

Drop of Blood May Settle Dispute in Marital Row

Prof. Tiernan Arranges for Test to Prove Paternity of Child Involved in Squabble.

Omaha Bee Local Wire.
South Bend, Ind., Sept. 24.—Not a "pound of flesh" but a drop of blood may become the pivotal point in the Tiernan-Poulin paternity case, which Monday begins its second week of hearing before City Judge Chester Duomb.

Shylock demanded that he be given his pound of flesh. Prof. John P. Tiernan asks that he be permitted to offer a drop of his own blood, in order to prove scientifically that he is not the father of his wife's third child, whose fatherhood Mrs. August H. Tiernan charges to Harry Poulin.

Professor Tiernan said that he was going to Chicago Wednesday to confer with Dr. Albert Abrams, San Francisco scientist, whose evidence in a case involving the identification of children through similarity of blood corpuscles has obtained a legal standing in California.

Commenting upon the statement of counsel for the defense, that "we'd like to see anybody get a drop of Harry Poulin's blood unless they assaulted him," Professor Tiernan said:

"It will probably be impossible to compel Mr. Poulin to submit to a blood test. But I am making arrangements to have a test made of my blood and the baby's. The result will show whether I am the father of the child."

"I wired Dr. Abrams about this case several weeks ago and he replied that he would confer with me Wednesday in Chicago. My conference is in preparation for the higher court trial and in all probability will not affect this preliminary hearing."

Prosecutor Floyd O. Jellison said that the state's case is sufficiently strong legally to make any consideration of a blood test for paternity entirely unnecessary.

Harry Poulin declares himself more than ever ready to take the stand Monday morning and refute "absolutely" the testimony of Mrs. Tiernan.

Anxious to Explain.
Mr. Poulin is especially anxious to "explain this thing now," he said, because of the physical collapse two members of his family have already suffered as a result of the trial.

Mrs. Elizabeth Seifrecht, sister of Mrs. Poulin, is still confined to her bed, following her breakdown Saturday morning on the way to court to testify for her brother-in-law.

Eleazar Poulin, father of the defendant and semi-invalid for the past year, collapsed early Sunday morning and his family was summoned to his bedside. He rallied later and is now declared out of danger.

"My father," said Harry Poulin, "is very old and has been confined to his house for over a year. This is the only thing that kept him from coming to court to testify for me."

"But the strain of the trial was too much for him, even though he stayed at home, and he went to pieces. For his sake, as well as my own, I am anxious to take the stand."

Anti-Soviet Forces Clash With Red Troops

Vladivostok, Sept. 24.—Fighting between the soviet forces and troops of the white, or Vladivostok anti-soviet government, began today near Spassk, a town about 100 miles north of Vladivostok on the Ussuri railroad, near Lake Hanka. Soviet airplanes bombed Spassk.

The population of Spassk is fleeing. Three airplanes attached to the white forces are active in opposing the soviet aviators who, besides dropping bombs, dropped copies of a proclamation declaring that if the white soldiers did not cease their opposition and join the reds by October 15 they would be punished.

It has been expected that fighting between the soviet and anti-soviet forces would follow the withdrawal of Japanese troops from eastern Siberia.

Alleged Slayer of Policeman at Sioux Falls Captured

Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—Evidence secured by shrewd and diligent work on the part of the police shows that one of the seven men now in custody, is the man who last night shot and wounded Night Capt. Pike so seriously that he died soon after being taken to a hospital. The man whom the authorities expect to convict of slaying Night Capt. Pike is John Goch. Evidence secured also connects many of the seven men with the recent robbery of a bank at Willow Lakes and the robbery of a store at Ellis, near Sioux Falls.

American Firm Gains Control of Rich Oil Field

Barnsdall Corporation Gets Privileges in Balakhan District Through Contract With Russians.

Moscow, Sept. 24.—One of the world's richest oil fields passes into the hands of America for exploitation, according to an agreement approved by the council of defense, of which Premier Lenine is chairman. This action, closely following the Czarist gold mine concession, again emphasizes that Russia is settling down to old-fashioned business methods. Moreover, the American deal, it is believed, will bring big political results, a soviet organ declaring it is the "first swallow of Russo-American peace."

