

New York Gunmen Seeking Revenge Shoot Bystanders

Eight Men Wounded While Intended Victim With Six Holes in His Clothes Escapes Unscathed.

New York, Aug. 9.—The East Side, still quivering with excitement from gunplay in Chinatown Monday night, was stirred again yesterday when an automobile carrying four men burst into a crowd of clothing strikers, opened fire and dashed away, leaving eight men lying wounded on the street.

First reports indicated that the fray might be part of a labor war, but upon investigation the police decided the shooting occurred in connection with a bootleggers' feud and that the wounded—most of them tailors—had been dropped when they attempted to stop the car fleeing from an attempted murder just around the corner.

The story started at Second avenue and Fortieth street, where Joseph Nasserri was standing in front of his home. Nasserri, according to the police, was out on bail in connection with the shooting of Silvio Tagliani.

Suddenly a big blue car, carrying four men, appeared and stopped. Three of the new arrivals got out and began walking toward Nasserri. As the trio approached Nasserri they whipped out automatics and opened fire. It was not the gunmen's bad shooting, but Nasserri's skillful dodging that saved his life.

One shot, Nasserri had side-stepped. A hole was ripped in the shoulder of his coat. Five more shots, Nasserri had dropped to his knees. Five more holes appeared this time in the crown of his hat.

Then a volley—but by this time Nasserri had run upstairs. But the volley which had left Nasserri unharmed had taken its toll among the innocent bystanders who appear in almost every story of a shooting. Two men, identified later as strikers, dropped, seriously injured. More bullets, crashing through the window of a woman's shop, lodged in two dummies.

Bent on escape, the three gunmen ran to rejoin their comrade in the car. With grinding gears the car turned into Fifth avenue.

Ahead of it was massed 400 strikers. Some, having heard the shooting, attempted to halt the car. The gunmen deliberately reloaded.

Another volley of shots.

A gray pony hitched to a little cart belonging to a lemonade peddler reared crazily and fell to its side with a bullet in its head. To the right and left men dropped—six in addition to the two felled around the corner.

The crowd drew back for a moment. It was enough for the car to dash through and away.

RADIO

West Coast Cities Lead in Wireless

Los Angeles Has 19 Transmitting Stations; Six States Without Broadcasting.

There were 310 broadcasting stations licensed by the Department of Commerce up to June 2 to send out news, entertainment and market and crop reports. This number would have been 314, except that four stations have dropped out of the broadcasting business. These stations—one each in Illinois, California, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia—are the only ones which have stopped broadcasting since last June, according to officials of the Department of Commerce radio section; whereas new stations are being licensed at the rate of about three per day.

California takes the lead in broadcasting development, according to late figures, with 60 stations. Ohio is next with 23, Pennsylvania and New York are tied for third with 20 each, and Washington is a close fourth with 19. Illinois has 13, Missouri 12, Texas 11 and New Jersey, Kansas and Oregon follow with 10 each.

Los Angeles Leads.

Only six states and territories are without one of the modern sources of news, information and entertainment—Alaska, Delaware, Idaho, New Hampshire, Kentucky and South Carolina—although there are several states with but one station.

Los Angeles, like its progressive state, leads other cities in the number of broadcasting stations, with 19 in that city; Philadelphia is second with 7; and San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, New Orleans and Minneapolis have six each; while New York, Chicago, Washington and St. Louis have five each. It is obvious that the Pacific coast states and cities lead in this development.

Radio Circles Globe

Radio time signals sent out from the Annapolis station have been heard at the Antipodes, or half way around the world. According to C. E. Adams, official astronomer and seismologist at the Hector observatory, Wellington, New Zealand, time signals sent by the radio from the naval station at Annapolis, Md., were heard distinctly by him. Another report received by the naval observatory from Australia stated that the time signals had been heard there within a fraction of a second after their transmission, apparently coming both ways around the world.

Short Waves for Radio

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Experiments and tests through which Senator Guglielmo Marconi expects to revolutionize methods of transmitting radio messages were described in a paper written by the inventor and read at the radio congress at the Pageant of Progress today.

Chief development of recent years in radio communication has been in the use of short waves, Senator Marconi said. In this, history is repeating itself, as the earliest work in wireless was done in 1895 with short waves only a few inches in length; the inventor said. Short waves, he declared, have more "punch" than long waves, which are subject to "absorption" or "fading."

