

Cadillac Man Is Entertained Here

Sales in Omaha District Best, Says Sales Department Executive. J. W. Dunivan, an executive of the sales department of the Cadillac Motor Car company, is spending a few days with the local Cadillac distributor, J. H. Hansen.

Mr. Dunivan came west to attend a convention of western Cadillac distributors at Waterloo, Ia. J. A. C. Kennedy entertained at lunch at the Omaha club for Mr. Dunivan Thursday, at which a number of prominent Omahans were present.

This is his first visit to Omaha, and I am delighted with it. At the factory we have been watching closely the business conditions in the middle west, and while all distributing points have increased sales over last year, Omaha has shown the biggest percentage of increase, said Mr. Dunivan.

Mr. Dunivan has attended meetings of various organizations of the Cadillac company in Omaha as well as in Boston, Chicago and Lincoln and explained to the sales organization that the faith which the public has in the product of the Cadillac Motor company is causing the factory to run at a rate of production as great to day as last May.

Good cars, like every well established merchandise, show through their purchase that business is on a gradual upgrade, said Mr. Dunivan.