The agreement names the Barnsdall corporation, Henry Mason Day, president, as concessionary contractors in the Balakhan oil fields for 15 years, with the privilege of renewal. Five hundred and twenty-five acres are assigned, with the privilege of exploiting thousands more. Four test wells are yielding 3,000 barrels daily. Mr. Day, with Philip Chabrun, the eastern representative of the Barnsdall firm, have a double contract for drilling and operating in proven sections of the Baku fields. They are full guarantees. They employ Russian skilled labor and American unskilled labor. No soviet nor workers council have any say in the operation.

"We obtain complete exemption from taxation and export and import tolls," said Mr. Day, "and therefore our profit is approximately 50 per cent on the raw product. The zone of our lands comprises the state's richest fields."

Mrs. D. M. Farrand, 617 South Nineteenth street, who was with Scott, suffered severe lacerations of the head and painful body bruises. She was taken to the Methodist hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Harold, 2907 North Sixteenth street, who were riding with Scott, also escaped without injuries.

The machine into which Scott crashed was owned by J. W. Rathiff, 8513 North Twenty-third street. The services of his wife and three children following the collision were heard for more than a block. All escaped without injuries.

Both cars were badly wrecked.

Business Holds Up Well During Month of August

Washington, Sept. 24.—Figures so far received by the Department of Commerce indicate that there was no significant recession in business activity during the month of August, in spite of the disturbance caused by the coal and railroad labor difficulties. There was a marked decline in the production of iron and steel, largely due, no doubt, to fuel shortage. The output of the steel corporation continued to increase, indicating no apparent letup in the demand for these products.

The practical assurance of good crops has done much to keep business at its high level during the recent trying months.

Marriage Laws of Episcopalians Made More Rigid

Union of Divorced Persons Forbidden Under New Rules—Decline to Enter Federal Council.

Omaha Bee Local Wire.
Portland, Ore., Sept. 24.—After making it unlawful for divorced persons who are members of the Episcopal church to marry, whether by an Episcopal clergyman, the civil or by a clergyman of any other church, approving the ordination of Congregational clergymen by Episcopal bishops while allowing the ministers to continue in the Congregational church, declining to enter fully the federal council of the churches of Christ in America, although making a nearer approach to the federal council, and after defeating four different measures to give women a legal standing in the councils of the church, the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church which has been in session here since September 6, adjourned to meet in 1925 in New Orleans.

The amendment to the canon of marriage and divorce which was passed late Friday evening had been previously passed by the house of bishops so that it is in effect at once.

One of Victims of Plane Wreck Was "Stowaway"

Preparations Made for Investigation Into Cause of Death of Six Men at Mitchell Field.

Minneapolis, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Preparations were under way today for an army board inquiry into the crash of a Martin bomber plane which killed six army men at Mitchell field Saturday night, at the conclusion of the mimic air attack on the land forces at the cantonment. Maj. Weaver, commanding the field, will appoint a board of army officers Monday to hold an inquiry into the crash, the cause of which, it was said, probably never would be known.

One of the six victims, it was reported unofficially at the field, was a "stowaway." Those killed were: Lieut. Raymond E. Davis, regular army pilot of Langley field, Va. First Sgt. Thomas Benfield, Chicago. Corp. David H. Stevens, New York. First-Class Private Edward Kane, no home address. Private Henry J. Nichols, Carr Hill, Tex. Private Irving Whitney, Ashburnham, Mass.

All but Lieut. Davis were stationed at Mitchell field.

Whitney, it was unofficially reported at the field, was a stowaway. Unofficial checkup of post assignments of the victims of the tragedy failed to show that he had been assigned as one of the men to man the bomber in its single turn of the field.

Beyond Searchlights.
The point most often stressed by army officers in discussing the tragedy is that the bomber was beyond the field of powerful searchlights, which were used by the "blue," or defensive forces in the maneuvers. It was at first believed that Davis had become blinded by the brilliancy of the shaft of light which criss-crossed the dark skies.

