

Governor Allen Calls Dare of Emporia Editor

Authority Given for Arrest of William Allen White Following Championship of Strikers.

Topeka, Kan., July 21.—Governor Henry J. Allen authorized the arrest of William Allen White, editor of the Emporia Gazette, for alleged violations of the anti-picketing provision of the Kansas industrial court.

Declaring in a statement, "no distinction will be made as to individuals, no matter what their standings may be in the state or nation, and certainly we cannot make an exception of Mr. White's case."

White had placed placards in the Gazette windows supporting the railway shopmen's strike. He also carried a front page editorial in the Gazette Wednesday, daring Governor Allen to prosecute him for advocating the cause of the striking railroad employees.

White Not Worried.

Emporia, Kan., July 21.—His impending arrest for defiance of the Kansas industrial court law by placing a placard, sympathizing with the striking railroad shopmen, in a window of the office of the Emporia Gazette, had no terror for William Allen White.

"I won't take down the sign. It is going to stay there in my window," he said to a friend.

That no feeling of personal enmity or bitterness is connected with the present controversy was declared emphatically by Mr. White.

Des Moines Strikebreaker Held at Labor Temple—Union to Furnish Car Fare Home.

Kenneth Kinsley, 20, Des Moines, entering Council Bluffs to work as a strikebreaker, was kidnaped from an Illinois Central train Thursday night and held all night at the Labor temple here.

Kinsley named J. G. Fogle, strike chairman, as his kidnaper. "Sure he was kidnaped," Fogle said yesterday morning, "but he was not roughly handled at any time. We gave him breakfast and will help him purchase a ticket back to Des Moines. The strikers will see that he gets home in good condition."

Spotted by Picket.

Kinsley had $2.50 and that will be applied to his fare.

The youth, who resides at 822 Watrous avenue, Des Moines, and is a son of E. H. Kinsley, graduated from a Des Moines high school in June.

He came to Omaha on the Rock Island and was placed on an Illinois Central passenger back to Council Bluffs. He put his head out of a window at Avenue G in that city and Fogle, who was on picket duty in that neighborhood, seized him, Kinsley reported.

Firemen Assist in Recovery of Body from Well

Laborer on Tom Jensen Farm East of Bluffs Dies as Result of Fall Down 125-Foot Shaft.

Members of the Council Bluffs fire department were called yesterday to the Tom Jensen farm, five miles east of the White Pole road, to assist in the recovery from a 125-foot well of the body of John Brown, 67, who was killed by falling into the shaft.

Brown, a companion, Clarence Collister, and their employer, Tom Jensen, were engaged in the repair of a windmill shaft and all were standing on the boards covering the opening of the well. The planks gave way beneath their weight, throwing Brown into the shaft.

Collister was not standing upon the plank which broke. Jensen, owner of the farm, saved himself by falling against the shaft of the windmill. He received a severe gash on his head. Brown fell more than 100 feet and was drowned in the water at the bottom before his companions could assist him.

Failing in his efforts to haul up the body of the dead workman, Jensen sent a call for help to the Central fire station in Council Bluffs and Chief James Cotter and two firemen responded. They were unable to recover the body with their tackle, however, and were obliged to make a trip back to town for more paraphernalia.

It was more than four hours before the body was raised from the well.

Says Half Replaced.

W. W. Aterbury of the Pennsylvania railway, it was said, estimated that 18,000 employees who walked out July 1, 9,000 had had their places filled by new men, who, he said, would be retained in any time. We would be retained in any time. We would be retained in any time.

The railroad executives who conferred here last night were reported to have said that the roads were all willing to yield before the union objections to the practice of "farming out" equipment repair work to contracting concerns away from their own shops, and that only two lines, the Erie and Western Maryland, were still following the policy. The proposals for a new national board of mediation and conciliation were likewise considered.

Trial Is Opened for Strike Kidnaping

Representatives in Washington of the four railroad brotherhoods took this proposal up later with Chairman Cummins to discuss the possibility that such an organization, which existed during the war, be restored or one similar in character established.

Senator Cummins arranged to meet them tomorrow.

Investigate Applicants.

More than 100 volunteers answered Marshal Cronin's call for deputies yesterday. Two-score waited in his office before it was opened at 9. Ex-service men were given the preference in selection. Marshal Cronin stated, Attorney General Daugherty has specified that no railroad employees could qualify as guards.

Until word is received to deputize the men time will be spent investigating applicants. No information has been received as to how deputies are to be paid, fed and housed. Further orders are expected today.

The duties of the special officers are also indefinite.
