

State Epworth League Begins Annual Session

William Jennings Bryan to Speak Wednesday; Daily Radio Instruction to Feature Assembly.

Lincoln, Aug. 1.—The Nebraska Epworth League assembly began its 26th annual 10-day meeting here today with an interesting program of lectures by men and women of national prominence, and a wide variety of musical numbers in addition to the regular discussions of church work, under the leadership of C. A. Fulmer, Lincoln, president of the assembly, and L. O. Jones, Lincoln, president emeritus.

William Jennings Bryan, churchman of national prominence and former secretary of state, will address the assembly Wednesday evening on "Our World's Greatest Need." Other speakers of note and their subjects are: Sir Paul Dukes, special correspondent for the London Times and former chief of the British secret intelligence service in soviet Russia, on "Secret Service in Red Russia;" Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler of Los Angeles on her experience in Los Angeles, Australia and the Fiji Islands; Richard Yates, former governor and present Illinois congressman, on "The Five Smooth Stones From the Brook;" J. Stetson Wilson of Berkeley, Cal., on "The Supreme Christian Issue of Modern Times;" Mrs. (Little Mother) Maud Ballington Booth, famous prison reformist, on "Twenty Years of Service in Human Salvage;" Dr. Elmer E. Higley, superintendent of Indian work in the Methodist church, on "The First Americans;" and Congressman F. E. Ellsworth of Minnesota on "America's Eternal Purpose."

In order to be strictly up-to-date, this year's assembly has a daily instructional program in radio, under the direction of Prof. J. C. Jensen of Nebraska Wesleyan university. He will give two hours' instruction daily on the fundamentals of radio and the construction of the radio receiving apparatus. In the evenings there will be a half hour of "listening in" for delegates to the assembly, if the weather is favorable.

Clear Your Skin Restore Your Hair With Cuticura

Daily use of the Soap keeps the skin fresh and clear, while touches of the Ointment now and then as needed soothe and heal the first pimples, redness, roughness or scalp irritation. Cuticura Talcum is excellent for the skin.

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS
Questions concerning hygiene, sanitation and prevention of disease, submitted to Dr. Evans by readers of The Bee, will be answered personally subject to space limitations, where a stamped envelope and return address enclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individuals. Address letters in care of The Bee.

HOW TO MAKE COFFEE.

The coffee trade, having become disatisfied with the long-in-use rule-of-thumb method of making coffee, has employed Prof. Prescott of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to gather around him a group of scientists and proceed to group such light as he and his associates could throw upon the question.

They are beginning to report. The report from which this article is drawn deals with the question, "How to Make a Cup of Coffee?"

As to the water to be used, they have little to say. Their work was done in Boston, and the waters there used were such as are easily available there for the housewife.

They suggest that it might be different if the water was very hard or alkaline, or was heavily flavored by chlorine or alum or iron. The temperatures of the water when the coffee was added was very important.

They say coffee should not be boiled. When the aroma of the coffee in the making is smelled all over the house but little of it is found in the coffee cup.

The instruction is to bring the water to a boil, then to remove the pot from the fire for a few moments and after that to add the coffee.

Prolonged seeping in the hot water is not required. Two minutes of heat, short of boiling, will extract all the caffeine and oil that should be extracted.

Drip coffee is all right. So is percolated coffee—provided superheating and overseeping is guarded against. Ordinary boiled coffee is all right, provided it is not boiled.

It is true that the method of arriving at a conclusion was to submit samples of different brews to groups of people and to average or otherwise connote their opinions. The New Orleans man might not think much of the taste for coffee of the Boston man, and vice versa, but what better method is there?

The outstanding feature of this part of the advice is that in making boiled coffee at no time after the coffee is added is the water to boil. Also that too much cooking is worse than too little.

Coffee that will not clear has been cooked too much. If the mixture foams vigorously when the coffee is added, the water is too hot.

As to the material from which the coffee pot is made, they have a few words to say: Coffee is best when it has been brewed in a glass or earthen pot. If the brew comes in contact with any metal, it absorbs some taste from the metal.

