Eleanor Boardman

The development of Eleanor Boardman as a "movie" star has attracted much attention. From about 2,000 girls she was chosen a very short time ago by a leading producer who was seeking material for film work. Doing her first small part to the satisfaction of the producer she was rapidly given more important parts until she has reached stardom.

HEARTILY ENDORSED.
Omaha.—Juvenile Judge W. G. Sears, congressman-elect, Homer Stuntz, Methodist bishop, and Ernest Vincent Shaylor, Episcopal bishop of Nebraska, yesterday endorsed the work of the Nebraska Children's Home society and the campaign of the society for $40,000 with which to erect a new reformatory home.

Following are the endorsements:
"I have been acquainted with the work of the Children's Home society in this state and of the supervising work thereof of Roy, R. B. Ralls, its superintendent. This organization is doing an extensive charitable work that reaches out in its activities and fills a much needed field of activity; it helps children and families and benefits both. I commend the society and its workings and its superintendent to the people of Omaha and this state. It is an organization well worthy of support of our people."
"Very respectfully,
"Juvenile Division,
"W. G. Sears."

"Heartily commendations of the work of the Nebraska Children's Home society:
"Death, divorce and other forces work against tens of thousands of helpless children. Homeless and friendless, they become liabilities in the social total when God intended each of them to be an invaluable asset. Your work helps keep the assets where God and humanity need them. Count on me for any aid I can render to the underprivileged child and those who are setting his feet in a right road."
"Yours for future citizenship,
"Homer C. Stuntz."

"It is impossible to overestimate the value of your society. Today homes are shattered—marriages dissolved—deaths make desolate, and the children suffer, and parentless, homeless, loveless, their pitiable plight challenges every merciful person. Then with help comes restoration—home and love and life. May you find many fellow workers to bring about these desired results."
"Ernest Vincent Shaylor."

"The response up to date has been wonderful," said Judge Charles Goss, president of the society.
The campaign in this county will be launched March 15.

STRETCH OUT YOUR HAND

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

SOMETIMES think we think too much

That men are evil, women wrong,
The rich dishonest riches clutch
And have no love of smile or song—
For I have found that all along
The way of life the roses bloom,
That men are kind and women good
And there is much of brotherhood
To ease the load and light the gloom.

How hard the hill, how dark the night,
However toll my limbs would tire,
I always found a candle light
That led me to a waiting fire—
However great their own desire,
Men had the heart to think of mine,
Some word of brotherhood to say
To keep my feet upon the way,
To set beside the road a sign.

Believe that men are good, believe
That women all are sweet and fair,
The world will comfort when you grieve
And when you sorrow it will care,
That there is kindness everywhere;
But, brotherhood to understand,
To find new courage when you fear,
The song to lift, the smile to cheer,
You must at least stretch out your hand.

Something to Think About
By F. A. WALKER

DO NOT LOSE HOPE

FREQUENTLY, when the days seem darkest and troubles roll in upon you like the storming waves of the sea, trying their best to overwhelm you, sunny-faced Hope is hovering near ready to rescue you at your bidding.

Thousands of weary souls on the threshold of discouragement, about to yield to the crushing weight of their burdens, have at the last moment resolutely resolved to stand up and make a new fight.

This resolution is perhaps the most trying hour of their lives, marking the turning point in their careers. They found a new courage which carried them on and on, carrying them safely through their hardest battles, where they fought inch by inch until the shout of victory stirred their hearts, warmed their blood and cleared their vision.

From doubting Thomases they became sanguine Pauls, filled with the spirit of faith.

They had strength of their own instead of that borrowed from others, which through adversity they soon learned how to use to advantage.

Such are the men and women who today are making a better world for all mankind.

There is nothing too big for them to undertake, no load too heavy for them to carry, no troublesome hills over which they cannot blaze an easy path for the less confident to follow.

Leaders in their chosen fields of labor, they take part in the boldest and noblest adventures, never growing weary of well-doing, never declining by the wayside, never declining to lend a helping hand to the earnest, struggling in their first effort.

They think, plan, organize, achieve and create, while those without hope, hesitate, draw back, afraid to step up in the clearer, invigorating air and wage the battle with alert brains, hard, snowy arms, and hearts unafraid.

They turn stubborn difficulties into willing servants, surmount impending obstacles, write their names on the eternal skies, and call justly to the new generations to gird their armor, accept Hope as their captain until the end of their days.

Has Anyone Laughed At You Because —

BECAUSE — You get to your job early and stay late?

Haven't you often given these laughers the excuse that you "Get up early, anyhow," that "you like to get down before the crowds," "that you like the office when it's quiet?" Haven't they said that you "wanted to be teacher's pet," that you were trying to get "in strong?" Haven't you hated their taunts?

Suppose all these things that you tell them are true, why not tell them the rest?

No one ever amounted to a row of beans that doesn't like his job well enough to come early and stay late. The time clock never yet ticked off a successful man or woman. Working on tick often interrupts a timeless bit of work. Let them laugh; it is a jolly accompaniment to your successful flight!

Your get-away here is: Fall and the World neglects you; Succeed, and you never lack for company!