Children's Home Society to Erect $35,000 Home

Negotiations for the purchase of a lot on Fontenelle boulevard, on which to erect a $35,000 receiving home for the Nebraska Children's Home society, were completed at a meeting of the executive committee at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

The lot is 150x150 feet. The new building will be a three-story brick structure, containing a nursery, boys' dormitory, girls' hall, library, offices and bedrooms.

"We have entirely outgrown our present home—an eight-room house at 3040 Cottage Grove avenue," said Rev. R. B. Ralls superintendent.

The new site is a little north of the Old People's home.

Attorneys Urge End to Pistols as Crime Brake

Cheaper Justice for Poor Also Sought by Bar Association Now in Session.

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—Recommendation that the manufacture and sale of revolvers be forbidden will be made to the annual convention of the American Bar association, which opened here today, by the committee which has been studying the increase in crime.

This committee, after an exhaustive investigation of the subject, will report tomorrow night, and its report stands out as one of the most important of the entire convention. The report of the committee on promotion of American ideals to be made tomorrow will also be an important document. Another important question is "Reforms in Federal Procedure." Chief Justice Taft will deliver an address on this subject tomorrow.

The convention, with 2,000 delegates present, was welcomed today by Governor William D. Stephens of California. Following routine reports and election of new members, President Cornelius D. Severance delivered his presidential address.

Joint Session Held.

This afternoon a joint session was held with the California Bar association. Chief Justice Lucien of the California supreme court spoke on the "Development of Water Power in the West" and Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas spoke on the "Kansas Industrial Court."

This evening Lord Shaw, lord of appeals in ordinary of Great Britain, representing the British bar, and Henry Aubepin of Paris, representing the French bar, were to be the principal speakers, a reception following their addresses.

"Ninety five per cent of the crimes and violence committed in the United States have been done with the pistol," said Wade Ellis, first assistant attorney general under Roosevelt and a prominent Washington (D. C.) attorney, discussing the report to be made by the committee on law enforcement, which also includes among its number former Governor Charles Whitman of New York.

"Crimes of violence have increased from 450 to 500 per cent in the last seven or eight years. The rifle or shotgun can be used as a household weapon of protection. The chief objection to the pistol is its ease of concealment."

"We are also going to recommend the abolition of all technicalities in indictments, to the end that there may be sure and speedy trial of criminals. We are going to discuss something of the manifold sentiment that coddles criminals at the expense of the safety of society."

"We are going to recommend the establishment of small claims courts where justice may be cheapened for the poorer class of people."

Iowa Slayer of Grocer

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 9.—William Olander, sentenced to hang Friday for the murder of Berthold Halfpapp of Fort Dodge, grocer, was granted a reprieve until September 8 by Governor N. E. Kendall today. The reprieve was granted pending final disposition of the writ of error to the United States supreme court by Olander's attorneys.

Higher Prices Paid for Cattle Ordered Killed

Department of Agriculture Aids Farmers in Getting Fair Returns for Tuberculin Reactors.

BY GEORGE AUTHIER.

Washington, Aug. 9.—(Special Telegram)—The Department of Agriculture announced today it has obtained better prices for the owners of cattle which are slaughtered after having reacted to the tuberculin test. Heretofore, it has been the custom when a "reactor" was on the market for the packers to bid it in for a song, the owner standing the loss. In many cases the carcass, after having been inspected, was found fit for beef purposes and as good as any other beef. In many cases, the "reactor" will have, for example, only a few lesions in the jaw, and the food portion of the carcass is untouched.

There has been co-operation by the Department of Agriculture through the bureau of animal industry and the stockyards administration. During the past year, the matter has been taken up with packing concerns, commission men and organizations interested in the marketing of livestock. The department said today that as a result much better prices are now being paid.

"Carcasses of reactors," the department statement said, "that have been passed by the federal inspectors are worth as much and are as wholesome as any other carcasses. There is no warrant for price discrimination against them. Many of the leading packers at the big markets and a large number of the smaller concerns on many markets now see the justice of this view with the result that reactors are now selling at more nearly fair prices."

Figures on prices compiled by the department show that for 1921-22 the increases in prices have been considerable and in a few instances reaching as much as 100 per cent. In Kansas the average price paid for the cattle rose from $16.52 to $24.26; in Minnesota from $17.74 to $24.48; in Missouri from $15.50 to $21.93; in Wisconsin from $16.09 to $26.25. In 18 states, including the livestock and dairy states of the middle west and a number of eastern states, the average price paid increased about $3 a head. The department expects still better prices.
