

Iowa Corn Yield Will Fall Short of Crop Last Year

Dry Weather Up to First of July Caused Uneven Stand, Department of Agriculture Reports.

Des Moines, July 12.—Less corn by approximately 200,000 acres will be harvested in Iowa this year than last, according to the preliminary report on acreage prepared by United States bureau of agricultural economics. Correspondents of the bureau report a growing condition of 91 per cent normal on July 1, or about the 10 year average. This forecasts an average yield of 39.1 bushels per acre or a total production of 395,809,000 bushels, compared with 444,140,000 bushels harvested last year and 473,800,000 harvested in 1920.

Dry weather from planting time up to July 1, in the west central and northwest districts, caused uneven stand and germination.

Oats suffered from heat and drought in June to the extent that the per cent condition fell 11 per cent to 75 per cent, the lowest since 1911 and 17 per cent below the 10 year average. Winter wheat, being deeply rooted and well advanced before the drought and heat began, has held its own well, the percentage condition July 1, being 91, which is about the 10 year average. This forecasts a yield of about 21.4 bushels per acre.

Spring wheat fell off 7 per cent in condition during June as a result of the heat and drought. The condition July 1, 79 per cent, is next to 1894, the lowest of record.

Flax is estimated at 10,000 acres. The condition July 1, was 84 per cent.

York Farm Hit by Tornado

Monday night's tornado played pranks when it reached the farm of C. H. Warner, three miles south of York, Neb. After wrecking the barn, the storm piled debris around the yard and uprooted trees, but scarcely touched the house.

Physician Sued for Divorce and Alimony

Dr. Frank W. Schaller, prominent Omaha and Palmer (Neb.) physician, was sued for divorce in district court by Winifred Schaller, who charges her husband with cruelty and says he has refused to support her although his monthly earnings amount to more than $500. She charges that

Dr. Schaller has "become a habitual drunkard." They were married February 6, 1917. While Mrs. Schaller lives at her handsome home at 315 South Fifty-fourth street, her husband has been living at the Conant hotel since July 7. Mrs. Schaller asks for suitable alimony. Dr. Schaller is said to own considerable real estate. Mrs. Schaller comes from a prominent Omaha family. The Bee Want Ads are best business boosters.

Destructive Hail Strikes Aurora

Corn Crop Destroyed—Trees Stripped of Leaves—Gardens Beaten Into Soil.

Aurora, Neb., July 12.—(Special Telegram)—Hamilton county Monday night suffered its greatest loss for many years from hail. Coming down from the northern part of the county, destroying a strip several miles wide, the hail tapered off towards York county, passing Aurora to the north in its direct path, destroying all the crops. It is reported that the damage to many cornfields is complete. Many cornfields which bordered the direct path of the hail cloud are partially destroyed and may eventually make a crop.

It is a pitiful sight to view the cornfields as they lie torn and destroyed. Yesterday morning they presented a beautiful sight. The corn has been kept clean this year and the frequent rains of the last few weeks have made the stalks strong and sturdy, while the leaves were symmetrical and of a beautiful dark green color.

In the center of the path of the hail cloud trees were stripped of their leaves and stand bare and naked. Gardens were destroyed and in some places chickens and pigs were killed by the hail stones. The hail was accompanied by a fierce windstorm which threw down many of the small buildings and scores of windmills. In some places the farmers report that their corn was whipped to pieces, rather than torn into pieces with the hail.

Sheriff Disappears With $200 Shortage on Books
Grand Island, Neb., July 12.—(Special Telegram)—Former Sheriff McCutchan has disappeared and the county supervisors have made formal demand upon his bonding company for a shortage of $200. Whether or not effort will be made to bring him back will depend, county officers say, on the bonding company.

Cornetist Heralds Coming of Candidate

Lincoln, July 12.—(Special Telegram)—Sam Seely, an American Legion boy, has volunteered his services as a cornet player to Attorney General Clarence A. Davis during the remainder of the attorney general's campaign for nomination for United States senator. Davis, like all other candidates making a speaking campaign of the state, sends a man with handbills heralding his coming in advance of his scheduled time to arrive. This week Seely accompanies the handbill man and plays on a public square or anywhere selected for the speech, until Davis arrives.

The attorney general spoke to a crowd in the fair at David City Tuesday and spoke at Osceola in the evening. His car broke down after the Osceola address and a car was sent from Lincoln to convey him to the following towns, where he spoke today: Stromsburg, Central City, Fullerton, Genoa and Albion.

Tomorrow he will speak at Newman Grove, Madison, Stanton, Norfolk and Neligh. Friday he will visit Pierce, Randolph, Laurel, Wayne and Pender. Saturday he will speak at Wakefield, Emerson, Homer, Walthill, Lyons, Oakland, Craig and Tekamah.

Simmons Withdraws in Favor of Humphrey

Sidney, Neb., July 12.—(Special Telegram)—Robert G. Simmons announced that he would withdraw from the race for the unexpired term of M. P. Kincaid for congress, in favor of Judge Humphrey of Broken Bow. Simmons wired the secretary of state, asking withdrawal of filing made on his behalf, stating that the intimate standing of Judge Humphrey with Congressman Kincaid gave him an opportunity to finish the work of the dead congressman. His understanding was, he said, that he himself would not be a candidate if Judge Humphrey could be prevailed upon to run for the office.
