

Chicopee, Mass., Under Water as Dams Give Way

20,000,000 Gallons of Water Pour on Bay State Town—Second Story Windows Reached.

Chicopee, Mass., July 17.—Twenty million gallons of water flooded a large part of the Williamssett district here early today when Langwald's dam and another dam at Robert Pond, gave way. Residents and business places along Chicopee's street were flooded above the first floors and occupants were forced to flee to the second and third floors for safety.

The Boston and Maine tracks were washed out in half a dozen places. Property loss from the flood will be heavy. A score or more of dwellings were moved from their foundations and many were carried a considerable distance, while others tilted or were crushed.

A cement dam at Langwald's pond was the first to break. The released water rushed down a valley for half a mile, entering Robert's pond. Here the rush of water tore out the wooden dam and a high wave spread out into a residential district, reaching a depth of seven feet in some places.

Panic reigned among residents as they were awakened by the roar of the rushing water. Many hurried out in an effort to escape, but were forced to flee to upper stories.

Boy, 14, Youngest to Face Charge of Burglary Here

Expected to Study Aviation With Money From Loot—Partner at Large.

The youngest prisoner ever to face a formal charge of burglary in Omaha will be Lloyd Foss, 14, "boy burglar," according to Lieut. Jack Pisanowski, who said charges would be filed against the lad yesterday.

Foss is held pending further investigation into his career which began three or four weeks ago, shortly after he ran away from his home in Superior, Neb., to see the world.

He had graduated from the eighth grade in school.

As soon as formal charges have been filed against the youngster, he will be turned over to juvenile court, according to Pisanowski.

Aspires to Be Aviator.

Young Foss aspires to be a dashingly aviator in Uncle Sam's air mail service, he admitted.

He said he expected to attend the aviation instruction school at Culver, Ind., on the proceeds of a few burglaries in Omaha.

Detectives still have been unable to locate Foss' partner, said to be Joe "Fatty" Kelly, 15.

"The first automobile stolen in Omaha now will put them on Foss' trail," said the Foss youngster yesterday. "It's fat and slow and surely does like to ride."

Six pairs of silk hose were missing from the loot recovered by detectives from the automobile of R. H. Brown, 617 Lincoln boulevard, in the rear of the city hall, according to young Foss.

Fears Double Cross.

"Fatty" may have them, he says, fearing his chubby partner has double crossed him.

Foss was captured by Officers Joe Janda and Martin Jensen at the home of M. D. Cameron, 216 North Thirty-second avenue.

Detectives found toy building blocks, a handkerchief believed to have been used as a mask, and a package of tobacco, all abandoned by the baby burglars, they allege.

Foss told Pisanowski he hid his gun in a bed at the Cameron home when he saw the officers and tried to pass himself as a son of the family. He almost succeeded in his ruse.

When told by Pisanowski his pal had been captured and had confessed, but said he didn't know where the loot was, Foss promptly declared "Fatty" was lying and led officers to the Brown car behind the city hall.

Find Loot.

In the car they found a box containing $599 worth of loot alleged to have been taken from the home of Elizabeth Jones, 415 North Seventeenth street.

Foss and Kelly escaped jail in Fremont Friday night. Foss received severe cuts on his arm that left a trail of blood toward Omaha.

The boys are accused of seven burglaries in Fremont.

A close watch is being kept on young Foss since he asked if a steel plate is between the bricks in the jail wall.

Police now believe "Fatty" is playing a lone hand, chalking up against his record the following Saturday night "jobs":

Small Foot Prints.

Loot worth $2,500 from the A. Liebowitz home, 3122 Myrtle street. Straw hat and $2.50 from the Byron Casey home, 2892 Webster street.

At both places small foot prints were found by officers.

The police description of "Fatty" follows:

Irish in appearance, 15 years old, 5 feet and 3 inches tall, 140 pounds weight, brown hair, dark cap, blue shirt open at the neck, greenish pants with two holes in the seat, and brown oxfords.

Strikers Meet Behind Closed Doors First Time

Union Official Tells Omaha Shopmen That Workers "Out Just as Strong" in East.

The mass meeting of striking railway shopmen was held at Labor temple behind closed and guarded doors yesterday morning, for the first time since the walkout 17 days ago.

Speakers were G. F. Mounts of Kansas City, general vice president of the Carman's union, and C. C. Carson, boilermaker, of Sioux City. Carson told the men he had made an inspection trip throughout the east, including points on the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio, and that the men were "out just as strong, if not stronger, than in the west."

No Difficulty Anticipated.

H. E. Dickinson, general superintendent of Northwestern railroad lines west, said yesterday he had received no reports of clerks and freight handlers quitting work on the Northwestern yesterday morning. A strike of stationary firemen and oilers would not alter the situation, because they have been drifting out ever since the shopmen struck, he said.

C. L. Gray, chief clerk to the general manager of Burlington lines west, said the Burlington has a contract with clerks and freight handlers until next February 1, and that no difficulty with them is anticipated. The reported order for firemen and oilers to walk out yesterday morning was nothing to the Burlington, where large numbers of them already have quit, according to Mr. Gray, who added that this class of men was easy to replace.

Women Await Decision.

Old men are not returning to work in any large numbers, Mr. Gray admitted.

The women's auxiliary, formed Sunday to aid the striking shopmen, was awaiting a federal court decision on picketing before starting to serve drinks and lunches to the pickets, according to H. E. Gates, local strike chairman.

