Federal Operation of Anthracite Mines and Railroads Discussed at White House Conference.

Cummins Plans Action

Washington, Aug. 25.—(By A. P.)—Federal operation of anthracite coal mines and some of the railroads was considered at a White House conference tonight between President Harding and Chairman Cummins of the senate interstate commerce committee and Attorney General Daugherty.

Senator Cummins said after the conference that the anthracite operators and miners would be given one more opportunity to settle their differences.

Senator Cummins expressed confidence that the legislation for both purposes could be rushed through congress without delay.

Before tonight's conference the ground work had been laid through administration overtures for a further meeting between the parties to the anthracite dispute.

While no detailed explanation was given as to how the government would operate anthracite mines in the event of their seizure, it was indicated that the first step would be to close the mines to return to work.

Woman's Editorial Wins First Prize in Contest

Gothenburg Housewife Writes on "Happiness"—Three Men Take Second and Third Places—Three Winning Editorials Entered in Grand Prize Contest.

A woman won first prize in The Omaha Bee's amateur editorial-writing contest. Two men won the second and third prizes. Here they are: First Prize, $25—Mrs. Jack Purcell, housewife, Gothenburg, Neb.

Second Prize, $15—Charles A. Hall, advertising, Omaha. Third Prize, $10—Clifford B. Scott, attorney, O'Neill, Neb.

These three winning editorials were carefully selected from more than 700 submitted, four judges working many hours on the big task.

The three will be entered with winners in similar contests conducted by 20 other Nebraska newspapers. From these the three best will be picked and to them will be awarded the grand prizes offered by The Omaha Bee, $100, $50 and $25.

The writers of these winners will be guests of honor at a banquet to be given by The Omaha Bee to the Nebraska Press association the evening of September 1.

Here are the winning editorials in The Omaha Bee contest: THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS. (First Prize.)

That is a quaint, yet wise phrase in our constitution, "The pursuit of happiness." No one can give it; we must seek it for ourselves.

Most of us want too much for too little. Those who are successful say there is a lot of opportunity, but not enough hard work, and that since men and women had joys like ours; they toiled in mutual service as we do; they loved as we love, had as many cares, sorrowed over sickness, death, disappointment, such like ours. The weak were crushed and all the best of them found help in God.

There is an education that adds to our mental power that will give skill to willing fingers to unlock the secrets of dead and foreign races. But there is a better education in moral power that helps us to find the sweetness of life and to refuse the gain and bitterness that shows us the best side of our neighbors and friends; that sheds a light on duty so that we do not see how it can be hard; that finds love everywhere, and rejoices, and looks for compensation when our best possessions are gone.

That knowledge is within our reach. HARD WORK. (Second Prize.) The elevator called "Opportunity" has a handle in it labeled "Hard Work." Any one can stand in the elevator, but it takes a good man to turn the handle so that the elevator will rise to the top floor.

Most of us want too much for too little. Those who are successful say there is a lot of opportunity, but not enough hard work, and that since men and women had joys like ours; they toiled in mutual service as we do; they loved as we love, had as many cares, sorrowed over sickness, death, disappointment, such like ours. The weak were crushed and all the best of them found help in God.

3 Fugitives After the Little Disagreement Is Settled

One Bandit May Die

Rapid City, S. D., Aug. 25.—Three of the four convicts, who escaped from the South Dakota penitentiary at Rapid City, Aug. 17, were captured near Creighton, in this county, late today and the fourth is surrounded in a cornfield. Two of the bandits were shot and wounded, one probably fatally.

Word of the capture was received by telephone from Creighton and verified by telegram from the band leader, who was shot in the neck while the wild ride of the convicts across the state was ended when Sheriff Wilson of Haakon county, pursuing them, shot the driver of the convict's car, sending it into the ditch.

Murdo, S. D., Aug. 25.—Posses recruited from all the towns in the southwestern part of the state late today were hot on the trail of four escaped convicts who shot three men from Murdo when they overtook the convicts between here and Stamford early today.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Aug. 25.—Brought to bay by a pursuing posse the four convicts, who escaped from the penitentiary here August 17, staged a gun fight with their pursuers at 4 a. m. today between Stamford and Murdo, S. D., wounded two county officials and escaped in an automobile they stole from one of them.

M. L. Parish, state's attorney of Jones county, was mortally wounded, according to accounts of the fight received here, and Sheriff J. C. Babcock was less seriously wounded. The convicts seized Parish's automobile and were reported heading southwest toward the Bad Lands.

