A MAN WHO BECAME FAMOUS

Doctor R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears above, was not only a successful physician, but also a profound student of the medicinal qualities of Nature's remedies, roots and herbs, and by close observation of the methods used by the Indians, he discovered their great remedial qualities, especially for weaknesses of women, and after careful preparation succeeded in giving to the world a remedy which has been used by women with the best results for half a century. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is still in great demand, while many other so-called "cure-alls" have come and gone. The reason for its phenomenal success is because of its absolute purity, and Dr. Pierce's high standing as an honored citizen of Buffalo is a guarantee of all that is claimed for the Favorite Prescription as a regulator for the ill peculiar to women.

NERVOUS WOMAN COMPLETE WRECK

Tells How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Indianapolis, Indiana.—"Now I want to tell you just what induced me to take your medicine. It seemed that I had some kind of weakness so that I could not carry a child its full time. The last time I was troubled this way I had a nervous breakdown and was a complete wreck. The doctor thought I would not live, and if I did that I would never be well and strong again. But I told them I was going to get well, that I was not going to die just then. My husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took six bottles of it. I soon got strong again and had three more children. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound ever since, and if you could see me now you would think I had always been well."—Mrs. MARY F. HEATON, 234 Detroit St., Indianapolis, Ind.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire reproductive system, so that it may work in every respect effectually as nature intends.

FISH BRING LEGION INCOME

Beaver Dam, Wis., Post Plans to Erect Community Building With Funds Obtained.

"Gold fish," was the contemptuous title bestowed upon embalmed salmon by John Doughboy during the World War. Many soldiers developed a lasting prejudice against anything moving in water because their army diet so often included tinned fish.

However, the finny tribe has staged an unusual comeback in one community. Members of the John E. Miller post of the American Legion, and likewise the good citizens of Beaver Dam, Wis., owe the possibility of a fine new community building to fish and to the practical imagination of the Legion members.

For a number of years, the Wisconsin conservation commission had awarded the concession of selling German and buffalo carp and other "rough fish" from Beaver Dam lake to professional fishermen, who annually gleaned many francs by selling their catch in the city markets.

C. R. Yauman. Then the Legion post stepped in. Charles E. Yauman, post commander, and William Lawrence, vice commander of the Wisconsin department, organized the Legionnaires for the purpose of circulating a petition to obtain the fishing concession from the conservation commission, with the understanding that profits would be used by the Legion in the construction of a community building. More than 6,000 persons signed the petition and the commission granted the concession to the veterans.

The Legionnaires organized the effort in a businesslike manner. Yauman took care of the formation of selling crews and Lawrence made arrangements with New York and Chicago markets as well as local and nearby merchants to sell the catch. The post has more than 350 members, and everyone took some part in the enterprise.

The post's report testifies to the success of the undertaking: "We have sold up to the present time a little over 90 tons of buffalo carp, which has netted us more than $7,500, including our equipment, which is as fine as any fishing crew can have," the report states. "We have paid $2,000 to the state and to our crew members, who were local boys and for the most part Legion members, as high as $1,000 a week in salaries, and $1,000 to our local box factory."

"We sold many tons of fish to local consumers at a much lower price than market quotations which pleased the home people very much. We sold a quantity of fish in 100-lb lots to families, to be salted, smoked and pickled for home use."

The Beaver Dam post has the valued support of the conservation commission in its undertaking. Game wardens co-operated with all selling crews and assisted materially in the success of the operation.

Recognized as the leading community organization in the town, the post has backed all worthy enterprises. Its large hand is at the call of civic and patriotic organizations.

Won Legion Essay Prize. Donald Lewis Campbell of Clinton, Ia., won first prize in his state in the American Legion's essay contest on the subject, "How Can the American Legion Best Serve the Nation?" The young Iowan's essay has been forwarded to Legion national headquarters, where it will be judged in competition with other state winners for national honors by a board composed of John J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education; E. E. Moore, former national commissioner of education, and S. S. McClure, the publisher. The Legion gave Campbell a medal. If he wins the national contest, he will receive a scholarship of $750 in any college or university. Young Campbell won first prize in a national essay contest in 1920 over all other school children contestants on the subject, "What Are the Benefits of an Enrollment in the United States Army?"
