

More Than 200 Entered in War Baby Contest

Every Baby Whose Father Was in War Eligible to Compete in Exhibit at Park.

Big babies, tiny babies, babies with the reddest hair, in fact, all kinds of babies, will have a look-in at the picnic and baby show at the park Saturday afternoon, August 5, at Kung park by the Omaha Chapter of War Mothers.

There will be 15 prizes for the winning babies; baby carriages, kiddie carts, dolls and other things that babies are sure to like. And, best of all, every baby gets a prize, even if he doesn't happen to be the best physically, or the tiniest, or have the reddest hair.

More Than 200 Entered. All babies whose fathers were in the war can be in the contest. More than 200 babies already have been entered, and many more will have registered before the big day, according to Mrs. Florence Meadows, who, with Mrs. James Shields, composed the registration committee. Mrs. Meadows can be reached at Atlantic 7252, and Mrs. Shields at Walnut 1904.

Two gold star babies—babies whose fathers were killed in the war—already have been entered. And twins are on the registration list. An army discharge is all that's necessary to admit the baby and its parents to the park and to the contest. Tickets are being sold, the proceeds of which will be used by the War Mothers for charitable purposes.

List of Judges. Prominent child specialists and the following judges will pick the prize winners: Mrs. Blanch McKelvie, Mrs. Frank Furness, Judge W. G. Sears, Harry Hough and Archbishop J. J. Hart.

Mrs. A. H. Burr is chairman of the committee in charge, assisted by Mrs. Meadows and Mrs. W. A. Wilcox, president, and Mrs. Shields, secretary of the War Mothers.

Bridges Swept Away By Denver Creek Flood

Denver, Colo., July 29.—Cloudbursts and heavy rains yesterday and last night sent Cherry Creek and the Platte river, both of which flow through portions of Denver, many feet above normal stage, drove many families from their homes, caused serious damage and in some instances, complete destruction of bridges and highways and marooned many motorists on mountain roads radiating from Denver.

The cloudburst which caused greatest alarm here occurred late in the afternoon at Parker, Colo., 25 miles southeast. It sent a rushing wall of water into the channel of Cherry Creek. You are invited to visit our Exhibition and Sale of Luxurious Furs which begins July Thirty-first in our Fur Shop on the Third Floor

It has been the custom of this store to hold an August Fur Sale, not because furs are fashionable in August, but for the reason that August, being one of the dull months of the year, must have some incentive to stimulate buying. In an effort to bring up the volume of business to nearer that of other months, merchants conceived the idea of making price concessions on furs purchased in August.

For this event the Burgess-Nash Company has planned since a year ago, keeping in mind throughout that period the one idea of giving to Burgess-Nash customers the best values they could possibly buy anywhere this season, and to give even better values this season than they have ever before given in an August Fur Sale. And we have succeeded.

Since the repeal of the 10% war tax and because of the lower price of furs, this year's prices will average at least 25% less than those of a year ago. And during this sale furs may be purchased at less than even the lowered prices of next September. As to quality—it is the opinion of the people in our fur department that better values have never been offered in this store.

Ours are furs of quality, made from the finest pelts obtainable—luxurious and in great variety. They are beautiful models—the new and the most fashionable. Her knowledge of styles will tell a woman whether or not a garment is style correct, but rarely does she have the ability to judge the intrinsic value of pelts. Consequently her purchase depends upon the trust she places with the firm. Consider the assurance of quality carried in every purchase made under the name Burgess-Nash, and then—compare! Compare prices with quality.

We are making it as easy as possible to purchase now while you may enjoy the advantages of August prices. Our credit department will be glad to advise with those who desire to purchase furs on the partial payment plan.

Advantages of Buying in This Sale

Prices are lower than they will be later on, selections are larger and finer, for naturally the first garments include the pick of last year's pelts.

We are the only retail firm in city of Omaha that operates its own cold storage vaults in its own building, under its own direct supervision.

Furs purchased in this sale will be held in our cold storage vaults free of charge until November 1st. We request a 24-hour notice.
