

Mexico Protests Against Killings in Herrin Riots

Death of Two Citizens of Republic Subject of Note to State Department—Investigation Promised.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The State department has received a protest from the Mexican government against the alleged killing of two Mexican citizens and the beating up of others in connection with the massacre at Herrin, Ill. It was learned on the highest authority.

The department has acknowledged receipt of the representations and has given its assurance that the whole circumstances of the case will be thoroughly investigated. It is understood that proper representations have been made to the governor of Illinois, and when the Illinois authorities have completed their investigations a further reply will be made to the Mexican government.

The representations from the Mexican government, which are believed to have come through the Mexican embassy here, are based upon two different phases of evidence. The first is the formal acknowledgment of the governor of Illinois that two Mexicans had been killed during the disorders at Herrin, and others beaten up.

Depositions From Victims.

The second phase of evidence embraces depositions from the Resendiz brothers, Mexican subjects, who have been for some time undergoing treatment at St. Margaret hospital, Kansas City, for injuries received at the hands of a mob.

One of the Resendiz brothers received dangerous knife wounds about the head and both received bruises and lacerations from stones and clubs. In their depositions the brothers state that they set out from Chicago in company with two other Mexican subjects, whose names they do not know, in search of work. They were traveling in a way train, which proceeded very slowly, stopping at intervals for the passengers to get down and eat at various stations.

About a day and a half out of Chicago the train made the customary stop for food and the four Mexicans got down and obtained food from the station restaurant. While eating they were set upon by a mob, armed with clubs, knives and stones and were badly beaten. The Resendiz brothers managed to escape, but the other two Mexicans were left behind and were not seen afterward by them.

Big Celebration Held for Randall

Home Town of Candidate for Governor Mecca for Thousands.

Randolph, Neb., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—Randolph was the mecca tonight for thousands of people from northeast Nebraska who came to pay respects to Charles H. Randall, republican nominee for governor.

The occasion was a special celebration in honor of Mr. Randall, his home town being host to a great crowd. Two bands, a bugle corps, a male sextet and several speeches by notable men of this section of the state featured the meeting.

Mr. Randall was called on to make a short talk at the close of the program and in fitting words expressed his appreciation of the tribute paid him by his fellow citizens. Speeches also were made by O. S. Spillman of Pierce, republican nominee for attorney general, Judge A. F. Bryant of Hartington, Judge W. A. Welch of Wayne, F. P. Voser of Laurel, O. F. Robinson of Hartington and O. F. Eyrone of Walthill.

Enthusiastic support of Mr. Randall's campaign was evidenced by the large crowd, which enthused over the idea of having a home man as candidate for the highest office in the state.

School for Plumbers

Among the traveling representatives of the company in attendance are H. A. Myers of Holdrege, Roy Horney of Grand Island, H. E. Martin of University Place, E. M. Tipton of Omaha and H. A. Smith of Hastings.

Common Sense

Are You Contributing Anything to the World?

Can you look at one single thing in this world and say, "I made that, I constructed that, I invented a way to make use of some apparently useless material, and it is good?"

If you have not helped civilization to build up in usefulness or beauty, how much do you deserve of the many things you enjoy, yes need, to live?

Compensation is a fundamental law. Have you a right to go on taking without giving?

Or, possibly you are willing to build up if you can do it alone, but co-ordinate cooperation is something you have never attempted.

Would the pyramids of Egypt be here today without the co-operation of many persons at the same time?

Would any of the great and good accomplishments be monuments to man's brain triumph if co-operation had not taken things out and up from the common level?

The sooner you make up your mind to build up and not tear down so much, the sooner you will begin to live to some purpose.

Here's Looking at You! Roadster Yields Fine Stock of Gordon Gin From Cushions

York, Neb., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—A car confiscated here by Chief of Police Olson and Patrolman John Pollard Saturday night was found to contain 60 quarts of bottled in bond Canadian whisky and Gordon gin. Immediately following the arrest of Ben Wescott and Abe Dalevick, both of Columbus, occupants of the car, a throng of citizens gathered about to examine the car.

