

The Ideal Two Weeks' Vacation COLORADO

The Low Cost of the Trip Will Surprise You

If your time is limited—
If you want to crowd into two weeks, perhaps the maximum vacation enjoyment—

Go to Colorado!

Colorado is as big as all New England, with Indiana added; two-thirds is mountainous—100,000 square miles contain 155 peaks that are more than 13,000 feet high. Within the state there are 500 lakes—large and small; 6,000 miles of running water. Mineral springs abound—no one knows how many there are. Every railroad line is an excursion line; motor highways radiate in all directions.

Obviously, in such a region, vacation possibilities are unlimited. Here whatever your age or means, or preferences, you'll find your vacation "as you like it."

Where to go? There are a thousand different places!
When to go? Any time! This summer when you're tuckered and seeking escape from the heat and dust, get out under that magnificent cool blue Colorado sky, get the tang of the mountain air and the spicy smell of pine in your nostrils, and you will not have to ask anyone whether it was the right thing to do.

How to go? Oh, just climb aboard a Burlington luxurious limited! Colorado is not "Way off yonder," as some people think. The journey there is both quick and pleasant.

If you desire to continue on to the Pacific Coast and return via an entirely different route, that's easily arranged.

Don't wait until the last minute to make arrangements.
Come in and see me about it now.

Lots of young folks are surprised when they graduate from high school or college and find that it is still necessary to work for a living. To many of them get the notion that education is a substitute for perspiration.

KEEP AMERICA'S WAMPUM SOUND!

By SAMUEL H. BEACH,
President, Savings Bank Division,
American Bankers Association.

Although the United States is today upon a solid gold basis, we nevertheless know of our own knowledge what inflation means. It would take long to recall in detail the bitter experiences which this nation suffered during the Civil War and the years which followed it, and in our present easy condition we might think such conditions could never again arise. But with such men as Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison talking about commodity money there is no foretelling what may happen.

S. H. Beach

One of the plainest lessons taught by financial history is that whenever a nation issues paper money with nothing back of it, that nation is on the road to disaster. Look at Russia with its worthless rubles and Germany with its worthless marks. Think of what happened in France during the years immediately following our Revolutionary War.

The common people of France rose in their might, tore down the Bastille, and made reprisal for centuries of kingly crime and oppression. The profligate court had piled up taxes until they were unbearable. The enraged populace killed King Louis XVI, and also his queen, Marie Antoinette. But they only threw themselves out of the frying pan into the fire so far as finances were concerned.

Unsound Money Tyranny
At the very worst point of their currency inflation they found themselves under the absolute domination of Robespierre. In order to meet the growing scarcity of coin, paper money called assignats were issued. First 400,000,000 francs worth, then 800,000,000 were added with the distinct understanding that the 1,200,000,000 would be the full extent of the issue. This pledge was soon broken and further issues brought the total up to 3,700,000,000 francs.

Frightful depreciation was the inevitable result; and legislation was passed making it a crime, with six years' imprisonment as the penalty, if any one should refuse to take the paper assignats at their face value. Just think of it! A French peasant, after working the entire year to produce a crop was compelled by law to accept payment for that crop in paper money, which he knew to be worthless, or go to prison.

It was simply legalized robbery. When the penalty was increased to twenty years imprisonment the inevitable climax came. The Reign of Terror was at its height. Robespierre was in supreme power. He suggested that more assignats be issued and if the people did not take them the guillotine should be the penalty.

Robespierre's End
This unheard of outrage was more than the people could stand. An unknown man arose on the floor of the convention and denounced Robespierre, reciting the heinous crimes he had committed, and so worked upon the feelings of the audience that Robespierre, the tyrant, became Robespierre, the convicted criminal. Two days later he was led to the guillotine. France had learned her financial lesson well—that money must have value back of it.

The fallacy of unsound money is sure to confront us again. Never is there enough of everything for all the people. The struggle for existence is a real struggle, and those who find themselves in the lower strata of human society are ready at any time to grasp at flat money or any of the other things which misguided politicians hold out to them.

