Central Gridsters to Open Season Against Creighton High School Friday

Coach Schmidt Expects Hard Game With 'Preps'

Purple and White Pigskin Chasers to Scrimmage This Afternoon and Tomorrow.

BY RALPH WAGNER

FOOT ball of a better brand than ever will be played by Central high this season if Coaches Schmidt, Hill, Bexten and Cress of the Purple and White machine have anything to say—and they have.

For the past two weeks, under the direction of Head Coach Schmide, the Central pigskin chasers have been working out on the field west of the school in preparation for the initial grid clash of the season which comes next Friday afternoon against the Creighton "prep" footballers.

Coach Schmidt and his aides are leaving no stone unturned and no candidate is slipping inspection by these teachers of the rough and tumble game who are bent upon giving Central one of the strongest foot ball teams in history, and Central has had some strong ones, too.

Tough Foe

Unlike most high schools, Central has a tough foe in Creighton high, for its first game. Creighton gridsters would like nothing better than see Central trounced in the dust of defeat and what's more than expect to do it Friday on Creighton field.

Coach Schmide of Central has not selected the lineup which will go against Creighton. He will not pick his men until Thursday. Not one of the 65 grid candidates will know who's who until Friday afternoon a few minutes before the whistle sounds that sends Central rushing toward Creighton high in the opening game of the 1922 season in this village.

Calloway, Lawson and Howell, together with Merrill and Clarke, have been working in the backfield. The former played last season with Central and was one of the best ground gainers among high school gridsters in Omaha. Lawson and Howell have show up well in practice. Both tip the beam at a pretty figure and both are fairly fast on their dogs. Merrill labored in the second team last season and is likely timber for the varsity backfield this year. Clarke is being tried at both end and halfback. However, he looks best at end.

Will Do the Kicking.

Howell will do the kicking for the Purple-jerseyed athletes. This Central student swings a mean toe and can send the pigskin sailing for quite a distance.

At the pilot job—the heady position—Coach Schmidt has Reynolds and Amos. The latter barked the signal last season and appears to be the best fitted for the quarter berth again this year. Amos called the numerals for the second stringers last season and may get a chance to show his ability with the varsity before the present season ends.

For center, Schmidt has Cogan and Hartman. Both husky athletes have played well in practice. A little scrimmaging will tell the rest. Thomas and Pollard are likely guards, while Percival and Fetterman will probably play the wing positions. The former is fast on his feet and can get down under punts in rapid fashion. He also tackles well.

Captain "Henry" Stribling and Ennis look like the best bets for the tackles. Stribling is a seasoned gridster and when he hurls his 180 pounds or so against the enemy's wall something gives and very seldom it's Stribling.

Besides the gridsters already named, Coach Schmidt has a flock of lesser lights who are liable to flare up into a flame and put out some of the varsity candidates before the season rolls past.

Signal drill and getting down under punts was the order of the afternoon yesterday. Today the Purple and White will do a little scrimmage work as part of the final preparation for Creighton Friday.

With the Gridsters.

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 26.—The Harvard football coaches put their big string of varsity players through their paces in earnest today. For the first time this year the four teams which have been working up plays were called upon to show their wares against the scrub team and in a half hour of scrimmage managed to score three touchdowns by means of steady rushing. Owen, Gebrke and Doherty were the men who did the final carrying, Owen's score being made while the first "varsity, or team "A" was on the field.

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 26.—There was considerable line work at the naval academy this afternoon, the candidates trying to break through as open holes though no regular scrimmage was held. Every possible player is being given a chance at the kicking in the hope that a good punter will be developed.

It looks as if the navy would have one of its heaviest lines. Carney, left guard last year, who weighs 228, and Lentz, formerly of Holgate, whose figure is 214, are the most likely candidates for guards. Other good men are Hudgins, 211; Merlitz, 204, and Winkler, 196.

Mrs. Ruth Sticks to Story Child Is Own

New York, Sept. 26.—Mrs. George Herman Ruth and baby, Dorothy, depart tonight for Boston to join the famous "Babe" Ruth. Mrs. Ruth called in an adviser today, Christy Walsh—director of Babe's literary efforts. She referred reporters to him and promised that Walsh would "tell all about the baby—the whole truth."