The roadster was built especially for the booze business. As the picture indicates the back rest and cushion were undermined and lined with cloth. The capacity of the car is said to be 150 bottles.

Wescott and Dalevick of Columbus have been liquor merchants in York, police say, and have disposed of large quantities of Canadian whisky and gin. It is said that they had this stock disposed of and waiting for their regular patrons to call for it.

War Veteran Killed for 'Knowing' Slayer

Sioux City, Aug. 8.—Kicked, slugged and beaten to death within 50 feet of the spot on which Harry Smith, alleged gunman, was killed a week ago Monday night, Glenn Livermore, American Legion man and war veteran, paid the penalty last night of knowing too much about "who killed Smith."

Mrs. Livermore stood by while her husband was killed. She declared her husband had intimated that the man who killed Smith was known and had left town. Police believe that the murderers of Smith feared Livermore would "squawk" and decided to remove the menace to their safety by killing him.

Claude (Slim) Shaver, who is accused of killing Livermore, surrendered to the police today.

Livermore, accompanied by his wife, started to a store last evening to get a package of cigars. As they passed 222 South Iowa street "Slim" rushed out, hurled Mrs. Livermore to one side, knocked her husband down and kicked him in the face until he was dead, Mrs. Livermore said.

Senator Kellogg Urges Northwest to Boost Canal

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 8.—(By A. P.)—"The St. Lawrence canal can be built for less than the United States government has appropriated to aid in the building of roads since I have been in the senate," declared Frank B. Kellogg, senator from Minnesota, in an address here.

Characterizing the proposed seacut project as "one of the greatest projects ever conceived by the genius of modern times," Senator Kellogg urged the people of the northwest "to do everything in their power" towards the consummation of the deep waterway.

Big Demand for Stock Predicted by Gene Melady

Veteran Livestock Commission Man Looks Forward to Ready Market for Feeder Cattle and Sheep.

Gene Melady, veteran livestock and commission man of South Omaha, predicts a bright future for the livestock business and expresses the opinion that the farmers and livestock raisers of the middle west will be on the market this year for livestock to put into their pastures to fatten up for a future market.

"From inquiries regarding the feeding of cattle, sheep and lambs," said Mr. Melady, "it looks like the corn-belt will take on more this season than in many previous years. The west reports a shortage of lambs and, as young cattle were forced upon the market last year, there is no question but that the feeding steers will not be so plentiful. Sheep and lamb feeders showed an average profit of from $2 to $5 per head the past season and cattle feeders made more money than in many years. Last year the banks held the feeder-buyers down to a very small amount of cash for purchasing feeders, on account of the stringent financial conditions, and in many cases could not finance feeders who had plenty of feed, and also put restrictions on the price, which kept a lot of experienced feeders out of the market and forced them to sell their products at probably the lowest prices in many years.

The feeder-buyers are now in better shape and will have no trouble in getting money this season, and every experienced farmer in the corn-belt realizes that better results can and will be derived by feeding his corn than by selling it. It looks like there will be five feeder-buyers for every load of feeding cattle, sheep and lambs that will be on the market this season, whereas a year ago there was one buyer for every five loads."

Why It Won't Stretch.—The ticking is made in a tufted form before the filler (see 1) is placed into it. The dotted, curved seams (see 2) on the wrong side of the ticking take up the stretch.

Eliminates 40% Strain on Tufting Twines.—By skip stitching a fullness is provided (see 3) and being drawn down and up into the filler (see 1) of mattress by (see 4) the tufting twines.

Mechanical Perfection, Durability.—The top and bottom ticks are made in duplicate, each tufting point directly opposite each other and when drawn down into the fine elastic felted filling, leaving top and bottom tickings perfectly smooth, and double the wear of any other mattress. (See 5 the patent license tag) on all genuine Never-Stretch Mattresses.
