...usement Firm Sued for $20,000 by Beatrice Man

Movie Owner Claims Hostettler Company Agreed to Repurchase Stock and Defaulted.

George Munroe, movie owner of Beatrice, Neb., brought suit in district court for $20,000 against the Hostettler Amusement company, a film distributing company said to be incorporated at $1,000,000, with offices in the Standard Oil building, alleging that amount is due him on a stock selling scheme.

According to the petition, the amusement company owed Munroe $22,000 and in payment of this debt Munroe was given that amount in stock upon the agreement, he says, that the firm was to repurchase it. The company, Munroe says, repurchased $2,000 of the stock, but has refused to take back the remainder.

G. P. North, attorney for the Hostettler Amusement company, stated that the firm is not a stock selling corporation and that, with the exception of Munroe, all the stock is owned by the Hostettlers and their immediate relatives.

North claimed there was no agreement to repurchase the stock now in the possession of Munroe, and declared the latter got the stock in return for a theater in Missouri which was not making money, and which, at his request, the Hostettler company took over.

Munroe pleaded later he was short of money, North said, and the Hostettlers gave him $2,000 for part of the stock they had given him in payment for the Missouri theater.

Real Estate Man Held for Forgery of $250 Checks

Alleged to have passed 10 worthless checks for a total of $250 Melvin L. Smith, real estate dealer, Leflang building, was arrested yesterday by William M. Davis, detective, on a charge of forgery.

The checks held by detectives were signed with the name of C. P. Simpson, retired farmer of O'Neill, Neb., and were endorsed with the name of Smith. Simpson is said to have told the officers he did not know Smith.

Five of the checks were cashed by T. L. Jordon, 207 North Sixteenth street, who caused Smith's arrest.

Smith denied any criminal guilt, but was booked for forgery.

Separate Picnics.

Retail grocers and retail butchers will hold separate picnics this year for "business reasons," it was announced by the grocers following a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday. The grocers' picnic will be held at Krug park, July 20. A special fund was started to be used in enforcing the Sunday closing law "to the letter." A resolution condemning trading stamps was passed by unanimous vote.