Officers also disbelieved that the purple land mist which drifted down Long Island had in any way confused Davis, who was recognized as one of the best fliers of bombing planes in the air service.

"Just another of those air tragedies which probably never will be explained," Maj. Weaver said in his brief official announcement of the accident.

Photography is expected to play a large part in the inquiries to be conducted into the accident. Men of the 14th photographic section, headquarters of which is at Mitchell field, were on the scene and had been making night pictures of the maneuvers for records at Washington. A picture was made, it was said, of the bomber a moment before it crashed.

Souvenir Hunters on Hand.
Photographs also were taken of the wrecked plane after the crash, before the wreckage was cleared away. Scores of persons, however, hunting for souvenirs who flocked to the field today, dug parts of the plane out of the ground.

Explaining the application of the term "stowaway" to Private Whitney, it was said that there are any number of privates and noncommissioned officers stationed at the flying field who have never had time in the air. Many of these men entered the service in the belief that flying would become an everyday occurrence in their lives. When they found, instead, that their lives were filled from reveille to taps with an endless round of humdrum details which seldom takes them inside an airplane hangar, no opportunity is lost of "going up." Whitney, it is believed, hopped into the plane in the last minute during the excitement of taking off.

Funeral services will be held Monday at Mitchell field for the six victims, after which their bodies will be sent to their homes.

THE SILENT DRAMA

Today's Attractions.
Rialto—Mae Murray in "Broadway Rose."
Strand—"Manslaughter."
World—"The Wall Flower."
Moon—"The New Moon."
Empress—"Chivalrous Charley."
Sun—"Smudge."
Muse—"The Beauty Shop."

Theater row in Omaha this week is aglow with high-class entertainment in cinema art, as is attested to by Thomas Meighan's starring vehicle, "Manslaughter," at the Strand; "The Wall Flower," at the World; Mae Murray in "Broadway Rose," at the Rialto, and Charles Ray in "Smudge," at the Sun theater.

The spectacular romance of a darling daughter of luxury and the man, who loving her, sent her to prison, is unrolled in "Manslaughter." The story is set against the bacchanalian days of old Rome in comparison to the heyday of thrills and excitement in the modern world.

"Broadway Rose" is sure to appeal to the masses of movie fans. It tells a romantic story of a young danseuse's infatuation and love for a scion of a wealthy family. The scenes in the picture are lavish and represent the playgrounds of the idle rich.

"Pathos and comedy predominate in "The Wall Flower," now current at the World theater. The pathos of the plain girl who always "sits out" dances, and whose sorrows almost turn into tragedy, is excellently portrayed by Colleen Moore.

Cast as the editor of one of the two daily newspapers in a small California town, Charles Ray in "Smudge" at the Sun theater this week, gives one of the best performances in his career. A kidnapping is one of the thrilling incidents of the plot. Of course there is an appealing romance in the story between Ray and Oro Carew.

Norma Talmadge took the screen yesterday at the Moon theater in "The New Moon," a revival of one of her popular plays. The story is set in Russia.

"Chivalrous Charley," featuring Eugene O'Brien at the Empress theater, is a melodramatic piece filled with action and comedy, far removed from the usual line of O'Brien's pictures.

Va., and is a graduate of McCormick Theological seminary.

Democrats Plan Senatorial Fight in G. O. P. States

Iowa, North Dakota and Michigan Present Alluring Prospects to Election Committee.

By GEORGE F. AUTHER.
Washington Correspondent The Omaha Bee.
Washington, Sept. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—The democratic senatorial committee is planning a fight in three hitherto republican states with the hope of electing democratic senators. These states are Iowa, North Dakota and Michigan.

The nomination of Brookhart in Iowa, where a movement is on foot to nominate W. O. Payne as an independent republican candidate, continues to be a disturbing factor. While the independent movement is on foot Senators Cummins and Rawson have gone up to New England for an automobile tour, indicating they do not wish to be a part of the movement, but are not taking steps to head it off.

