

Labor Leaders Pessimistic of Strike Result

"Living Wage" Argument May Get Body Blow From Maintenance of Way Employes.

By GEORGE F. AUTHIER, Washington Correspondent Omaha Bee. Washington, July 5.—(Special Telegram.)—The decision reached by the maintenance of way men not to strike now and to reopen negotiations with the railway labor board at Chicago is acknowledged by labor leaders in Washington as a severe setback to the shopmen's strike. In official circles it was believed the action taken by E. F. Grable for the maintenance of way men is a body blow to the strike.

William H. Johnston, head of the International Machinists' union, whose organization includes a great many of the shopmen on strike, is still optimistic and insists the strike will stand up and that other large bodies of railroad workers will join the strikers.

Other labor leaders were disinclined to speak for publication, but their attitude showed plainly they believe the strike has been given a counter blow which will be hard to overcome.

Settlement Expected.

While it is pointed out that the maintenance of way men have not definitely decided on the strike issue, it is expected the reopened negotiations will result in a settlement.

The explanation for the pessimistic outlook upon the shopmen's strike by labor representatives is the fact that the maintenance of way men, which includes track walkers, and other classes engaged in unskilled labor on the roads, are among the most poorly paid of railroad laborers.

Poorest Paid Workers.

In the case of the maintenance of way men, wages have been reduced, in some instances, to as low as a wage of 25 cents an hour. This means the men in this class of labor work for approximately $13.80 a week for a 10-hour day and a six-day week. If men in this class are willing to accept this wage, it is acknowledged it takes away from other classes of railway labor, receiving higher pay, the strength of their argument they are not being paid a living wage.

Labor leaders recognize that in this strike as in others, their success generally depends on public sympathy. When a class of railway labor which is the most poorly paid accepts the scale made by the labor board, it is difficult for the leaders to see how the public sympathy is to be aroused for those who receive higher pay.

Steers Bring Good Price

M. D. McGuire was on the livestock market yesterday with 18 steers from Wisner, that averaged 1,535 pounds, for which he received $9.85 a hundred. The cattle were bought last April and were fed on sugar beet pulp, making a good gain in both price and weight.

Borah Will Probe Strikes If Harding Parley Fails

Committee of Which He Is Head Will Launch Comprehensive Investigation Into Industrial Strife If President's Conference Between Miners and Owners Is Unsuccessful.

Washington, July 5.—(Special Telegram.)—Senator Borah declared last night that unless the administration find a way to break it upon his return. Present indications are that he will suggest an arbitral commission and that the coal operators will welcome the suggestion. The miners are sitting tight and forego victory for many of their contentions.

To Probe Industry.

In the event of an investigation, it is Senator Borah's intention to probe the entire coal industry and to go thoroughly into the railroad situation.

Shops Are Seized by Rail Strikers

(Continued From Page One.) will forfeit all seniority rights and if later reemployed, will be taken as new employes.

Conflicting statements were made on the strike situation on the Pacific coast. Officials of the Southern Pacific said more than a third of the shopmen remained at their posts and that others who had gone out were returning. Some new men were hired. Union officials reiterated their statement that 90 per cent of the shop men were out. Two men were arrested for violating anti-picketing laws.

Reports of violence or disorders in connection with the strike were few and scattered. J. L. McCollin, roadmaster of the Kansas City Southern at De Quincy, Ia., reported that he had been attacked and beaten by a number of men Sunday.

Many N. Y. Shopmen Returning, Is Report

New York, July 5.—While railroad officials in the New York district today denied reports of union leaders that negro labor was being employed on a large scale to replace white members of the six shopcrafts who struck last Saturday, they admitted that in addition to the negroes customarily used extensively in certain branches of the service, those who answer help wanted advertisements during a strike are given jobs if they qualify. It was asserted, however, that they were being recruited in the district, and not "imported" from the south as rumored at strike headquarters.

Officials of the chief railroads in the New York district reported the return to work of hundreds of striking shopcrafts men who walked out last Saturday.

The Pennsylvania railroad, which has recently been said to have been hard hit on the Long Island division, is declaring that the "situation has been met successfully and there will be no trouble."

The superintendent of motive power of the Central Railroad of New Jersey reported after the start of the work on the Central and Elizabeth Port shopmen, where the walkout was considered one of the most serious in this district, returned to their jobs this morning.

Dispute Statement. Jackson, Mich., July 5.—Officials of the Michigan Central railroad announced here today that 350 of the 900 shop workers who walked out last Saturday returned to work this morning. It was stated also that 150 other men have been put to work in place of those who quit.

Strike leaders disputed the company's statement and said so far as they were able to ascertain the number that returned this morning "is about 40."

More at Work in Boston. Boston, July 5.—Officials of the Boston & Albany railway, after a check up of repair shop forces today, reported more men at work than on Monday. Train service, it was said, continued normal.

Full forces of maintenance of way workers were on duty at important yard centers, the road's statement said.

Disarmament of World Proposed by Lord Cecil

United States Objections to League of Nations Taken Into Consideration in Commission Plan.

