Omahans Wed in East.

Miss Maud Barnette and Bert A. Jacobson, both of Omaha, were married in New York July 3. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jacobson of Providence, R. I., were the only members of the family who were present at the ceremony, and the bride and groom spent their honeymoon near Providence. Mr. Jacobson is engaged on a piece of construction work for the New York Central near Albany and he and Mrs. Jacobson will remain east until the work is completed, after which they will return to Omaha. Miss Barnette is well known in business circles here, and Mr. Jacobson is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, a member of Alpha Tau Omega, and served in the navy during the war. He is a former resident of Louisville, Neb.

Bowser-Timmons.

The wedding of Murrilla Timmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hanks, and Frederick Le Roy Bowser, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Bowser, was solemnized Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of the immediate families. The Rev. Mr. Cobble of the First Christian church officiated. The bride was gowned in ivory satin and wore a corsage of sweetpeas.

The young couple were later entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bowser, where they have been staying since the wedding. They left last evening for Cleveland, O., where Mr. Bowser is in business.

Henningesen-Meyen.

Miss Marie Meyen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meyen of this city was married July 4 to Edward A. Henningesen, jr., of San Francisco. The wedding took place in Shanghai at the Hotel Astor, and the young couple expect to stay in the Orient for two years. Miss Meyen went to China last April with Mr. and Mrs. Henningesen, sr., and has been touring China with them since her arrival. The wedding is a surprise to most of her Omaha friends as her engagement had not been announced.

Camp Brewster.

Juniors at Camp Brewster are enjoying the Shetland ponies, which are the latest addition to camp. It is fortunate that the new weighing scales arrived a few days in advance of the ponies, for most of the camp guests are waiting to be "juniors." However, it is weight rather than age which is the deciding factor in settling the question as to who may ride.

Thirteen girls from Glenwood, Ia., are spending the week at the camp. Among the groups registered this week end are the Cel Jed Sokol girls, Harle-Haas Drug company girls of Council Bluffs, Omaha V. W. C. A. Alumni club, and 16 girls with Miss Alice Anderson, leader.

Honoring Nebraska Visitor.

Mrs. Lloyd True entertained at a morning bridge at her home Friday in honor of Mrs. Eugene Coffeen of Hastings, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Richard Skankey. The guests were the Mesdames Stewart Johnson, Mrs. Muller, R. A. Van Orsdet, Ott, Weiss, Richard Skankey, Fred Haas and Charles Reynolds.

For the Misses Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harding, who have lately returned from a European trip, will entertain a day evening at the dinner dance at Happy Hollow in honor of their nieces, the Misses Dorothy and Antoinette Adams, of Middletown, N. Y., who arrived Thursday to spend the summer with the Hardings.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett F. Real and baby, Patricia, left Thursday for Long Beach, Cal., where they will remain several months.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Walsh, who recently left for a summer in California, have taken an apartment at the Alvarado in Los Angeles and will remain there until next September.

Mrs. Louise Behling of Long Beach, Cal., will arrive today to be a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Eddy. Mrs. Behling will join Mrs. Roberta Kitchen and her son, Dick, here, and will leave August 2 with them for a year in Europe.

Mrs. Frederick Montmorency, accompanied by her daughters, Helen and Margaret, and son, Robert, left the first of the week for California. They will stay with relatives in Berkeley and plan to be gone most of next winter. Another son, Frederick, has been attending the University of California.

The curse of ambition—to yearn and burn. The curse of attainment—no longer to yearn and burn.

Travelers From Europe

Dewell Photo

Mrs. J. A. Fike and her daughter, Miss Eunice Fike, have just returned from eight months in Europe. They made their headquarters in Nancy with Mrs. Fike's daughter, Mrs. Hector Paradise, and Mr. Paradise, who was engaged in reconstruction work for the Y. M. C. A. Mr. and Mrs. Paradise returned with the Fikes and will make their home in Omaha. This weekend the family will be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. R. N. Packard of Oakland, Neb., at a house party. Mr. and Mrs. Paradise and Miss Eunice Fike are already in Oakland, and Mr. and Mrs. Fike, accompanied by their son, John, and nephew, Ray Hawkins, motored out last evening.

Omaha Folk Meet for Parties in Los Angeles.