The aroma of coffee is due to oils which are highly volatile. Therefore, coffee should be kept in tightly closed packages.

When coffee has lost most of its aroma, the flavor can be revived by heating, but this merely liberates some oil, hitherto rapidly lost by evaporation.

Unless roasted coffee has been properly kept, it is not possible to make a good cup of coffee from it.

Physiological studies on caffeine oil, aromatic and other ingredients of coffee are promised. Let us hope they will be comprehensive and continued long enough to parallel conditions of use.

Those Chapped Hands.
M. W. Writes: "Being always a victim of chapped cuticles, I would like to know if there is any remedy for it?"

REPLY. Why not say "skin"? That's the way we plain people talk. Why not say "skin on my hands"? Then I would have the necessary information. Chapping of the hands generally results from too little grease in the skin.

To remedy this use plenty of clean grease on your hands. Wear rubber gloves when working in water. Wear loose, warm gloves at other times. Keep your hands out of water, dirty grease, and dirt in general.

He Must Be Examined.
Mrs. M. S. writes: "My brother, who is 21, has been employed in a felt factory for more than a year. Before he started there he was husky and healthy, but since he has lost weight and is very thin—almost bony."

REPLY. By all means have your brother thoroughly examined for consumption without delay.

Difference in Twins.
G. E. writes: "Two girl babies, twins, aged 2 years 4 months, one larger than the other. The larger baby has cut her eye and stomach teeth; the smaller one has not. Both in perfect health. Have always had plenty of fruit juice and raised on cow's milk."

REPLY. Is there anything I can do to aid her in cutting her teeth? REPLY. There is nothing to do except to feed her right. You should keep her in the open and see that she gets plenty of sleep. In nearly every pair of twins there is a small one and a large one. One many teeth more slowly than the other.

money and expressed a decided longing to be back among the cows and chickens.

Pastor Tells Ak-Sar-Ben Jesters How Good They Are
Rev. P. Ott of Syracuse, Paul Jensen of Nebraska City, C. L. Kelley, secretary of the Nebraska City Chamber of Commerce; Henry Schneider, Plattsmouth, and several other out-of-town speakers told Ak-Sar-Ben how good it really is, after witnessing the 1922 capers of King Ak's court jesters at the Den Monday night.

Approximately 1,000 visitors from Otoe and Cass counties and elsewhere assembled to pay homage to King Ak and his knights. Nebraska City led the state field in attendance with 150; Plattsmouth came second with 126; Talmage, 75; Weping Water, 50; Nehawka, 50, and Syracuse, 50. Red Oak and Stanton delegations swelled the ranks of those from Iowa.

Ak-Sar-Ben's membership for the year has reached 3,888.

Farmer Boys Fined When Truck Goes into Ditch
Jack Herick and M. W. Marks, two unsophisticated farmer boys of Chalco, loaded two calves into a truck and drove to South Omaha and sold them Monday. But they didn't go straight home with the money. Monday night they were found by Officer L. M. Anderson at the entrance to Riverview park, trying to get their truck out of a ditch.

He arrested them and in South Side court they were charged with being drunk and driving recklessly. The judge fined them $12.50 each. They telephoned to the farm for the trucks.

WE DO NOT ANTICIPATE BEING ABLE TO AGAIN DUPLICATE THESE VALUES FOR WEDNESDAY ONLY 89¢

APRON AND HOUSE DRESS SECTION—SECOND FLOOR

FURS

Last August we told you that our buyer had purchased furs for an August Sale, but we refused to advise our customers to buy because we believed furs would be cheaper. If you followed prices last year you know how much less they were in December than in August.

While prices are much more moderate this year there is an accumulation of cheap furs that assures an ample supply throughout the year.

A choice skin, like real Lace or Hand-Worked Jewelry, is always rare

We are not holding the traditional August Fur Sale, but we have secured some unusual and exceptional pieces at private sale which we shall be glad to show to anyone interested. Indeed we urge upon any prospective buyer the importance and wisdom of seeing them before buying.

They are in coats, wraps, capes and neck pieces and while supreme in selection they are—

Priced Lower Than in Years
