Fielding's Rank as Author.
Henry Fielding (1707-1754) was the greatest novelist of the eighteenth century. He was playwright, a lawyer and a police court judge. His pages teem with life and humor. His masterpiece, Tom Jones, written in 1749, was selected by Coleridge as one of the three most perfect plots in literature.

Not Much to Ask.

PIGS' PASTIME

"Grunt, grunt," said Grandfather Porky Pig.

"Can't you think up anything new to say?" inquired Miss Ham.

"Nothing," said Grandfather Porky Pig, "which better tells the way I feel than those two expressive words, 'Grunt, Grunt!'"

"Well," said Miss Ham, "I will admit that 'squeal, squeal' are two words of which I'm particularly fond, but still you begin all conversations, it seems to me, with 'Grunt, Grunt!'"

"Perhaps we should not end them two words. After all, they're only one."

"Now be careful," said Grandfather Porky Pig. "Don't try to be too fancy about words or you'll get all mixed up. You were getting in pretty deep when you were saying that the two words, after all, 'were only one.' Curious speech, that?"

"What do you mean by saying I was getting in deep?" asked Miss Ham. "Deep in what?"

"Deep in mistakes," said Grandfather Porky Pig. "You were getting beyond your depth in what you knew. That can be done. Oh, yes, one can get beyond one's depth in more than the water."

"When people try to talk about something which is beyond their knowledge they get in too deep, too. They get all confused and mixed up."

"That is what I mean."

"You said I began all conversations with 'Grunt, Grunt.' Maybe I do. I can think of no better way of beginning a conversation, and surely a conversation must be begun somehow.

"I Can Always Be Sure of Myself."

"You can't just plunge into a conversation right in the middle. That isn't polite, and it wouldn't be fair to the conversation."

"It would surprise it too much."

"Yes, the best way is to have a good beginning. Now, I say 'Grunt, Grunt.' Just as some would say:

"How-de-do-do?"
"That's my way."

"You almost speak as though a conversation had feelings," said Miss Ham.

"A conversation," she continued, "wouldn't care if you did jump right into the middle of it."

"You can't tell," said Grandfather Porky Pig. "Very strange things happen. But you're not letting me get far in my talk," he added.

"Dear me, did you have something else to say?" asked Miss Ham.

"Of course," said Grandfather Porky Pig. "I have something else to say. I merely begin by 'Grunt, Grunt' and then I grunt a long, interesting conversation."

"I'd let some one else call it interesting," said Miss Ham.

"Perhaps no one will," said Grandfather Porky Pig. "I thought I'd make sure of some one and so I said it myself. I can always be sure of myself."

"It's something that you're pleased with yourself," said Miss Ham, as she twisted her little tail.

"Well, let me hear what you have to say," she added. "I know you want to tell me."

"Not unless you want to hear," said Grandfather Porky Pig.

"If I should say I didn't you'd be a sad pig," said Miss Ham.

And, as Porky knew that was the truth, he didn't say anything more about being anxious that she should want to hear him, but began to talk right away.

Portland Citizen Declares Tanlac Completely Overcame Stomach Troubles.

J. P. Strahl, 6517 88th St., Portland, Oregon, speaking of his experience with Tanlac, says:

"Tanlac has ended my stomach trouble, built me up eighteen pounds and I now enjoy the best health of my life. But for two years before I got Tanlac, stomach trouble had me in its grip, and all sorts of ailments kept bobbing up to cause me misery. Scarcely anything I ate agreed with me, and I kept falling off till I was sixteen pounds underweight. Gas on my stomach bloated me till I could hardly breathe. I had attacks of biliousness and had to be all the time taking laxatives."

"Tanlac put me on my feet, fixed me up so I can eat heartily, sleep like a top and work at full speed. There's no two ways about it: Tanlac sure builds a solid foundation for health."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

RESENT TAKING OF CENSUS

Enumerators in India Find Their Jobs Full of Undesirable Thrills—Many Are Beaten.

