

Even Judge Grins When 'Homebrew' Recipe Is Read

Former Dry Chief, Attorney for Bee Hive Grocers, Questions Validity of Warrant.

A broad grin spread over the federal court room yesterday, when J. C. Kinsler, United States district attorney, soberly read aloud a recipe for making "homebrew," from a Blatz malt and hops package, bought by federal agents in the Bee Hive grocery, 822 North Sixteenth street.

The proprietors, Max Fried and David Bernstein, are on trial charged with violation of the Volstead act. Even Judge Woodrough smiled, and when he could not hear it well, asked Kinsler to "repeat the last line."

James H. Hanley, former prohibition director for Nebraska, is attorney for the two. He questioned the validity of the search warrant and, since the product found is a raw material, whether liability under the "dry" law was not a matter of inference, rather than fact.

A government officer present in the courtroom declared similar packages of the malt and hops were on sale yesterday at the quartermaster depot sale at Twentieth and Hickory streets.

Mayor Is Both Plaintiff and Defendant in Suit

A suit filed in municipal court Thursday by the Metropolitan Utilities district against the City of Omaha places Mayor Dahlman in the dual role of plaintiff and defendant. The mayor is a member of the board of directors of the plaintiff corporation. The utilities district is suing for $705 for labor and materials furnished during 1918 and 1919. Most of the work was moving fire hydrants and changing meters. The city officials contend that the city water department should perform this service without charge.

The legal departments of the Metropolitan Utilities district and the city will go to bat before the municipal court.

Miss Myrtle McCoy of Washington, sister of Mrs. Andrews, also was with the body. Mrs. T. Andrews, widow of the congressman's brother, joined the funeral party here. The funeral will be in Hastings at 2 today.

Between 450 and 500 stockholders filed a petition of intervention in federal court yesterday to recover money they paid for Britson Tire company stock. They asked the court to set aside contracts of purchase on the grounds of fraudulent misrepresentation, alleging that no factory was built in four years since they subscribed and that A. O. Britson, the president, is under federal indictment.

Frank Durbin, 22, special guard for the Burlington railroad, was rescued Thursday morning by another guard after he had fought a lone battle with a pack of three-foot dogs that attacked him. Durbin's revolver missed fire twice in an attempt to shoot the dogs. He was so badly wounded that he was in bed yesterday in his room at the Millard hotel.

Frank McGarry, St. Louis youth, tried on an auto theft charge Wednesday in federal court, was found not guilty. His defense was that a St. Louis physician offered him $50 to wreck the car, instead of which he drove it out of the state. McGarry's stepfather owns a large garage in St. Louis.

ALBERT W. JEFFERIS

Congressman Albert W. Jefferis, now serving his second term in Congress from the Second Nebraska District, to which office he was elected by the tremendous majority of 14,850, always has been a True, Consistent and Earnest worker in the Republican Party.

For many years he was a member of the Republican State Executive Committee. He always has participated actively in public-speaking campaigns in behalf of Republican State and National tickets.

Mr. Mondell, Republican floor leader in Congress, says of Mr. Jefferis:

"Congressman Jefferis is a striking example of a legislator who made good in investigating the War department's outrageous expenditures of money during the last administration and we will need his keen analytical mind in helping to solve the immediate problems of reconstruction that confront us as a party."

He Believes In Nebraska He Works For Nebraska

Unselfish Civic Worker

The Omaha Daily News, an independent newspaper, in its issue of June 8, 1919, printed this wonderful tribute to Mr. Jefferis:

"Even before he entered public life, in the technical sense, Mr. Jefferis was considerable of a public man. For years he has been much in demand as a public speaker, AND AS A WORKER ON CIVIC AFFAIRS FOR WHICH HE HAS RECEIVED NO MONETARY CONSIDERATION. Public committees that have called for MEN OF ABILITY AND WILLINGNESS have had the habit of calling on 'Big Jeff' for service. They Got It."

Higher Grain Prices

Once a farmer, Mr. Jefferis has taken an active interest in matters relating to agriculture, and cheaper transportation for agricultural products.

As a member of the committee on merchant marine, he has expended much effort on the proposed St. Lawrence River Ship Canal, WHICH WILL MEAN SEVERAL CENTS A BUSHEL ADDED TO THE PRICE OF GRAIN RAISED IN NEBRASKA.

This will mean more Wealth for Nebraska

Relentless Prosecutor of Law Violators

Fights War Profiteers

As a member of the Graham committee investigating war frauds, Congressman Jefferis has gathered much valuable evidence, which will be used by the Department of Justice in prosecuting war profiteers. He has spent months examining witnesses and taking testimony, which will be of great value to the government in securing indictments and convictions.

Prosecuted Law Violators

While assistant county attorney under H. H. Baldrige, Mr. Jefferis proved himself a fearless and relentless prosecutor of law violators. He served two terms as prosecutor; his record of convictions is his testimonial. Mr. Baldrige said: "Mr. Jefferis was vigorous and unrelenting as a prosecutor. He played no favorites."

LIFE OF JEFFERIS IS VERY ACTIVE.

As the oldest boy of a large family on a Pennsylvania farm, Jeff, as he was known by all his comrades, learned at first hand the difficulties which confront the tiller of the soil.

Prior to his election to congress, he never held an elective office. Feeling his sense of civic duty, he accepted the position as assistant county attorney. He has given his full share of time toward civic affairs for the betterment of his city and his state. He always has been an unselfish civic worker.

Although he entered the University of Michigan as a strange farmer boy, without friends, he graduated as president of his class, following a star-career as a football and baseball player. His personality, his sincere attitude towards his fellow men; his capacity for leadership; these brought him from the country boy to the college idol.

After graduating from the University of Michigan he came to Omaha. The first night he was in Nebraska he made a Republican speech. During his 30 years of active practice at the Nebraska bar he has won an enviable name as an attorney. His reputation as an able, forceful and eloquent lawyer has spread throughout the state.

PRIMARIES JULY 18th

A vote for Albert W. Jefferis for the Republican nomination for United States Senator is a vote for a man who is "one of us"—a man who has "been through the mill"—a man who believes in, and works for, the whole state of Nebraska.
