Those who know these bachelors best are betting that they will do more shooting with a kodak than a rifle.

Isadore Johnson was convinced Monday evening that a Ford car can go where a Dodge can. He had a bet up with Bob McBride that the latter could not drive his Ford through to Inavale. Bob went through the mud holes and also completed the trip to Inavale thus relieving "Alkali Ike" of some of his extra change.

The Burlington had considerable trouble in this vicinity Monday. On account of wash-outs on the Hastings branch and one about three miles west of here it was necessary to detour No. 14 via Lincoln. No. 17 of Sunday night and No. 15 of that morning both went through here about 7 a. m., they being washed out there. No. 4 was only thirty minutes late out of here, a work train and large crew of men having put the track in shape north of here by 10 o'clock that morning.

A Question of Antiquity. As one of the tales of the great unwashed, it might be told that on one of the grimy windows of the Indiana statehouse is the following inscription: "Sherman marched to the sea yesterday." Inasmuch as the statehouse was built since the day after General Sherman ended his historic hike, it is believed that the inscription is the work of some wag and not that of a historian.—Indianapolis News

A Circle Tour of our Golden West

Going via the Pacific Northwest Returning from California via Colorado

The Low Cost of the Trip Will Surprise You

It is an experience of a lifetime to become acquainted with the great storehouses of scenic, climatic, agricultural, industrial and other wealth in the Pacific Northwest and California.

In making such a trip, it is both natural and logical for one to select that route on which the most and the best of the astounding wonders in our fascinating West can be viewed from the car window.

To the end that Burlington patrons may reap the fullest possible measure of delight, benefit and inspiration which such a wonderful trip affords, schedules have been developed and perfected via two widely different routes so that the most of the best scenery is passed during daylight hours.

Through the combination of these two routes par excellence into one grand circle tour of our impressive and progressive West, you can travel several thousand miles, through a dozen great states, on one ticket. You can see practically every kind of scenery, every phase of topography, every variety of plant life, every species of animal life, ever sort of mineral wealth, and every beauty of landscape that the entire American West affords.

Aside from the broadened vision which travel only can give, such a trip may take you to the land of your dreams, to a home in this wonderland of natural beauties, to an opportunity in this wonderland of natural wealth, with a future wide open.

Let me tell you more about it and let your home-town railroad introduce you this summer.

CHRISTIAN "It is good that a man should hope and quietly wait for the salvation of Jehovah". On account of the much "dampness" last Sunday evening our Childrens Day Program was postponed one week. Come and hear the children next Sunday evening at eight o'clock. Virginia Caldwell, Naoma Corner, Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Nelson are attending the State Sunday School Convention at Kearney, this week. Though it was somewhat rainy last Friday evening, yet nineteen young people gathered at the Parsonage and spent a delightful social evening. The young people were kept busy the first part of the evening with various contests. Mildred Pope's side succeeded in carrying off the honors, but Fern Diederich's "line-up" won many points and made it interesting at all times. Refreshments were served consisting of ice cream and cake. Those entertaining were Mrs. Risa Cox and Rev. and Mrs. Nelson.