Dr. and Mrs. A. Hugh Hipple, who are in Los Angeles, have been widely entertained by former Omaha friends there. They are guests of Mrs. William Archibald Smith, Mrs. Walter Selby and her daughter, Katherine, who are engaged in reconstruction work for the Y. M. C. A. Mr. and Mrs. Smith and last Saturday they attended the "Pilgrimage" play in Hollywood. Tuesday Mrs. William Archibald Smith gave a beach party at Venice, and 14 guests were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Reece Barber, Mrs. Blanche Heller and sons, Burton and Wilson, Mrs. Walter Selby and Miss Selby, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hamilton, Miss Ruth Hamilton and Allison Hamilton, all former residents of Omaha. Last Monday Mrs. Hipple and Mrs. Smith were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson at the Hollywood Country club. Dr. and Mrs. Hipple left for Seattle and Portland Wednesday. They will return to Omaha the second week in August.

Crippled Children Enjoy Party at Summer Camp.

Nineteen crippled children are registered at the summer camp, 2806 North Sixty-sixth avenue, which is being conducted by the Society for the Relief of the Disabled. Visiting hours are from 3 until 5 every afternoon.

Thursday afternoon the society gave a party for the children at the camp. Ice cream was furnished by the Fairmont creamery. Mesdames Frank Judson, William Hynes and Myles Standish had charge of the affair.

Two trained nurses are retained by the society to care for the children. They are assisted each day by three members of the organization. The public is invited to inspect the camp during visiting hours.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Society for the Relief of the Disabled will be held in the Brandeis tea room Friday, July 28, at 12:30 o'clock.

An operation or two, and you may rock along in the porch chair contentment.

True Love Knows That Efficiency Is Vital

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

"Jessie loves me and there's no doubt of that in my mind," writes Oliver. "But sometimes—and I'm ashamed to acknowledge it even to myself—I'd give a lot if she weren't quite so devoted. She's the dearest little wife in the world. But she never has dinner ready when I come home. She says she just can't keep from hanging out of the window waiting for me from 5:30 on."

"Sometimes I get home at 6 sometimes not till 7. If there's overtime to do, I always like to make the few extra dollars, but when I get home all tired out and have to wait for dinner until 8, I have all I can manage to keep from acting like a regular old groch."

"Jess isn't selfish. Nor is she a goose. She's just so devoted to me that she can only think about me—never for me."

And there I stop quoting friend Oliver, for he has said something wise and noteworthy, that it seems a good plan to stop and stress the point he has made.

Many women are so busy thinking about a man that they can never think for him.

Oliver's Jess would be broken-hearted if anyone were to tell her that she isn't showing Oliver the least bit of consideration. But when love is so sentimental and so taken up with its own romantic processes, it doesn't stop to show a bit of common sense or efficiency. And efficiency is what love needs to keep it going.

The man who loves efficiently doesn't force his moods or his viewpoints on a woman. He has enough sanity to recognize that the sweet heart didn't stop being a "person" when she fell in love with him. There are things which she has enjoyed—even things which she has found necessary—for 20 or 30 years. And love isn't such a complete chemical process that it changes the salient characteristics of an individual and makes him utterly different from what he was for long years.

An efficient love recognizes the individual rights of the other partner to a woman that changes the salient needs and the comforts of the other one. It meets situations half way. It doesn't demand romantic attitudes and caresses from a tired man or a head-achy woman.

There is no reason why love should be a frenzy. To indulge in a wild debauch of sentimentality is just to indulge—self. For no matter how deeply a man or a woman feels for another, there are times when individual needs and longings will assert themselves, and the only love that can satisfy is the love which recognizes that it isn't always sufficient or needed—but that air to breathe and food to eat and a little freedom are vital.

Stones Hold Good Spirit. All live stones are lucky stones in the love. By a lucky stone is not meant a stone that has brilliancy of light refraction, but a stone which appears to have within itself a shifting moving light. These may all be called phenomenal gems, and the easterner believes them to be the dwelling place of a powerful good spirit, able to protect the possessor.

Many varieties of stones are endowed with this "living spirit." Rarest and most costly are fine star sapphires and rubies. Opals, moonstones and cat's eyes are all of them lucky.

Be it in window displays, V-necks or free verse the proper thing's Repression, with temperament breaking out in blotches like the measles.

My Marriage Problems

Adele Garrison's New Phase of "REVELATIONS OF A WIFE" (Copyright 1922)

What the Accidental Guests Demanded and Commanded.

Just what game was Harry Underwood playing? This was the question that said itself over and over in my brain as, with my supporting hand upon the arm of the young girl I had just brought into the house from the automobile wreck, I followed Lillian up the stairs to her room.