Efforts Are Resumed to End Railway Strike

but railway executives declared that the defections had been more than made up by the numbers of shopmen who returned to work on the last day allowed them on many roads to protect their seniority rights.

Disturbances Continue.

Meanwhile strike disturbances continued to spread, the forces of federal marshals protecting the movement of the mails and interstate traffic was increased and more federal injunctions against picketing were granted.

At Bloomington, Ill., a number of shots were fired, damaging the home of a nonunion rail worker. In Iowa passengers, train and wrecking crews were driven away from a wrecked train by strike sympathizers in an effort to prevent the clearing of the tracks.

Officials Mark Time.

Washington, July 17.—Occupied almost exclusively with endeavors to bring about a resumption of work in the coal fields, administrative officials of the government marked time in the railroad strike situation. Indications were that the suspension of activity with respect to the railroad troubles was deliberate and for the purpose of giving full attention to the coal strike.

Emphasis was placed by most officials, however, on the statement that events within the next few days will necessarily govern the government's policy, and hope was expressed that it would not be necessary to take any drastic action. Everything pointed to deliberation and careful consideration prior to any decision, and for proof the government's action with respect to the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad was pointed to.

Await Final Report.

Officials in the case of that railroad, which presents unusual features, in that it is in the hands of a receiver appointed by a federal court, still awaited the final report of the inspector general of the Eighth corps area, who on instructions from Maj. Gen. Hines, the corps area commander, went to Denison, Tex., where disorders have occurred, to make an investigation. The inspector general, Col. Lincoln, in a telegram to the War department, said Gov. Neff of Texas, had announced there would be a few hours delay before he announced what steps would be taken by the state to preserve order.

Co-operation by the state of Pennsylvania in any step the federal government might take in either the rail or the coal strike was promised by Governor Spruyell and Attorney General Alter, of that state in conferences with President Harding and Secretary eWks.

Some reports of interference with movement of the mails continued to come in during the day, but the situation in that respect, with the exception of an isolated case in Lovilia, Ia., where striking coal miners and their sympathizers prevented the clearing of a wreck on the Burlington tracks, showed an improvement.

workers and government protection. They will offer the reduced wage scale which they put into effect on April 1.

Attitude of Operators.

The attitude of the operators towards the president's settlement proposal was set forth in the following letter:

"We have given most careful and thorough consideration to the proposal submitted by you on July 10, supplemented by your statement of July 15, and we are not only in entire accord with your plan to establish a general tribunal to inquire into all the facts in our industry and make recommendations for the solution of our fundamental problem, but we urge that such a plan be put into effect by you.

"We also wish to remind you that we have already proposed the broad principle of arbitration in our previous conferences with the officers of the administration and with the representatives of the miners. We still stand on those broad principles and are in entire accord with you in that respect.

Answer by Districts.

"We did have in mind discussing with you certain recommendations as to the machinery to make an arbitration plan effective and to accomplish the result which the country and you yourself desire.

"In view of the contingencies that confront us, and the carrying conditions in the different coal producing districts of the country, our conference has decided to answer your proposal by districts rather than as a they could see the men assembling. Most of the guards placed themselves in the tippie house, while the sheriff and two deputies went in the direction of the company houses.

"At 5 the men were heard to shout, 'Come on, boys, lets kill these scabs.' With that the entire body of men proceeded toward the tippie and the first shots were fired.

Advancing in overwhelming numbers, the miners forced the guards to take shelter in a nearby house, firing as they retreated. As the men reached the tippie they were seen to pour oil on it and set it afire.

Two Miners Killed.

Two guards who remained stationed in the tippie house kept up a terrific fire and the miners tore off the roof of the enclosed incline in an effort to get at these men. At that time Deputy Sheriff Irvin Mozingo started up the hill. During an exchange of shots Mozingo was shot through the mouth. Two miners were later found dead at the spot.

she had been told her husband was going around with a girl named Alberta, and she believed the story because her husband had been neglecting her.

Leaves Car.

"I want to go and speak to her about it," Mrs. Phillips said, according to Mrs. Caffee, and the two went to the apartment of Mrs. Meadows that evening, but found no one home. Wednesday morning they went to the parking stand downtown where Mrs. Phillips said the young woman kept her car. They missed her and went shopping during the day, returning late in the afternoon. It was then they met Mrs. Meadows, she said, it being her first and only meeting with her. Mrs. Phillips requested that Mrs. Meadows drive her home, acceptance, divergence from the route near the point in the Montecito hills, stopping on the hillside when Mrs. Phillips asked Mrs. Meadows to leave the car a moment, were recited by Mrs. Caffee.

"She asked Alberta if Mr. Phillips did not give her the tires for her automobile and a wrist watch," Mrs. Caffee testified. "Mrs. Meadows denied this and Mrs. Phillips said: 'He certainly did' and with that struck her with the hammer.

Starts to Run.

"Alberta started to run and Clara chased her for half a block and brought her back by the arm. I thought they had made up, but when they came to the car she hit her again and the blood spouted out and streamed down."

It was at this point that Mrs. Caffee broke down.

She resumed a few minutes later, saying she stepped between the two women and "Clara told me to get out of the way."

"The blood made me sick and I went down the road," she testified. "I looked back and saw Clara strike her one blow while Alberta was on the ground."

She testified that a few minutes later the car reached her and Mrs. Phillips was driving alone.

"She looked furious and said 'don't you dare tell about this. You are in this as much as I.'"

Mrs. Phillips drove downtown and left her, she said.