My whole purpose is to drive home the fact that danger lies ahead and to urge every one to let no opportunity go by to use voice and influence toward keeping the wampum of these United States, as it is today, the soundest currency in the world.

SOME BANK SALARIES

Investigations made by the Missouri Bankers Association have revealed that 368 banks in the state in towns of under 2,000 population are paying their cashiers and chief executives an average of only $110 a month. Only 273 of the 1,162 reporting banks in towns under 5,000 population pay the president a salary. The report says:

"It indicates that, even allowing for the economy of living in small communities, the cashiers and managing officers of those 1,162 banks, who receive an average of $140 per month, either must have personal means to begin with, or must maintain the standards necessary to their positions as the leaders of their communities and the builders of the commonwealth by means of 'side lines,' such as selling insurance, collecting commissions on farm loans, and trading in real estate."

State Line

Lewis Paget and family were shopping in Smith Center Saturday.

Ora Prill made a trip to Red Cloud Saturday.

Clifford Noble helped Ed Elliott thresh oats Saturday afternoon.

Will Williams finished thrashing 90 acres of oats which averaged some 45 bushels to the acre.

Frank Ryan and wife was trading in Womer Friday noon.

John Collins was trading in Womer Saturday.

Lewis Paget's spent Sunday at Lee Brown's.

Albert and Lettie Deika spent Sunday at Everett Myers.

Northeast Pawnee

A good many are now hauling coal prior to threshing.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Prill were in Red Cloud last Saturday.

Thorp Davis hauled hogs to Red Cloud on Friday last.

Frank and Jim Ryan hauled hogs to Red Cloud last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Barber were in Smith Center last Wednesday.

Max Relyhan hauled hogs for Bert Payne to Red Cloud on last Saturday.

Geo. Johnston was in Red Cloud one day last week visiting and doing some trading.

Mr. Rol Stone attended the funeral of Clarke Stevens on last Thursday at Red Cloud.

Bennie Mohler and Jake Williams drove to Red Cloud last Saturday and did their trading.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Mountford were in Red Cloud last Saturday visiting their folks and doing their trading.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Goultie were doing their trading at Red Cloud and taking in the Cautanqua one day last week.

Not much threshing done yet, but the few that have threshed are well pleased with the yield and quality, particularly oats and barley.

Almost all have their corn laid by and those who have the second crop of alfalfa stacked are busy cutting weeds both in the corn and around the fields and premises.

Mrs. Wm. Reliehan of Topeka is here visiting her family and relatives in Pawnee and Logan as her visits were few she now aims to remain here for a number of weeks.

The corn is growing by leaps and bounds and is further advanced than it has been for years, enough moisture so far in the ground, but a good rain would be highly appreciated.

Mr. Wm. Hooper one of the oldest gentlemen in this vicinity was the first to have roasting ears this year having them in the middle of July, free to his neighbors to help themselves.

Willie Williams threshed last week filling up his granary to full capacity having 3,600 bushels between oats and barley, the greater part of the former making 45 bushels to the acre.

Mrs. Wm. Reliehan, Mr. and Mrs. John Collins, Chas. Collins, Jake Williams, Ed L. adstrand and C. M. Coale were entertained at an ice cream party given by Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Mohler on last Friday evening.

Miss Lettie Dilka was assisting Mrs. E. Myers in painting the interior of the house one day last week. Both lady painters aims to take a number of contracts this fall and guarantee to do their work in a workmanlike manner and according to specifications.

CHRISTIAN

"But Jesus said, suffer, the little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for to such belongeth the kingdom of heaven."—2,038 newspapers, with a combined circulation of 14,233,254, carry daily quotations from the Scripture somewhere on their pages, most of them at the head of the editorial column."—Herald of Gospel Liberty.

Next Sunday morning we will observe Cradle Roll Day. The Cradle Roll Superintendent, Virginia Caldwell, and the Primary Department under the direction of Ruby Hanson and Ann Ranny are preparing an interesting program. The program also includes a special sermon for the parents. Let's give the babies a hearty welcome with a full house.

The women have a treat in store for Friday of next week. The Missionary Society is to meet with Mrs. C. J. Pope who has promised us several numbers of Negro music in addition to the study of the lesson.
