh, apparently. I'm afraid to order eggs for fear I'll learn they come in a can, too."—New York Sun.

COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES (By County Superintendent)

Sometime ago I had put in all the papers the program for this year's examinations and asked that they be placed in the notebooks or some handy place of reference. A good many did not get these and so it is being given a second time.

 The eighth grade examinations will be given April 6-7 and May 4-5. There will be the two given only—no special examination will be given.
 The teachers should get in their reports of these children by the first of March at the very latest and no child be allowed to take the examination unless O. Ked by his teacher with a report that tells about his standing and where he expects to take the examination. One fourth credit will be given on the teacher's estimate of his standing.
 The program for these examinations is as follows:

Thursday
Forenoon	Afternoon
Reading	History
Orthography	Eng. Composition
Writing	Physiology
	Drawing
Friday
Forenoon	Afternoon
Mental Arithmetic	Civics
Arithmetic	Grammar
Bookkeeping	Geography
	Agriculture

Seventh graders are to take only the five subjects—physiology, penmanship, spelling, drawing and mental arithmetic.
 By sending for directions to the A. N. Palmer Building, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, the teachers can get directions how to send work for the Palmer buttons for their schools. This is very much worth while. The writing is graded by professionals. The teacher and pupil are working together for a common interest.
 Mrs. Fringer of district Ten has recently sent in the work of fourteen of her pupils and succeeded in getting pins for all but three. This is doing very well indeed. The three will try again and get theirs later.
 Sometime in April each rural school should hold an exhibit of the student work for the parents to see. The best of this should be mounted on board and should be sent to the County Superintendent's office ready for the Bladen Fair, the State Fair, and the Farmers' Institute. To help in classifying the work the premium lists should be secured. Bladen and the State Fair seem to have the most so their lists should be studied up. Nothing presented last year should be sent this year.
 Teachers should send the reports for the Child's Welfare Bureau of the Department of Public Welfare as promptly as possible.