Rarely, I reflected, could one find a more bizarre situation than this, with Lillian and this girl both ignorant of the Underwood's schemes until I had decided how best to preserve his assumed identity.

"She Can't Rest Here." With the opening of Lillian's door, however, I found myself plunged into a maelstrom of excited talk, as father and mother greeted their daughter. This effectually banished all introspection and retrospection, and made me come perilously near to losing my temper in childish, futile fashion.

"Are you sure you're all right, Helen?" the mother demanded. "Why aren't you letting her stand alone by herself?"

She turned on me as accusingly as if I had been a paid attendant, deficient in duty. I made her no answer, but turned to help Lillian move an army cot made soft and comfortable with gayly-colored blankets and pillows to a position near the bed where the captious mother was reclining.

"If your daughter wishes to lie down," Lillian said, "she can rest here."

"There's no bed," the man demanded pompously, "where she can be comfortable?"

"Where is Junior?" I turned to Lillian.

"In Mother Graham's room," she replied. "I turned Marion and Junior over to her."

"Then," I turned to the man, "your daughter may come into my room if she wishes."

"That is more like it," he retorted. "And, we must have a doctor at once. No one knows what injuries any of us may have sustained. Please telephone the nearest physician, as well as Dr. X. from Southampton. Then we will have some attention right away."

"Oh! if I could only see Dr. Y.," the woman sighed, and her husband responded promptly.

"Why, you shall! Just telephone New York while you're about it. Here! I'll give you the address and the money."

"There is no telephone in the house," I said frigidly, for my nerves.

ADVERTISEMENTS. To Wear Thin Waists or Sleeveless Dresses. (Beauty Topics) With the aid of a delatone paste, it is an easy matter for any woman to remove every trace of hair or fuzz from face, neck and arms. Enough of the powdered delatone and water is mixed into a thick paste and spread on the hairy surface for about 2 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This completely removes the hair, but to avoid disappointment, get the delatone in an original package and mix fresh.

Common Sense

By J. J. MUNDY.

Are You Extending the Helping Hand?

You know a boy in your neighborhood or in your place of business who is going wrong.

Then it is your duty to have a talk with him, and, in some way, make him realize the probable outcome of his course.

As long as he has parents, you make that an excuse to yourself for avoiding that sort of a conversation.

Perhaps his parents do not know, or he has gotten beyond their control in certain respects, and will not listen to them.

If you see that in approaching him you might be able to have a talk with him without offending him, at the same time making an impression on him.

It is a serious matter for a human life to be ruined. It cannot be estimated in its far-reaching results.

A few words spoken at the right time might prevent anything of this sort.

You may think your words would have little influence, but you cannot tell till you try.

Be willing to be rebuffed for the sake of making use of your opportunity to put a boy on the right path.

Parents' Problems

How can respect for their elders best be taught to children?

By example; by stories. Best of all, it can be taught by association with honored grandparents—honored by the children's parents.

I have never known this to fail—even when the grandparents were not very old!

ADVERTISEMENTS.

Human life could be lengthened if people ate Kellogg's Bran regularly!

Eliminate constipation from your system through the use of nature's wonderful food—BRAN—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbed, and you not only get every organ in your body working normally, but you have side-tracked disease! Eat Bran regularly, at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases, with every meal!

Bran, through its mineral salts and ability to absorb water, giving bulk and moisture, is nature's way to assist in perfect elimination. Bran's work for health is wonderful; it sweeps the bowel tract, cleansing and purifying. Yet, Bran is not a "remedy." It forms no habit! Your physician will endorse Kellogg's Bran.

It is predicted that the consistent use of Kellogg's Bran will increase the average life from ten to fifteen years! Bran will make children grow bigger and more robust because it keeps the organs active and allows normal growth. Bran eliminates sluggishness from men and women and keeps the brain active. Bran is the most beneficial agent for constipation that can be given the aged!

Kellogg's Bran will permanently clear up a muddy or pimply complexion; it will relieve an obnoxious breath!

Consider Kellogg's Bran as a delicious cereal—as well as a regulator! Kellogg's Bran is delightful eaten as a cereal or sprinkled over your favorite cereal, its nut-like flavor adding greatly to the goodness of all foods. Or, use Bran in raisin bread, gams, pancakes, etc. Recipes on each package!

Go to your grocery today and get a package of Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbed!
