WHY JOIN THE LEGION?

"Why join the Legion?" is a query heard with comparative frequency in this year of 1922, when ex-soldiers, sailors and marines have had the opportunity of witnessing a practical demonstration of what the organization of former service men means, and what it is doing. Still, the Legionnaire on a membership campaign does have the question put to him, and often with sincerity on the part of the questioner.

"What can the Legion do for me?" is ordinarily the companion question. Of course that is looking at it from exactly the wrong side. The question should be: "What can I do for the Legion, and for its members and other ex-service men who are less fortunately situated than I?"

The question must be answered, however, for it is needless to say that the American Legion will never reach its maximum efficiency, will never acquire its greatest capacity for service to itself and to the nation, until its organization is one hundred per cent.

A glimpse at the legislation for ex-service men of Nebraska in the way of the aid fund, at the contemplated national legislation having a similar aim—the expression of the people's appreciation for sacrifices made and services rendered—shows the results of one side of the Legion's activity. It should be unnecessary to point out that the man who is willing to help should feel that it is a real opportunity to belong to the organization which has made such benefits possible.

Socially, the Legion is steadily breaking down the bars of class, it is continuing that spirit of democracy which in the service-made man equals in fact as well as in theory, regardless of their former station in life. It is a perpetuation of what must be looked on as one of the greatest and most far-reaching results of the recent unpleasantness. No ex-service man, whether for his own sake, or for the sake of his fellows, can afford to permit any diminution of this spirit. By adding his name to the Post he increases the strength of effective democracy.

So much for two of the chief phases of prospective membership which are at least partially selfish in their aspect. Now for the great, underlying basis on which the Legion is built—Patriotism. Nothing so truly exemplifies Americanism as the Legion. No one organization has today achieved the general popular confidence of the people as has this body of ex-service men. Non-political but founded in the determination to carry on the principles actuating the nation in entering the world war, no organization has its potentialities for national good.

The men who entered the service in recognition of these principles, recognize them now.

Make the recognition effective. Join!—The Mid-West Veteran.

MRS. HAZEL POWELL.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the nomination of County Treasurer of Webster County subject to the voters of the Democratic ticket at the Primary election, July 18th.
A. V. DUCKER.

The Chief is pleased to learn that our present County Clerk B. F. Perry has filed for the nomination as candidate on the Democratic ticket to succeed himself as Clerk of Webster county. Mr. Perry's administration of the affairs of this office has been above criticism. His courteous treatment of those with whom he has had dealings in his official capacity and the creditable manner in which he has kept the books has made for him many loyal supporters, and he will undoubtedly prove a strong candidate. We believe, as do a great many voters in this county, that he should be re-nominated in July.

C. B. Steward Honored

Charles B. Steward of Red Cloud, Nebraska was elected a national delegate to the first annual convention of the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., on February 23rd, when the representatives of U. S. Grain Grower membership from each shipping station in the 5th congressional district met at Oxford. Mr. Steward will carry the combined votes of 1,227 members in this district to the convention held in Chicago, beginning March 21, and represent them in the determination of important policies and the election of a national board of 21 farmer directors for the ensuing year.

C. H. Gustafson of Mead, Nebraska is president and National Director of the U. S. Grain Growers this year. J. A. Crawford has been in active charge of the organization work in this state which has resulted in signing more than 9,081 grower members and 237 elevators and local Grain Growers' associations to date. Nationally, the U. S. Grain Growers now has 50,000 members and 1050 contracts with facilities at shipping points. The organization is growing at the average rate of 2000 members and 20 elevator affiliations weekly. More than 110,000,000 bushels of grain are under contract through the national selling agency for five years. Hence the national delegates who will select the men to conduct this enormous and constantly growing association have a great responsibility.

Mr. Steward's election as a national delegate of his organization is the highest honor that the grain growers of this district can confer upon him. It is a token of their confidence and respect for his business judgment. The 47 national delegates elected in the eleven states where organization work of the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc. has been carried on will strive for one year. They have full power to act in any special national convention that may be called in addition to the regular annual meeting. The national delegates constitute the supreme tribunal and governing body of this farmer's organization. This method of governing the association was chosen so that the membership would have direct control.