It is realized that Brookhart's campaign pledge to ask for the repeal of the Esch-Cummins transportation act puts him in direct opposition to the senior senator from Iowa.

The democrats hope the split will develop proportions which will make the election of Herring, their candidate, possible.

Republicans Prefer Democrat.
In North Dakota the reported decision of Senator McCumber not to become an independent candidate, as he had contemplated, leaves the fight in that state between the Nonpartisan league and its opponents. The democratic organization anticipates under these circumstances that O'Connor will register the full vote of the anti-league strength. The republicans of that state, it is claimed, prefer O'Connor to Frazier, the league candidate.

In Michigan the recent primaries which resulted in the nomination of Senator Townsend by approximately one-third of the republican vote has given encouragement to the democrats. Henry Ford is expected to throw his strength to the democratic candidate.

While the democrats are perking up over the chance of electing one or more democratic senators in these states, they are worried over the reports from Nebraska.

Worried Over Hitchcock.
The Macedonian cry has gone out that Hitchcock is in actual danger and the democratic senatorial committee is planning to come to the aid of their beleaguered senator with all the sinews available. Speakers will be sent to the state and every effort will be made from the outside to bolster up the strange combination between the brother Bryan and their erstwhile enemy, Senator Hitchcock.

While the democrats are looking with hungry eyes upon the states all ready mentioned, the republicans are reaching out for a few prizes of their own. They believe they have a chance to elect Brewster in Missouri over James A. Reed, Mondell in Wyoming over Kendrick and have some other chances, notably in Montana, Nevada and Utah.

The chances are that instead of being reduced, the republican majority of 24 in the senate will either be maintained or increased.

Interest in Turk Row Transferred to Dardanelles

Violation of Chanak Neutral Zone Adjusted at Conference Between Leaders, Report Says.

London, Sept. 24.—(By A. P.)—The agreement of the allies on the political side of the near eastern problem leaves the general situation much clearer and transfers the interests to the Dardanelles, where today's news proves the combustible nature of the "problem to be solved there."

"The Iraq actual incident" between the British and Turkey has already occurred in the shape of Turkish violation of the Chanak neutral zone, but has ended happily after a conference between the British and Turkish commanders.

The joint note of the allies has gone forward to Kemal at Smyrna and the reply is hardly expected until the French representative, M. Franklin-Bouillon, has time to confer with the nationalist leader.

According to a Paris despatch received in London, Kemal notified of the coming of M. Franklin-Bouillon replied: "I shall expect you, but you must hasten." The message is also rendered in another form, as follows: "I await your arrival. Your friend, Kemal Pasha."

This has given rise to comment on the different significance of the two messages.

Two of the greatest difficulties presenting themselves at the present moment appear to be first that the Kemalists, while disposed to accept the allied invitation to a conference, are likely to insist that Russia also shall be invited to sit in conference, and second, that they are not disposed to suspend hostilities during the conference, but on the contrary, maintain their right to pursue the defeated Greeks into Thrace and protect the muslims there from possible Greek reprisals.

Big Counterfeit Ring Uncovered by U. S. Officers

One Man Arrested and Over $200,000 in Bogus Bank Notes Seized in Chicago Raid.

Omaha Bee Local Wire.
Chicago, Sept. 24.—With the seizure of more than $200,000 in counterfeit federal reserve bank notes and the arrest of one man in a home on the West side, Capt. Thomas I. Porter, chief of the secret service in Chicago, announced that he had uncovered the "biggest counterfeiting operation" in his 37 years in the federal service.

With the bogus money, which was so nearly undetectable that since July 1 it has passed inspection of bank officials, the secret service men seized a complete counterfeiting outfit—presses, such as are used in the Treasury department, and several thousand negatives and plates.

Captain Porter stated that he expects to seize, in the next 24 hours, at least $500,000 more of the counterfeit notes and added that the total may be considerably more than half a million dollars.

All the money was in $20 denomination. It was practically perfect; a rear so as any counterfeited money ever has been known to be, Captain Porter declared.
