

Range Conditions Bring Idaho Sheep to Local Market

Shipper Says Dryness Is Cause—Run of Lambs to Slacken Up in Few Weeks.

J. G. Graves of Murray & Graves, hog raisers of Silver Creek, was on yesterday's market with a shipment of 90 hogs, averaging 215 pounds, that sold for $10.75 a hundred. In the consignments were extra heavy weights and some pretty lean ones. Some of them weighed around 300 pounds, while some were less than 175 pounds.

Michael McNamara, representing the local market yesterday, brought in two double decks of lambs to the local market yesterday, which brought $12.25 a hundred, the top price of the day.

The big run of lambs from Idaho will slacken up in about two weeks, according to Mr. McNamara. He said that, due to the dry condition of the ranges, lambs have been moving pretty freely from Idaho.

Beeves Bring $8.65.

The highest priced western beeves sold on the local market were brought in yesterday by O. O. Ferbrache of Haig, who had 30 head of cattle averaging 1,227 pounds, for which he received $8.65 a hundred.

Mr. Ferbrache also marketed a few younger cattle that he sold as feeders for $7.50 a hundred. He said he had brought in his cattle earlier than usual, but thought now was a good time, as the grasshoppers had done considerable damage to pastures, causing a scarcity of feed.

$10 for Yearlings.

Two carloads of cattle were on the local market yesterday, brought in by M. J. Lauby of Lexington. The shipment averaged 910 pounds and was of such quality that it brought $10 a hundred, which was the high mark of the day for yearlings.

The Omaha Livestock exchange will be represented at the annual meeting of the Wyoming Wool Growers' association to be held at Sheridan, Wyo., August 2-4, by a number of local sheepmen, who left last night.

He followed, fearing he would kill her, she procured a revolver. She said she met her Saturday near her rooms and struck her, and that she shot him in self-defense. He is in the county hospital. The bullet entered his neck and lodged in his chin.

Wife of "John the Barber" Kills Sister Over Husband

Admitting that she murdered her sister, Miss Bertha Katz (above), Mrs. Minnie Reiser, wife of "John the Barber," well known in sporting circles as a fight manager, was arrested in her home at Brooklyn, N. Y. The girl on her death bed said she was shot by Mrs. Reiser's son, but, according to the police, Mrs. Reiser confessed she did the shooting.

Use of Detector Tubes Explained

Principle of Vacuum Bulbs Simple; Very Little Current Used in Operation.

The vacuum tube is still a puzzling piece of apparatus to a great many of the people who have just become interested in radio, when in reality it is a comparatively simple affair. In the first place there are several different types of tubes on the market, chief of which are the tubes put out as radiators. These tubes are also known sometimes as Cunningham tubes. Among the various types of these tubes are the U. V. 200 type. This is a detector tube only and the U. V. 201 is an amplifier. The difference lies in the fact that the first tube has a small amount of rare gas left in it, while the amplifier tube is exhausted to a very high degree. This is what sometimes makes these tubes a golden color.

The tube known as the U. V. 202 is a five-watt transmitting tube, and the U. V. 203 is a 50-watt transmitter. The largest type is known as U. V. 204 and is rated at 250 watts. This type of tube is also known as a P tube and is the one that is universally used by the broadcasting stations. A station such as WAAW at the Omaha Grain exchange uses seven of these large tubes, the retail prices of which are $110 each. This may make some of the amateurs, who are averse to paying $5 for a detector tube, feel that after all they are lucky that they do not have to use P tubes.

Another type of vacuum tube is the A-P. These are made in only a very few sizes, principal types being the electron ray, which is a detector, and the A-P amplifier tube, which is another of the tubes that are exhausted to a high degree. Both of these tubes are very good and consume a little less current than the radiators, thus making the life of the storage battery longer.

Those amateurs who listen in on extraordinary long distance stations may be interested to know the radio program of station WJWJ for next Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Three States to Name Senatorial Candidates Aug. 1

Missouri, Virginia and West Virginia Hold Primaries Tuesday—Hard Fight on Against Reed.

Washington, July 31.—Three senatorial primaries on Tuesday are commanding the attention of political Washington. Missouri, Virginia and West Virginia will select their candidates. Interest centers chiefly in the Missouri contest, where Senator Reed is having the fight of his life to secure renomination against Breckinridge Long, former assistant secretary of state.

The principal issue in Missouri appears to be Wisconsin. Senator Reed, a democrat of the old school, was one of President Wilson's sternest critics and an ardent opponent of Mr. Wilson's pet project—the league of nations. Long was one of Wilson's most ardent supporters. The president, from the seclusion of his Washington home, has written several letters to the voters urging them to defeat Reed and send Long to the senate.

