

Convention Big Success, Assert State Editors

Guests' Breakfast at Fontenelle Last Feature of Meeting—Press Legislation Discussed.

What President J. P. O'Furey of the Nebraska Press association characterized as "the most delightful and successful convention ever held by the association" came to a close Saturday.

A record breaking crowd of the World-Herald at the Fontenelle Thursday night and the banquet given by The Omaha Bee at the Renaissance room Friday night, which was attended by a record breaking crowd of editors from Nebraska and western Iowa, were big factors in making the convention a glowing success, President O'Furey said.

Legislation Discussed. Tentative plans for action in getting certain laws unfavorable to the newspaper business amended, and possibly other laws enacted, were discussed by the legislative committee of the association.

375 at Banquet. Higher standards in journalism and a new spirit of good fellowship among newspaper folk, no matter what their political convictions or private differences—these ideals and sentiments found expression, in fact permeated the atmosphere Friday at a dinner given by The Omaha Bee to 375 visiting members of the Nebraska Press association and their families.

Presentations of cash prizes to six winners in an editorial writing contest conducted by The Omaha Bee and 17 co-operating state newspapers, was a feature of the banquet.

Shows Women Can Write. "The sincerity, earnestness and professional merit of these editorials reflect the strength and beauty of Nebraska life," was the comment of B. Brewer, general manager of The Omaha Bee, in making the awards.

He announced the contest may be made an annual institution and further urged the editors present to direct their efforts toward establishing a chair of journalism in the University of Nebraska.

Another type of contest was announced by the state president, J. P. O'Furey of Hartington. It is in three sections—for the best front-page layout, the best editorial by a country editor and for the newspaper performing the greatest community service.

Governor Speaks. A speech by Governor S. R. McKelvie on "Advertising Nebraska" and five-minute talks by W. R. Watson of the World-Herald; O. Buck, Harvard, secretary of the state press association; Emerson Purcell, Broken Bow; Frank Edgcombe, Geneva; Mrs. Marie Weekes, Norfolk; Edgar Howard, Columbus; Clark Perkins, Beatrice; J. S. Kroh, Keith county; J. G. Alden, York, and Will Maupin of Gering were high points on the program.

Walter Head, home just a few hours from a trip to Europe, extended greetings of the Chamber of Commerce. He gave a bird's eye view of the European situation, as he saw it, and sounded an optimistic note for America's present and future as compared to Europe.

"We ought to be grateful we're Americans and living in America, even if we have a few slight unpleasantnesses like the strikes," he said. "These national troubles pale into insignificance when compared to impending war in Europe and the demoralization of its people by depreciating currency values and fluctuating money standards."

Mayor Dahlman extended a well-

2 Bandits Steal Car From Son of City Councilman

Highwaymen Force Frank Hummel Out of Machine and Drive Away—Suspects Captured.

How two armed bandits robbed Frank Hummel, 15, son of J. D. Hummel, park commissioner, of his motor car at Royal, Neb., Thursday, became known Saturday when Hummel and his son left for Clearwater, Neb., to view two suspects under arrest there.

Frank Hummel drove to Royal with his mother and an aunt and they were visiting about five miles from the town. Accompanied by Joe and Robert Herring, friends, Frank drove to Royal for supplies.

On the return trip they met two men who appeared to be farm hands, and when the men signaled them to a stop and asked for a ride they were taken in. After riding a mile and a half one of the men pointed a revolver at Frank's head.

"You kids get out of here now," the bandit commanded, giving Hummel a shove.

When the thieves started the car, Frank ran after it and held to its rear end until the speed of the machine made his pursuit dangerous, so he let go and turned several somersaults before regaining his footing.

Hurrying to a farm house, Frank gave an alarm and a posse was formed, but it failed to obtain a

Two Killed When Auto Goes Over 50-Foot Bank

Sioux City, Ia., Sept. 2.—T. A. Johnson, manager of the Sioux City branch of the Guardian Life Insurance company, and M. Milner, who was employed by Johnson, were killed yesterday afternoon when an automobile in which they were riding plunged over a 50-foot embankment into a creek about five miles north of the city.

The bodies were discovered by John Kimball, a farmer. Noticing that automobile tracks left the road near the creek, Kimball investigated. He discovered the car imbedded in the mud at the bottom of the draw. Both of the men were pinned beneath the wreckage and were dead when found.

Candidates Must File Nomination Acceptance. Lincoln, Sept. 2.—Secretary of State Amshery made a ruling yesterday that candidates for state offices must file an acceptance of nomination after the primary election. If they fail, he said, a certificate of nomination will be withheld, and their names will not be certified to county clerks among those entitled to places on the November ballot.

Secretary Amshery said it will be necessary to examine the original county returns before deciding whether Charles H. Randall, republican nominee for governor, or Charles W. Bryan, democratic nominee for that office, is entitled to the prohibition nomination. Both received 600 votes.

Gompers' Threat of General Strike Regarded Gesture

Washington Believes Federation Head Will Not Attempt to Influence Walkout in Protest to Injunction.

By GEORGE F. AUTHIER. Washington Correspondent Omaha Bee. Washington, Sept. 2.—(Special Telegram.)—The threat made last night by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to exert his influence to bring about a general strike in protest against the use of the injunction sought by Attorney General Daugherty against the striking railway shopmen, is regarded here as a gesture which will not eventuate in action.

There is no attempt to minimize the seriousness of the gesture of this character which in the present inflamed state of the public mind. It is not believed, however, that the executive council of the American Federation of Labor would attempt to engineer a general strike. The saner leaders of organized labor realize they are dealing with a public which is usually inert but, when once aroused, is irresistible. There are approximately 4,000,000 men belonging to the American Federation of Labor, and possibly another million of union men not so affiliated, including radical organizations like the I. W. W., which is assumed to have a membership of 100,000. While this is a splendid show-
