New York Giants Clinch National League Pennant for Tenth Time

Cardinals Lose to McGraw Men in 10 Innings

George Kelly's Hitting Largely Responsible for Gotham Team's 5 to 4 Victory.

New York, Sept. 25.—New York clinched its 10th National League championship here when the Giants defeated St. Louis in a 10-inning game, 5 to 4.

It was the eighth championship won in New York under McGraw's leadership since 1914 and marks the first time since 1913 that a National League championship has repeated. George Kelly's hitting was largely responsible for New York's victory. He tied the score in the sixth inning with a home run with Young on base, while his single in the 10th after Young had been intentionally passed, drove in Frisch with the winning run.

"Black Leopard" Has Fight Style Like Dempsey's

The physical makeup of Battling Siki, conqueror of Carpenter, has been likened to that of the leopard. In action his great muscles play fascinatingly under a dark skin; he is extremely fast of foot and is wont to make great leaps when evading the punches of an opponent. This form is striking contrast to the graceful Carpenter, whose foot movement is that of the æsthetic dancer.

Siki is typical of the brigades of picked Senegalese soldiers brought to the western front during the world war. Stalwart, possessed of great strength and endurance, and an irresistible foe when excited, he crosses his hands together, his massive, fawn-colored shoulders hunched after the fashion of Jack Dempsey.

A broad grin, exposing the perfect teeth so typical of the negro, lights up his face as he goes into flaccid combat. At times this grin narrows until it becomes somewhat of a squint, perhaps intended to frighten an adversary.

In all of his ring engagements in France, Siki has been successful. But in none prior to his bout with Carpenter did he display any terrific punching power. His manager, Francois Desamps, who is credited as being a shrewd judge of fighting ability, had asserted that Siki was such a poor fighter that he would not permit Carpenter to meet him.

The success of the Senegalese possibly will start talk of a match between him and Harry Wills, American negro heavyweight who is being groomed as a prospect for a championship bout with Dempsey.

Siki is the third "foreigner" to gain pugilistic fame during the present year. First came Luis Angel Firpo, an Argentinian giant. In New York and New Jersey he met only what is termed in sporting parlance "trial horses," but his superiority in these bouts was so marked that leading fight experts predicted for him a great future in the realm of the squared circle. They declared Firpo needed only careful tutoring in the finer points of the game of hit, stop and get away to place him among the first and foremost.

The Big Thrill in Pinochle

Omaha Suggested by Evans as Site of New Title Links

By CHARLES (CHICK) EVANS, JR. We have had many men in the past who have contributed much in the development of golf, but here is an opportunity for someone to give the game something in this country that will forever link his name with the sport and give untold aid to amateur players who strive for the championship title.

The United States is so big and so many boys are now taking up golf that the game needs a championship contest located somewhere in the central part of the country—I should say in Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis or Omaha would be ideal. This course, designed to offer the most nearly perfect test of golf that architects could build, could be in this country what the famous old St. Andrews course is in Scotland.

If such a course were created it would serve several important purposes and would be self-supporting. The national amateur championship could be held over it each year, and perhaps the open championships as well. In addition, sectional championships might be decided over the same course, but at least the great course would be the home of the annual national amateur.

Many Are Kept Away. As things are now, there are many fine young amateur golfers who can attend the championship only every other year. This is so because of the rule that puts the championship in the east one year and in the west the next. On the face of it, this looks to

Hint of Scandal About Ruth Baby Branded Absurd

Cleveland, O., Sept. 25.—Fellow members of the New York American league baseball club are frankly puzzled by the claim of George Herman "Babe" Ruth and his wife Dorothy, the year-and-a-half old child now with Mrs. Ruth in New York, is their own child. Not even the swatmit's intimates among his fellow players on the Yankee team suspected he was a father, when Mrs. Ruth's claim was made. Mrs. Ruth first brought the baby to the Polo grounds one day four or five weeks ago the impression was gained that Dorothy had been adopted by the couple.

Although they would not be quoted, several Yankees expressed the view today that Babe's story was absurd. Ruth's claim, based on a letter in her assertion that the child was her own and not adopted, and lacking details of Mrs. Ruth's statements made wild stabs at the date and place of the alleged birth, and the fact that Mrs. Ruth's story was born to when Mrs. Ruth, this same as the other point, would account for the wide variance between Mrs. Ruth's assertion that the baby was born June 7, 1921, at Presbyterian hospital, New York, and her husband's declaration that Mrs. Ruth's story is a concoction by her to satisfy her own whim at St. Vincent's hospital February 2 of that year.
