Thirty-Two Golfers Qualify for Championship Flight in State Tourney

Blaine Young and Shepard Tie for Low

Harry Donovan Has Trouble on 15th and Turns in Card of 154 for Second Best Score.

Some time between 8 and 9 o'clock this morning 32 golfers, all who aspire to be the king of Nebraska golfdom, will tee off in the first round of the championship flight of the 18th annual Nebraska State Golf association title tournament, now in the process of elimination at the Omaha Field club.

The second lap of the qualifying round was completed yesterday. Thirty-two of the 208 starters in the tournament succeeded in nosing in ahead of the remaining 176 and therefore qualified in the championship flight. A score of 170 was good for the first round of the main competition.

Young and Shepard Tie.

Blaine Young, state champion and Field club golfer, and Wally Shepard, the latter of the Country club, tied for low score honors for the two days of qualifying play, with a total of 153.

The champion shot the second 18 holes of the qualifying play in 74 yesterday, one stroke above par, while Shepard played the course in 78. Monday Young turned in a card of 79 and Wally a 75.

Harry Donovan, municipal golfer, who broke into the spotlight yesterday with a 75 for his first day's work, didn't do so good yesterday on his second trial. The Fontenelle club representative covered the second 18 holes in 79, giving him a total of 154 for his qualifying score.

Hughes Takes a 154.

Jack Hughes, former champion and another Field club entry, hung up a total of 154 for his two days' play when he took a 76 Monday and a 79 yesterday.

Gene Slattery, the champion of Lincoln and the one out-state golfer who was considered dangerous in the tourney, just managed to get in under the wire. Slattery made an 82 Monday and an 85 yesterday for his total of 167.

Young's cards Follows:

Out ....456 635 444—40
In .....533 443 444—34—74

Jack Hughes, another Field club golfer and former state title holder, finished his qualifying round this morning in 79 strokes, three over his total of yesterday's play. Hughes turned the first nine in 39, three above par figures, and finished the final nine in 40, also three over par.

Hughes' card follows:

Out ..... 5 5 5 4 4 4 5 3 4—39
In ..... 5 4 2 5 4 5 4 5 5—40—79

Frank Massara, Fontenelle, finished his 36-hole qualifying round in 160. His 81 of Monday and his 79 today gave him his qualifying score.

Harold Parmer, champion golfer of Central High and representing Fontenelle, turned in an 84 today and an 83 yesterday for a total of 167, a qualifying score.

Judging from the size of the scores turned in yesterday, a pair of 85s will qualify for the championship flight.

Safe or Out

Q. Runner on second. Ball is hit to left field and relayed to third baseman. Latter walks over to pitcher and everyone thinks he gives the pitcher the ball, but suddenly he runs over to third and touches the runner out. Umpire did not see the play and would not give it. Would he have been out if the umpire had seen it?

A. It would have depended on what position the pitcher took. Under certain conditions it would have been a hidden ball.

Q. Batter hit a long ball. Fielder threw it home. Catcher got the ball and runner turned back to third. Catcher threw the ball to third and runner went home. Would you call that a home run?

A. No.

Q. Has the bench manager any right to signal the captain of the team what to do? Can he signal him to remove a player from the game?

A. He can.