The trials and tribulations of a staff of some 2,000,000 census takers to find out there were approximately 319,000,000 people in India in 1921, have been related by J. Marten, census commissioner for India.

The employment of this huge army of enumerators, said Mr. Marten, was necessitated by the fact that, owing to the illiteracy of the population, the employment of the householder as enumerators of his household was impossible. He told of instances of enumerators being stabbed by suspicious Hindus, who considered the census takers too inquisitive. Some of the natives, on the other hand, resorted to violence when bribery failed to induce the census takers to make false entries showing that the natives enjoyed higher stations in the social scale than was really the case.

The census, Mr. Marten said, showed gain of 12 per cent over the population of 1911. The average density of population over the whole of India was 177 to the square mile. The maximum density of any province was in Bengal, where there were found to be 608 to the square mile.

Another girl and I are studying home nursing during the evening, which necessitates our staying downtown for dinner. In order to save expenses we cook our meals in the office and consequently have had to take down a lot of kitchen utensils.

I was bringing a frying pan down one morning. It was an awkward bundle to carry, and when I got in the crowded street car away up in front so that every one could see me something went "clang," like a fire alarm. Everybody looked, and there in front of me was my frying pan, which had fallen out of the paper. A man nearby fell over it, but kindly picked it up and gave it to me. There I had to stand until the end of my journey. —Chicago Tribune.

THE PROVERBIAL LAST STRAW

Flora's Papa Had Stood Much, but This Time Mickey Had Gone Beyond the Limit.

Mickey is a collie pup. Flora's sister gave Mickey to Flora last Christmas.

Mickey has done a great many things that a little dog should not do, but his wagging tail, roguish expression and roly-poly antics have always won him forgiveness. But now Mickey is in disgrace.

Flora's mamma didn't get angry when Mickey pulled the cover off the table and broke one of her best china cups.

Flora's papa forgave Mickey when he chewed the sole off one of his house slippers.

And, of course, Flora couldn't do anything when Mickey tore one of her best silk stockings.

But last week the assessor came to Flora's house and Mickey met him on the front porch.

What to Eat and Why
Making a Big Word an Easy Part of Your Diet

Car-bo-hy-drates make up about 60 per cent of the average diet. They produce heat and energy. They are largely secured from the grain and vegetable starches. In the long, slow baking by which Grape-Nuts is produced from wheat and malted barley, the grain starches are partially pre-digested. They are changed to "dextrins" and "maltose"—forms of Carbohydrates so easy to digest that they form the basis of the most successful baby foods. Many people have digestive trouble caused by the food-starch in its original form, but Grape-Nuts has been famous for a quarter-century for its exceptional ease of digestion, and assimilation, and its splendid, building nourishment. It is a food for strength and energy, delightfully crisp and appetizing, made today by the same formula which first brought this charm for taste and aid to health to the world's dining table. Grape-Nuts contains the iron, phosphorus and the essential vitamin, so often lacking in modern, "refined" foods. Many servings of real food value in a package of this economical food. At your grocer's today—ready to serve with cream or milk. Grape-Nuts—the Body Builder. "There's a Reason." Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

THIS WORM FINALLY TURNED

Really Asking Too Much of Him to Sort Out Cats at That Time of Night.

Every cellar window was broken in Mr. Jones' old tumble-down house. Consequently, all the small domestic animals in the neighborhood—particularly the cats—ran in and out at will.

Sometimes there was quite a gathering in the cellar, and when a pet was missing, it was the regular thing to go to "Uncle Bill's" door with, "Have you seen my cat?"

One evening a nearby family missed their "tortoiseshell" at bedtime, and concluding that she had joined the happy throng at Uncle Bill's, sent their man over to ask him if he would take a look and see if she was among the lumber. It may have been a day of many similar demands; at all events, Uncle Bill was not in his usual good temper.

"Your cat may be there, or she may not be there," he said, "but I ain't a-goin' to light up no lamp an' go down in that cellar this time o' night sortin' out cats for nobody!"
