SMITH CENTER

VS.

Red Cloud

Smith Center has only lost one game this season and they are considered the fastest team in Northern Kansas. Dahl, their pitcher, is considered a good one. The game they lost was to Red Cloud. Red Cloud has played thirteen games, losing two, one of which was to Smith Center. The Red Cloud team is the strongest in Southern Nebr. This will be a game worth going miles to see as it is the rub.

Tom Swartz Accepts Position at Kansas City

Tom Swartz, who has been engaged in farming, buying and feeding cattle for several years, departed this morning for Kansas City where he has accepted a lucrative position with the Cassidy Southwestern Commission Co. Mr. Swartz will be a buyer and seller in the feeder department for this firm. Tom has bought and sold many carloads of cattle and knows cattle from A to Z. The Chief along with his many friends knows that his employers have made no mistake by securing his services as he is in every way capable of handling this position.

Elton Pope's Car Found in River

Sunday afternoon about four o'clock while fishing in the river about one mile west of the river bridge Chas. Hilton and Earl Thompson found a Ford car submerged which proved to be Elton's car which was taken from Chas Smith's garage sometime during last Monday night.

The river bank is about thirty-five feet high at the point where the car was found and there is different theories on how the car was run into the river. The car was found on its side and badly damaged. Monday morning a large number of our citizens went down and pulled the Ford out and it was taken to the Smith Bros. & Copley garage.

Sheriff Tucker Gets Jail Breaker

Sheriff Tucker went to Omaha the last of the week and returned Monday morning with Mervil Fentris, a prisoner who twice escaped from the county jail at this place. Fentris who gave his home address as Red Cloud, Nebr., was accused of stealing a Ford car from Bill Amis of Lebanon. He was arrested and put in jail at this place last summer and escaped August 20th by picking a lock and digging through the stone wall. It was claimed he got possession of the tools by their being in fool brought in from outside, several pies having been sent to him. He was accompanied by another, Roy Wilson, in for robbing Brandies store at Kensington. They stole $11.00 from another prisoner who refused to leave with them and a car from Bert Ireland, south of town, abandoned it near Osborne when it ran out of gas and took the train to Beloit at which place Fentris was caught and returned to jail. About two weeks later he again escaped by means, it was said, of climbing through a window which had been improperly locked after food had been passed to him. Wilson is still at large. Tucker said this morning that unless the prisoner had crawled through a crack since he came down town, we could say he was still in jail.—Smith County Journal.

Will Hines, who has been employed at the depot for the past four years as car clerk, on account of a reduction in the force here has been transferred to Falls City, he leaving Friday morning to take up his new work. He will not move his family for several weeks.

Four carloads of hogs were shipped from here Sunday morning to the Kansas City market. A total of eighty-five cars of stock including that loaded here went through enroute to the Missouri river markets Sunday morning. They were handled in two trains.

The Knudson Construction Co. of Lincoln unloaded a large ditching machine Tuesday morning and started to work immediately laying six inch water pipes from the railroad up to the Royal Hotel. This is to take the place of the wooden pipe put in by the Burlington about five years ago.

ANNUAL OLD SETTLERS' PICNIC

At a meeting held in Cowles this morning pursuant to the call of J. S. Gilham, president it was determined that the annual picnic of the Society be held on the 13th day of September, at McBride's grove near Cowles, and the following committees and officers were chosen:

Committee on Amusement—Messrs. Bennet, Vorland and Wells of Cowles.

Committee on Program—Henry Keeney, Cowles, Mrs. I. A. Pace of Guide Rock, Mrs. Ed McCune and Mrs. W. A. Sherwood of Red Cloud.

Vice presidents were chosen from each township, a list of which will appear next week.

County papers please copy.

COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

(By County Superintendent, Stella Ducker)

If the school district treasurers will keep their school money in the bank in a separate account and will have it balanced so that it will show the balance left at the end of the year the bank will keep their accounts for them and everything will be easy to fix up at the end of the year. This will be a great saving of time and worry.

Every new treasurer elected this year should send in his bond to the County Clerk. The director has the blank form in his directors supplies and should see that the new treasurer has it to fill out. This is a matter of law and business and is in no way a slight to one's honor.

The last teachers' examination of the year will be given August 3-4 at Red Cloud only.

Teachers' certificates will not be made out without they are called for. As the laws are now you will not want your certificate unless you have your school. I will not take the responsibility of making them out unless authorized to do so.

As soon as the teachers are decided upon I would like to know so that I will not be sending teachers to apply for positions that are already taken.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

(By County Extension Agent, Henry R. Fausch)

WHY FARM BOYS SUCCEED

Several months ago William Grant Edens of Chicago, while on a banker's tour of Nebraska, told the group meetings that the immense majority of the men who were swaying the financial destinies of the world, came from farm homes and villages.

In corroboration of this statement, a writer in the Philadelphia North American calls attention to the fact that with the exception of the inherited fortunes invested in business in Boston, Philadelphia and New York, Americas great bankers and financiers are almost without exception farm boys.

There is a reason for this which may be summed up as follows: The farm youth brings to the city a whole some home training and a vigorous, uncorrupted manhood. He has not frittered away his energies but enters the great arena of competitive business with a zest, an enthusiasm unknown to the world-weary, satisfied city boy to whom the greatest things in the world's accomplishments have become commonplace by everyday familiarity.

Fifty years ago, California furnished the men dominating the finances of this country. From the fresh, keen life of the Pacific coast came the rugged physical and intellectual giants who made Commodore Vanderbilt look to his laurels. These men today are coming from the American farm. A roster of their names with the story of their deeds would make a fascinating page in history. Some day it will be written—not to prove that the farm is the field of restricted deeds and intellectual poverty but to show what can be accomplished when manhood gets the right start in the right environment.

J. W. Crow, owner of a 400-acre farm in the Republican river valley in Harlan county, Neb., is partial to that particular valley, where he has been carrying on stock farming many years. "Corn and alfalfa are our staple, and sure crops," said Mr. Crow. "I raise about four carloads of hogs a year, and feed several carloads of cattle," said he. "We harvested two big crops of alfalfa, and our corn is simply immense. It had a late start, but this has been made up in its fast growth."—Kansas City Stock Drivers Telegram.