At 7 a. m. Kadoka, S. D., reported that the convicts had sped through that town in the automobile stolen from Parish. The men had been pursued from Murdo by a posse hastily organized when it was learned they had recrossed the Missouri river into South Dakota from Nebraska and were heading toward the Bad Lands.

Reports to the penitentiary here show the men are heavily armed and their clash with the Jones county authorities bore out the prison officials' predictions that they would not surrender without a fight.

Leave Victims on Road. Norfolk, Neb., Aug. 25.—A dispatch from White River, S. D., says that after shooting the sheriff, state's attorney and Charles Robertson, who accompanied them in the chase, the convicts left the wounded men lying by the side of the road and sped away in the sheriff's car, leaving their own car locked and unfit for use.

The convicts started north, but turned back to Kadoka, where three of the men left the car and the fourth drove it to an oil station where he filled the tank with gasoline. He then picked up his companions and started north to Philip. There they turned south and were last seen at Cedar Pass, north of Interior. It is believed that they are headed through the Bad Lands for the Pine Ridge reservation.

The wounded men were taken to Stamford.

"Balance of Power" Plan Is Adopted—Seven Democrats and Three Republicans Endorsed.

Wray Is Out of Race

Grand Island, Neb., Aug. 25.—(By A. P.)—With the co-operation and approval of the labor group, the Nonpartisan league of Nebraska, in convention here today, adopted the "balance of power" plan and endorsed a complete ticket for the November elections.

R. B. Howell, republican, was given the league's endorsement for election as United States senator and Charles W. Bryan, democrat, was favored as the league's choice for governor.

The league endorsed for the senate and state offices three republicans, seven democrats, three progressives and one nonpolitical candidate.

A. C. Townley, national organizer for the league, was cheered vigorously when he congratulated the convention on its decision to adopt the "balance of power" plan.

Resolutions adopted by the convention expressed 100 per cent sympathy for the striking railway employees in their efforts to obtain fair wages and better working conditions, and favored government ownership and operation of railroads and mines "to put an end forever to the present chaotic conditions of industry."

Delegate Hagerman of Lincoln drew an ovation when he told the league that 3,400 laborers whom he represented would vote solidly with the league in November.

Wray Quits Race. Judge Arthur Wray, progressive party candidate for United States senator, was loudly cheered when he closed an address to the convention with his own endorsement of Mr. Howell for senator and voiced his withdrawal from the race by saying that he must decline to let personal considerations stand in the way of the success of progressive action.

At a meeting of the progressive party committee late tonight, endorsement of the nonpartisan league action was expected, despite the action of the committee in opposing earlier in the day, such endorsement and the decision to fill the progressive party ticket.

Ticket Endorsed. One Rail Employee Shot and Robbed; Another Beaten

Clerk Doing Strike Duty Wounded Near Home—Alleged Attacker Nabbed at Labor Temple.

Burton Bridges, 21, 2616 Merideth avenue, a clerk in the Union Pacific shops, was shot and robbed by a strike striker, within a block of his home last night.

Bridges had been taken from his usual employment in Omaha and sent to Council Bluffs to help meet the strike emergency in the car yards and houses there.

It was shortly after 8 last night that Bridges alighted from an Ames avenue street car at Twenty-sixth street and walking north to Merideth street, he was struck from behind and struck him.

"He cried to me," Bridges told police, "that I was 'scabbing' on them in Council Bluffs, and that the others will get the same as you are getting."

Hurl Epithets. "He was striking me while I lay on the sidewalk and I reached for the pistol I was carrying. He wrestled it from me and fired it at me. Then he took $50 from my pockets and ran."

Bridges' wound is in the right shoulder and is not considered serious. He was picked up by neighbors who heard the shot and carried to his home.

The attack on Bridges followed closely one made on George W. Hilliard, 25, 1818 Webster street, who was struck down within 10 feet of his home by a trio of men, one of whom is alleged to be Jesse Temple, a striker, arrested at Labor Temple a few minutes after the attack by Emergency Officer Sinclair.

South has admitted being one of Hilliard's assailants, police declare. He asserts the attack was the result of Hilliard cursing him.

Hilliard's face was badly bruised and his head cut. Hilliard told police he was slugged from behind as he was walking toward his home from work. He struggled to his feet, he said, and tried to defend himself, but was unsuccessful. The men knocked him down again, he said, and then ran. When he recovered from the daze he made his way to the police station.