One Year of Harding Pictured by Senator King

"One year of Harding and Republican administration has brought industrial and economic disaster to the Republic; perhaps no period in our nation's history—a period of but one short year—shows such a catastrophic change as that which has followed the advent of the Republican party to power. Not only has there been economic and industrial paralysis, but many declare there has been a recession in that advancing tide of the idealism which has been the past guide and should be the future guide as well as the glory of the Republic."

The foregoing is but one paragraph in an indictment against the present administration, drawn by the masterful hand and voiced by the eloquence of the Democratic Senator from Utah, W. B. King, in a recent speech on the floor of the Senate.

This condition he attributed to "the foolish policies, the unwise legislation, and the lack of statesmanship of the party in power." He said, "the Republicans are not only incompetent, but they are afraid to deal with the problem confronting them." Saying that the character of revenue legislation enacted was one of the tests of the capacity of a party to control, he declared that measured by this test the Republican party had failed utterly. "Its fiscal policies, its tariff legislation, its revenue measures have all been disappointing," he said.

"The American people," continued Senator King, "are beginning to realize that they have been deceived. Three years of Republican control of Congress and one year of Harding administration have brought concrete examples of the disastrous consequences of Republican rule. Men who cried aloud against Wilson and Democratic policies now beat their breasts in anguish as they cry aloud for the return of prosperity and those blessings which attended Democratic supremacy. There never was such prosperity in any land as that enjoyed by the American people during the administration of Woodrow Wilson.

"The Democratic party gave to the country during the eight years of Wilson's administration prosperity which has never been attained by this or any other country. We developed industrially until the world was our market. We grew financially until nations stood with empty purses seeking our favors. Materially America wore the crown of primacy, and morally this country became a symbol to all the world.

"If an industrious and happy people are the standard by which to judge of a party, then the Democratic Party must be crowned with honor and glory. If extending commerce and assuming world leadership in trade and finance are evidences of successful political control, then the testimony is mountain high establishing the claims of the Democratic Party. If to point the way to all nations, great and small, the way of righteousness and peace and honor and justice and freedom is a demonstration of the capacity and greatness of a party and its leaders, then to no party and no leaders has there ever come such conclusive proof of glorified achievements as that which all the world bestows upon the Democratic Party—the party of Jefferson and Wilson."

COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

(By County Superintendent)
The next teachers examination will be held April 15, 1922. There will be three two day examinations, May 26-27, June 30 July 1, and August 4-5. This is all the examinations there will be this year for the teachers.

Teachers having second grade certificates that will need renewing should see to it that they have the requirements for renewal before it is too late to meet them. The second grade certificate to be renewed must have an average of eighty five instead of eighty, with no grade below seventy five, also there must be six college hours credit. This will require your going to summer school unless you have been taking study center work.

The seventh and eighth grade examinations will be given in the different high schools April 6-7 and May 4-5. There will be no extra examinations through the summer.

The State Fair premium lists have been sent to every teacher in the county. The Bladen Fair list and the Farmers' Institute lists will be modeled after these so that while preparation is being made for one it can be made for all. This year extra fine work is to be handed in by the county school if it is to show up at all well by the superfine work that is to be handed in by the towns for we are working for money from the State Fair. There is no reason why we cannot get ten or twenty or even more from the state. Put the children on their metal and see what can be accomplished.

Before the Fair work is sent in to the superintendent's office it would be a very good thing for the teacher to have a parent's day and let them see what their children can do when they try.

A Letter To Make Good

Must impress the person who receives it with its importance, whether the correspondence be of a business or personal nature. The mails are flooded with cheap circular letters and the average busy man of to-day gives his mail the "once over" and passes most of it to the waste basket. A letter to demand attention in these busy times must be distinctive.

Hammermill Ripple Bond

Printed correctly makes the nicest letter head you can possibly obtain. The hard smooth surface of this paper renders it particularly adaptable to high class artistic printing and the ripple finish places it in a class by itself for attractive appearance. The "crisp cackle" you notice in opening a letter written on Hammermill Ripple immediately suggests taste and progressiveness on the part of the sender.
