DISEASE CAME FROM EUROPE

No Record Of, or Name for, Malaria, Has Been Found Among the American Indiana.

The slow diseases which sap vitality do not have spectacular records, but in the long run the damage which they do is incalculably greater than that of epidemics, writes Herbert J. Spinden in the World's Work, Malaria, for instance, is a greater obstacle today to the development of the troples than yellow fever ever was, although the latter could accomplish much at one fell swoop. For one thing the effects of malaria reach around the globe and into nearly all its habitable parts.

The three kinds of malaria are described by the Greek physician Hippocrates and the names which we use today are of Roman origin. The two-day fever is called tertian, or third, because the Romans counted both ends of any numerical sequence, and the three-day fever is called quartan, which means fourth. There is ino good evidence that malaria existed in America before the discovery. We do not find terms for it in American Indian language nor do we find any records that the early explorers in Central and South America suffered from this disease. For instance Cortes led an army across the base of the peninsula of Yucatan, through a region of swamps and flooded streams where today malaria is rife in every village, yet we find no mention of this llness among any of his troops or Indian burden bearers.

CAN GO LONG WITHOUT FOOD

Healthy Human Being, Drinking Plenty of Water, Will Survive Fast of Forty Days.

Some weeks ago a pig disappeared from its sty on a Cornish farm. Search was made, but the creature could not be found, and was given up for lost. Twenty-four days later a man passing an old mineshaft heard something below, and made a search. There was poor piggy, some thirty feet down, quite unhurt, and it was speedily got out.

It was thin, but otherwise not a bit the worse, and at once started feeding ravenously, says London Answers.

It takes a long time to starve a fat pig, which can actually lose half its weight before it dies. Most full-grown animals can go without food for a long time, and can lose as much as twofifths of their weight before succumbing. An exception is the mole, which, when deprived of food, starves to death in less than 48 hours.

A healthy human being can fast 40 days if he or she takes plenty of water. A case is on record of a woman going 43 days without food, during which time her weight decreased from 143 to 99 pounds.

Children cannot fast for long without fatal consequences. They collapse after a fast of three to five days, and Buyers and Sellers Brought Together by Field Experts Who Secure Square Deal for Both Parties-Quality of Farm Products Improved.

The raising of first class cattle and the planting of pure-bred seeds take but little, if any, more time than Inferior cattle and inferior seeds. With improved livestock and dependable seed the earnings of the farmer are sure to increase in volume and value. That thought was the forerunner of the Banker-Farmer Exchange idea, a plan by which the banker might aid the farmer toward the possession of better cattle and the production of better crops and find a ready market for his surplus.

The Banker-Farmer Exchange plan was proposed in 1919 by the Agricultural Committee of the Wisconsin

D. H. Otle Bankers Association, of which the chairman was Burton M. Smith, now chairman of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association. To get it started, bankers of Wisconsin subscribed to a guarantee fund of $10,000, covering a period of two years.

How to Get Used to Noises. "What I like about the neighborhood," insisted the enthusiastic resident of Brooklyn Heights, "is the quiet. No trolleys, no elevated roar, no heavy trucks thundering through our streets, no sound from the subway. Why, I think-"

"Just a minute," objected his friend from across the bridge. "You live so near the harbor that your back door is virtually a dock, and yet you have the nerve to tell me that yours is a quiet neighborhood. What about the tugs and harbor craft that go tooting up and down the bay all night?"

"Well," admitted the Brooklynite, "I do remember hearing a toot or two the first few nights I lived there. But I never hear 'em now."

"Exactly," said the Manhattan man, "Just what I thought. Used to 'em now. That's just the way the elevated and the two-ton trucks affect me now. Any neighborhood's quiet if you live there long enough."-New York Sun.

more than a term of trade. It indicates trustworthiness and responsibility. It measures the vast confidence which millions of citizens repose in institutions that can be trusted.

It is well, occasionally, to ask ourselves what life implies, what our personal and corporate life implies. It is wholesome, at such a time as this in human affairs, when the world hears many expressions of lack of confidence, when distrust and sorrow are speaking loudly in economic, social and political life, to remember that there are some men and some institutions that are and can be trusted. The note of trust cannot be too loudly counded in the entire world today. America is the world's Trust Company at present. She is the world's largest creditor, and that imposes an outstanding responsibility. Our creditor positioa-is still now to us, but after several years of it we are able to perceive that having changed from a great international debter to the greatest international creditor calls for something more than complacent reliance on our new position.

> "Boys and Girls Club Work today will furnish the power which will run our agricultural engine tomorrow. It is the solid foundation now being laid upon which may be built a prosperous national structure. I should like to see the sons and daughters of all Farm Bureau members, as well as all other farm boys and girls, take advantage of the opportunities afforded by Club Work."-James R. Howard.

SIX REASONS FOR THE BOYS AND GIRLS CLUBS

First: A boy or girl adopting a modern practice has from 40 to 50 years to use it as against 20 years for the average man who adopts a new practice.

Second: Boys and girls are more easily influenced to take up the new methods advocated by the Agricultural Colleges than are adults.

Third: More boys and picks on he reached than can adults b cause demands are not quite so groat upon their time and they can be readily formed into clubs.

Fourth: By reaching the loss and girls, the adults are reached at the saine time so that the routils obtained in changing the arricultural practices of communities are very great.

Fifth: A dollar expanded for hove and girls work will produce two to three times the results for the same amount expended in adult work for the reasons above given.

Sixth: Boys and girls club work caches the masses (there were 500. upo in the clubs in 1921, and approximately 600,000 now) and is a feeder for the agricultural high schools and colleges .- Bauker Farmor.