Denver Gang Is Held on Charge of Swindling

33 Persons Declared to Have Fleeed Victims Throughout U. S. Rounded Up in Denver Raid.

Denver, Aug. 25.—Using the basement of a church in which to hold their prisoners in order that their raid might not be tipped off while it progressed, deputies of the district attorney and Colorado state rangers early today completed the round up and arrest of 33 persons alleged to have conducted confidence operations in Colorado, Florida, Cuba and other tourist centers.

Under a technical charge of conspiracy to defraud the prisoners, ranging in ages from 20 to 73 years, are accused by the authorities of having fleeced persons throughout the United States of sums aggregating $1,500,000.

The officers in their raid seized $100,000 in cash, several all kinds of telegraph apparatus and paraphernalia of a stock exchange by means of which District Attorney Philip Van Cise charges the alleged ring relieved patrons of summer resorts of their money in sums ranging from $100 to $1,000.

Intended Victim Responsible. District Attorney Vance announced information that led to the arrest of the gang was supplied by J. Frank Norfleet of Hale Center, Tex., who has been picked as a victim. Norfleet, according to Vance is the man who unmasked the operations of the so-called Joe Purey gang of confidence men.

"They picked the wrong bird for a plucking when they picked Norfleet," declared Vance. "They tried to work a $50,000 swindle on the man who caught Joe Purey."

Confederates of those who operated here, Attorney Vance alleged, fleeced a Texan of $45,000 four years ago.

Victims are said to have been solicited in hotels, bathing beaches and amusement parks, particularly in Colorado, Florida and Cuba, to play the market on grains, oil stocks and stocks and bonds, being permitted to win their initial speculations and then being defrauded out of heavier amounts subsequently.

The raid followed investigations of more than a year in which authorities in other cities aided, Denver police stated.

Taken From Denver. Later the confidence ring suspects were taken to Brighton and Golden, Colo., jails to prevent their communication with inmates of the Denver jails.

Lou Blonger, 73, of Denver, was said by Attorney Vance to have been the "president" of the alleged bogus stock exchange operators.

Dry Agents Aghast at Big Demand for Wine Grape Cars

Growers Ask I. C. C. for 20,000 Refrigerator Units for Transportation of Product to East.

Washington, Aug. 25.—(Special Telegram.)—California fruit growers added to the dispute over the enforcement of the Volstead act today by asking the Interstate Commerce commission for an allocation of 20,000 refrigerator cars for the shipment of "wine grapes" to the eastern coast section.

Prohibition enforcement officers were aghast when they heard the news. This requested allocation is in addition to the refrigerator cars asked for to transport regular fruits, including table grapes.

Demand Exceeds Supply. Wine grape growers are said to be receiving rentals of $600 an acre for their vineyards and the demand for wine grapes exceeds the supply. The Interstate Commerce commission is unable to furnish the cars and will endeavor to transport the grapes in ventilated freight cars.

The shortage of refrigerator cars is one of the outstanding features of the car service situation. Eighteen thousand of them have been built by the state, but the increased production of fruit and vegetables has kept ahead of the car supply.

Caused by Dry Law. The extra demand for cars for the transportation of wine grapes has disturbed the calculations of the commission. The industry has grown up within the past two years, coincident with the enactment of the Volstead law.

Officials of the Interstate Commerce commission said today that, while there will undoubtedly be a car shortage for the transportation of farm crops, even if the strike ends today or tomorrow, they will endeavor to supply cars to have the crops shipped from the farm to the primary market.

Humor Develops in Train Walkout

"White Collar" Switching Crew Damages U. P. Cars at Grand Island.

Grand Island, Neb., Aug. 25.—(Special Telegram.)—A humorous side developed in the 18-hour strike of switchmen, engineers and firemen here Thursday. The "white collar" employees, former craftsmen gone up into official positions, attempted to do some switching. Six trains of freight were in the yards.

District Foreman Norton himself undertook to shunt some cars. Others from the office took hold, but within a few hours a coach used on the Stromberg branch had the entire top ripped off and while an Overland train was standing in the passenger yards it was roughly used and its observation car bumped into with some property casualties.

"But you bungled, too," the "white collars" replied to the blue jeans, for while in the hands of the regular division crew a car of California cantaloupes was squeezed so tightly that it in its enfeebled condition it literally broke in two and spilled the fruit.

At midnight, when Manager Jeffers and Superintendent Anderson straightened out the strike situation there was a movement of freight not seen since the war.

Manager Jeffers made the run from Cheyenne to Grand Island Thursday in 11 hours on hearing of the strike.

He has blue eyes, chestnut brown hair and speaks French like a native Frenchman. He now is supposed to be hiding in one of the fashionable suburbs of Paris, awaiting the chance to execute his mission.