Walsh seemed inadequately advised. Asked concerning the statements of Ruth and Mrs. Ruth, widely at variance as to the time and place of Dorothy's birth, and, as to hospital officials' denials that the Ruth's baby was born there and denial of the priest at the church where Mrs. Ruth said the baby was christened, that any christening had been performed there, he conferred long with Mrs. Ruth. Emerging after the conference, he said:

"Mrs. Ruth is going to stand pat. No admissions, no confessions, nothing to say at all. Why not let the matter drop? If Mrs. Ruth admitted now that Dorothy was not her own child she would be denying her own statements of the last three days. She has said it was hers and Babe's. She certainly could not afford to change her story now."

If any football rules puzzle you, write Sol Metzger, care of our sporting editor, enclosing stamped, return envelope. He'll give you a quick and correct decision.

With the ball in your possession, second down, on the opponents' 40-yard line, 8 yards to go, use either a pass, short or long, or plays off tackle or around the end. Now you are in a position to strike. If the game is in its early stages, a successful pass means much. It will put the play in the opponents' territory for that half, if your defense is working true to form, and gain for you many opportunities for scoring. If the pass does not go, you may then try another or the wide run, preferably the latter, in order to learn which style of attack is best for the game. Some teams present a stronger defense for one style of play than another, and you may learn which is better in the early part of the game. Then apply that knowledge when opportunity again comes to you. The first part about gaining possession of the ball here carry in a game is that, if you fail to gain, you can punt and put the opposition on attack near its goal line. Note the assistance of possible player is limited and it gives little knowledge of your weaknesses. Usually you can force it, by punt and again have the ball in its territory. Good teams, once in the position, manage to keep the play in the opponents' territory during the entire half.

Exterminator May Race at Tijuana

San Diego, Sept. 26.—Although official announcement has not been made, a report from the east indicates that there is a strong likelihood that the champion distance horse of America will be nominated and go to the post in the Coffroth handicap at 1¼ miles during the Tijuana, Mex., race season, scheduled to be opened by President James Wood Coffroth, November 30.

This champion is the great Exterminator, who has recently carried the colors of Willis Sharpe Kilmer to victory at the Woodbine, Toronto, Can., track.

The Coffroth handicap of the coming Tijuana season, with its $30,000 added money, is not to be sneezed at, even by the greatest stables in the country. Word from the east says that Owner Kilmer has expressed an interest in the event and that he is strongly considering shipping Exterminator to Tijuana for this and other rich distance events in which the champion would be eligible.

Connie Mack Holds Record

CONNIE MACK.

New York, Sept. 25.—Baseball's annual classic, the world's series is just in the offing.

The fall begins his speculations. For the sake of argument he turns back to series of other years.

What manager has had greater success in world series?

And the answer comes—Connie Mack, christened Cornelius Macgillicuddy—of the Philadelphia Athletics. Mack has carried three of his teams to world championships. Twice he met and defeated John McGraw and his Giants. In the other series Mack triumphed over Frank Chance, the great Cub leader. McGraw triumphed over Mack in 1905.

Chance won two world series with the Cubs, Carrigan won two with the Boston Red Sox and McGraw has taken two with the Giants.

Major Stars on Barnstorm Trip

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 26.—George Sisler, local first sacker, who has been chosen the most valuable player in the American league, and Rogers Hornsby, local second sacker, who leads the National league in hits and home run will go barnstorming after the close of the season.

Sisler is organizing a team to tour the New England states, while Hornsby has signed up with Milton Stock, also of the Cardinals, who is organizing a post-season aggregation.

John Lavan of the Cardinals, will tour Japan with a team being organized for that purpose.

Chick Shorten, utility outfielder of the Browns and several Boston Americans will be in Sisler's lineup, including Pitcher Piercy and Outfielder Mike Menoskey.

Hornsby has passed Sisler in hits for the season, having 242 safeties to Sislers' 240. Sisler, however, leads in batting, having a percentage of .417 against Hornsby's .401.