Paris, July 5.—(By A. P.)—The plan for general world disarmament, which was laid before the temporary commission and which Lord Robert Cecil of Great Britain, was presented in full details at yesterday morning's session of the commission. This plan is said to have been favorably received by most of the delegates.

All nations, according to Lord Robert's plan, would sign a general disarmament agreement and would agree to the defense of nations within their respective regions or continents in case of aggression.

World Is Divided.

These measures would be binding upon the aiding powers when approved by a three-fourths majority of the council.

The plan divides the world into four regions—America, Europe, Asia and Africa. Only the powers in each region would be obligated to aid a menaced nation upon the commission's recommendation approved by the league council.

All members of the league of nations and the United States, Germany and Russia are eligible to enter into the proposed agreement, and any of these might adhere to it only partially if the council should approve such action and if specified reductions in armaments are made.

Lord Escher's plan gives the tentative ratios as follows, each unit representing 100,000 rifles, 6 units Italy; 4 Poland; 4 Czechoslovakia, Great Britain, Greece, Jugo-Slovakia, Holland, Rumania and Spain, 3 each; Belgium, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland, 2 each; Portugal, 1 unit, and Germany, Austria, Bulgaria and Hungary to retain their forces as fixed by the peace treaties.

These ratios would apply to the home forces. Each nation would be free to determine the number necessary for colonial and overseas purposes. This ratio agreement would be effective two months after being signed by all the participants and would continue for 10 years.

Received With Enthusiasm. Lord Robert Cecil's disarmament plan was received with considerable enthusiasm in French official circles, where it was asserted that it was just and fair to all nations involved. Lord Robert's plan argues that no disarmament could be effected unless it is universal is strongly endorsed by French officials who said today that such had been the French position since the armistice.

While endorsing the idea of regional alliances for mutual protection French officials pointed out that there was little or no disposition on the part of nations at this time to enter into such agreements. It was further indicated that Lord Robert's plan, if it comes definitely before European nations, would receive French support.

"Wet" Fourth of July in London

Oratorical Pyrotechnics Used for Fireworks and Popping Champagne Corks Pinch Hit for Fire Cracker.

Copyright, 1922. London, July 5.—With oratorical pyrotechnics for fireworks and popping champagne corks pinch hitting for firecrackers, Americans celebrated Independence day in London until the early hours this morning.

The city fathers granted the hotels, restaurants and dancing places a two-hour extension of the closing time and booze selling privilege, enabling the festivities to continue until 3 in the morning. The crowd of Yankee tourists and business men who gathered here to reinforce the regular American colony made things hum until the lights were put out.

In the afternoon Ambassador Harvey held a reception in Gordon Selfridge's palatial home, Lansdowne house, in Berkeley square, as the ambassador's home was not large enough to accommodate the hundreds that were invited.

Give and Take Spirit Is Urged by Jefferis

(Continued From Page One.) getting better and there is fear that any sudden change of policy might upset them. It is admitted that there are a number of evils that need to be rectified, most of which originated under the administration of President Wilson. According to this view, it is not probable that the public is going to turn to the party that got it into deep water.

President Harding and the republican congress have been in office 16 months and few maintain that they have had time to solve every inherited problem.

Oratory in Small Quantity.

There is not a great deal of oratory in this campaign. Candidates travel from town to town meeting people in a personal way. Mr. Jefferis has been in 37 counties in the last two weeks and for several days has been touring the Third district calling on business men and meeting groups of voters assembled in the home of a friend. A certain hard-headedness is one of his outstanding characteristics. He is frank in his admission that he has no pet remedy to cure the troubles of any class. In fact he does not believe in special class legislation. Nor is he pledging himself in advance of developments.

He is standing on his reputation for common sense. "No man can tell what the future holds, nor see very far into it," he told his hearers at Osmond today. "We can none of us tell when a law is passed how it will work until it has been tried out. If it does not work, it is within the province of the legislative bodies to modify it. I believe that representatives should be left free to exercise their best judgment rather than that they should be called upon to decide in advance." It is fair to assume that Jefferis was referring in part to the question of prohibition, on which he refuses to announce any stand in advance.

Cannot Be Coerced.

"Not under any consideration will I agree to vote on a measure according to whatever may be the dictates of some organization or class," he said to a group at the home of Col. Welch here. "If I go to the senate I will not wear any collar."

Patience, perseverance and time Jefferis holds are necessary to the proper handling of national problems. We people live on the earth, not in the air, is one of his favorite expressions. He is what is called a practical man, loyal to traditions and an exponent of individualism. He would replace feuds and jealousies with solidarity and harmony. With his faith in the fundamental soundness of American institutions he will not admit that there is the slightest possibility that society is on the verge of an upheaval. While he is not against change he must first be convinced that it will be an improvement.

Cattle From Spalding Tip Scales at 1,293 Pounds

Eight carloads of cattle, 150 head in all, were brought to the local market yesterday by Thomas Carragher of Spalding. The stock tipped the scales at an average of 1,293 pounds and sold for $9.85 a hundred.

The cattle were bought here last October at $6 a hundred when they averaged 780 pounds.

Mr. Carragher said the cattle around Spalding were being bothered by flies, which had a tendency to reduce their weight and that for that reason farmers are planning to send them to market as soon as possible.
