Benny Leonard and Lew Tendler Sign Articles for 12-Round Title Contest

Tex Rickard Will Promote Fight at Jersey City July 27 --- Each Boxer Posts Check for $15,000

New York, June 14, Benny Leonard will defend his title of lightweight champion against Lew Tendler in a 12 round bout at Jersey City on Thursday, July 27, and not on July 20'as was originally planned when tentative agreements were made a week ago for the fight. Today Billy Gibson, acting for Leonard and Phil Glassman, in behalf of Tendler, met Rickard who will promote the bout, and formally signed the articles. Each boxer then posted a certified check for $15,000 for weight and appearance.

Southern Leaguers to Meet Thursday

A meeting of the Southern baseball league will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in the city hall at the call of President William Am-

Protested games of the first round will be considered. One of the protests to be heard is that of Y. M. H. A. against the South Sokols. The losers claimed that the umpire ordered the game stopped in the eighth inning without consulting either of the managers and without any authority for ending the game before it was com-

The highest priced tickets wer free. Nobody ever paid to go to see a fight in Roughtown. They grew wild like buttercups.

The closest Gink ever came to losing a fight was when his second, Slogger Mackin, made a terrible mistake. It happened right between two little mistakes. Gink got very sick when Slogger gave him water instead of moonshir

He started chipping off some vital statistics while Gink chewed the canvas, but slipped his gears at 76 and had to start all over again.

When he reached 76 for the second time the crowd applauded so much that he went back and gave them an encore.

By that time an efficiency expert reached the adding machine and discharged the Glutt. He figured he could save money by chopping the ring force down to one

How did they fight in Roughtown? Yours for never, FRANK BLITTZDORF.

Now that s something like questions. First two champions like Gink and the Glutt would engrave challenges on each other's knobs with 15 cents worth of kindling wood. Then they would set the date.

Then they would both post several rubles forfeit guaranteeing their appearance 60 days after date.

Lincoln Drops Final Game

Lincoln. Neb., June 14.—Lincoln dropped the last game of the series to Beatrice here today, 5 to 8. Erratic fielding back of Balley gave the visitors an early lead which the locals never overcame. The Lincoln crossed two in a half-hearted ninth rally, but were unable to produce the three needed to tie the count.
