

Harding Orders Retrenchment to Avoid Deficit

Bureau Chiefs Called in Conference—New Budget Director Submits Estimates—Keep Within Income.

Washington, July 12.—With congratulations on the extraordinary economies effected by the budget system in the last year President Harding, addressing several hundred bureau chiefs yesterday, called for still greater retrenchment to avoid a prospective $500,000,000 deficit during the current fiscal year.

Gen. Lord, the new director of the budget, submitted in detail the prospective revenue and expenditures and the president asserted he would stand squarely behind Gen. Lord, as he supported Gen. Dawes, in curtailing expenses and introducing more economical methods of administration. The president said he would not consent to a budget exceeding the revenue and would slash estimates if the departments failed to do so.

"The report of the director of the bureau of the budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922," said Mr. Harding, "is a record of real achievement, of which you may all be proud, for without your intelligent co-operation this gratifying result would not have been possible. Last August it was estimated, on information furnished by those speaking for the spending agencies of the government, that withdrawals from the treasury for the fiscal year just terminated could be $4,554,000,000. The last treasury estimate shows this figure was reduced to $3,795,000,000, a reduction of $759,000,000. The preparation of estimates for the fiscal year 1924 is the next immediate duty," the president continued. "For that year, estimated receipts are $3,198,000,000, or approximately $600,000,000 less than the appropriations for the current year plus authorizations for expenditures, not included in the appropriations. We must all keep constantly in mind that the probable receipts for 1924 will not permit as liberal appropriations as for 1923. In that connection I may say frankly to you that I will not send to congress estimates exceeding the probable receipts of the government."

Retailers Condemn High Increase of Tariff Bill
Lincoln, July 12.—The board of directors of the Federation of Nebraska Retailers, at a meeting held here yesterday, passed a resolution condemning increases proposed by the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill now before congress on the ground that the tariff would tend to

Ziegfeld Flays Pickford, Predicts Sorrow for Wife

Declares He Wishes Miss Miller Could Inquire Why Olive Thomas Killed Self.

Jack Pickford

Copyright, 1922.
Paris, July 12.—Replying to a story in the Boston Post to the effect that Billie Burke's husband was jealous of anybody's attentions to Marilyn Miller, Florenz Ziegfeld told the Tribune that he absolutely did not believe the report that Miss Miller said he was jealous of Jack Pickford.

"I consented to their marriage and am closing 'Sally' in six weeks simply to allow the honeymoon," said Mr. Ziegfeld. "I am now looking for a wedding present."

"Not Jealous."
"Marilyn is silly, if she said I was jealous. My wife, Miss Burke, fascinates me more than ever. She is the most charming woman I know, and Patricia is a wonder baby. My wife would have accompanied me on my entire trip except for the baby's food, and both are coming to London next week to see me."

"I do not think that the last friend of Miss Miller would have advised her marrying a man dishonorably discharged from the navy for taking bribes and also knowing the unhappy end to Olive Thomas. His ledger shows a blank on the credit side and black on the debit side. I will leave it to the American public to judge."

"I wish that Miss Miller would come to Montmartre and inquire why Miss Thomas committed suicide. It would pay 1,000,000 per cent on her future happiness."

Mr. Ziegfeld is occupying an apartment in the Ritz adjoining the room where Miss Thomas took poison. He has heard the gossip of the employees concerning the causes of the tragedy.

increase retail prices to the consuming public.

The board also condemned the proposal to permit the issuing of return postage permits.

It was voted to hold the next annual convention in Omaha in February.

First Peaches Since 1914 in Southeast Nebraska
Stella, Neb., July 12.—(Special.)—Southeastern Nebraska has a peach crop this season for the first time since 1914. And although the old-time big peach orchards are no more, yet there are many trees in town and on farms and every tree is bearing abundantly. The cherry crop has been immense, and has lasted more than a month, and is not yet over. Cherries sold at various prices, the prevailing price being $3 for a bushel of 32 quarts, though in some instances they were higher. Most of the family orchards have died out, and they are not being replaced extensively.

Heavy Rains in July Setback to Stella Farmers
Stella, Neb., July 12.—(Special.)—Nearly six and a half inches of rain during the first 10 days in July has given farm work a big set back, and four inches of rain last night makes another delay in threshing. Only one farmer, James Vannoy, on the Pritts farm, has done any threshing in here so far.

Some threshing was done last week on two farms in Nemaha county and the wheat yielded from 36 to 40 bushels an acre of excellent quality.

Real Lemonade in One Minute and—not a Lemon to Squeeze!

WHEN you use Merrell-Soule Powdered Lemon Juice, you have only to add water to the powder and stir—nothing could be simpler—nothing could be better.

Merrell-Soule Powdered Lemon Juice, you see, is really lemon juice. The lemons have been squeezed and the water removed from the juice. A little sugar has been added to the solid parts of the juice and the powder then put in air-tight cans.

When you restore the water to the juice, you have the same product we had when we squeezed the lemons for you. It is real lemon juice, ready to be used in lemonade or pie or in any recipe that calls for lemon juice.

Your grocer can supply your needs. He sells Merrell-Soule Powdered Lemon Juice in two sizes, 4-oz. and 10-oz.—the 4-oz. package being equal to the juice of a dozen lemons. That really means 14 lemons or more, for few people get all of the juice from a lemon when they squeeze it.

Man Arrested at Ball Game Held on Charge of Robbery

Waterstown, S. D., July 12.—(Special.)—Glen W. Jenkins, arrested while attending a ball game on the charge of being implicated in the holdup and robbery on January 11, 1921, of the local agent of the American Express company, securing about $1,000, as the result of his preliminary hearing has been held for trial in the state circuit court. Bonds in the case were fixed at $3,000.

Jenkins' arrest followed an alleged confession made by Freeman R. Carr, his 18-year-old nephew, that he himself and his uncle were responsible for the robbery. Young Carr a few days ago entered a plea of guilty to the charge. Carr was captured in Oregon a few days ago and brought back to Watertown, and the arrest of Jenkins followed promptly upon his alleged confession.