Outcome in Doubt. Advice received in Washington from Missouri are to the effect that Reed, stumping every corner of the state with a circus tent, has been conducting an uphill fight. The odds against him several months ago appeared insuperable. His qualities as a stump orator and campaigner have enabled him to make tremendous gains, it is generally admitted, and latest reports from Missouri are to the effect that the outcome is in extreme doubt. Senator Reed's colleagues in the senate, republican as well as democratic, almost to a man are pulling for his renomination. It is no secret that many republicans would like to see him re-elected.

Woman in Race.

In West Virginia Senator Sutherland is having a hard tussle for renomination with H. C. Ogden in the republican primaries. On the democratic side, Mrs. Zetta Jewell Brown, a gifted young widow and formerly a well known actress, is campaigning in lively fashion against former Congressman M. M. Neely.

Senator Swanson, one of the democratic leaders in the senate, is contesting for renomination against ex-Governor Westmoreland Davis in Virginia. As in many other states south of the Mason and Dixon line, nomination on the democratic ticket is the equivalent to election in Virginia.

Interest is also being shown in the Oklahoma primaries, where Congressman Alice Robertson is up for renomination. Miss Alice has sent word to Washington that she expects to win.

Paris Bans Fees for Use of Park Benches

Paris, July 31.—As a tribute to the shopgirl, the "midinette" of French literature, fees for the use of seats in municipally controlled parks have been abolished during the two-hour "douceur" period, from 12 to 2.

Effort is being made to obtain the same privilege for the lunching shopgirl in the nationally controlled park—the Tuileries, the Jardin des plantes and the Luxembourg.

Chicago Firms Preparing for Tramway Strike

Plans Made to Transport Thousands of Workers by Trucks and Autos; Hotels Expect Rush.

Chicago, July 31.—With general strike of surface and elevated street car men only a few hours away, active preparations were made to transport the thousands of workers to and from their homes and to insure speedy transmission of mail and merchandise. All the large institutions arranged several days ago to care for their employees by transporting them in trucks and automobiles. The telephone company will take an entire floor of one of the largest hotels and house its employees there.

Surveys have been made by all big establishments of the number of cars available, those belonging to the firms and also individual cars, and these will be requisitioned to transport their employees.

Downtown hotels have placed cots in hallways and additional beds in all rooms, to care for the thousands who will not attempt to get to and from their homes. Suburbanites who travel back and forth on steam cars will not be affected, as the railroads are putting on extra trains and running all night service.

Employees of the stockyards, numbering several thousand, are fairly well concentrated in that area and can walk to and from their work. The packing industry will not be materially hampered by the strike.

Ak Secretary Hurt Leaping to Watch Unloading Circus

Here's the reason Charley Gardner, secretary of Ak-Sar-Ben, is encumbered with a slight limp. Gardner went out to Cheyenne for the Frontier Days show with the Omaha delegation. He was slumbering peacefully in his berth in a Pullman parked in the Cheyenne yards when he was awakened by the arrival of a circus train.

"I never have seen a circus finish up a job of unloading," quoth Charley. "This is my opportunity."

Whereupon Gardner jumped out of his berth and hiked for the dressing room. But a fellow voyager had left his traveling bag protruding into the aisle and Charley's small toe came into forcible contact with it. When he returned to Omaha he learned two bones were broken. "But I saw the circus unload," quoth Gardner.

"Seniority Rights" and the Railroad Strike

To the Public: be retained in their present positions.

The public should clearly understand what is involved in the question of "seniority rights" which grows out of the present strike of the railway shop crafts unions.

Seniority is based on length of continuous service, and determines who has the right to work.

In every railway shop there is a list of men whose names appear in the order of their length of service—those oldest in point of service being at the top of the list, those newest in the service at the bottom. On most railways there are not enough places now for all the men employed and all who struck. If, therefore, the strikers should all be allowed to go back to work with seniority rights over any men now working, many of the men now at work would have to be laid off.

Furthermore, in periods when shops are not being run to their capacity, the position on the seniority list determines what men shall be kept and what men laid off. The position on the seniority list carries with it other rights and privileges, but the foregoing are the most important rights now involved.

Not only justice, but the public interest, demands that in any settlement of the strike the seniority rights of all men who are now working shall be recognized. If those who have struck against the decisions of the Labor Board and tried to interrupt transportation are favored in any settlement that may be made, the incentive of future strikes will be destroyed and the difficulty of maintaining transportation service increased. The new men in many cases left other employment with the understanding that if competent they would

Chairman Hooper of the Labor Board in a statement on July 3 said, "the men who remain in their positions and the new men who may come in will be protected by public sentiment and the full governmental powers."

Thus it will be seen the fact that all the men who are now working have claims upon the railways and the public superior to those of the strikers has been repeatedly recognized by government bodies and officials; the question now is whether their rights shall be protected or sacrificed.
