Trials Set for 7 Indicted Men

All Plead Not Guilty—W. E. Shafer to Be Tried November 8.

Seven men indicted by the last county grand jury were arraigned before District Judge Leslie yesterday pleaded not guilty, and had their trials set.

W. E. Shafer, charged with larceny of $30,000 worth of notes and conspiracy to commit an embezzlement, will go to trial November 8.

Despite the fact that Frank Howell, attorney for the Shafers, stated that Marion Shafer's condition probably would prevent him from ever going to trial, Special State Prosecutor Dorsey declared that he would force the indicted man, who is in West Virginia, to stand trial.

The trials of LeRoy Collins and Dr. J. B. Fickes, both charged with unlawful selling of Waterloo Creamery stock, were set for October 16 and November 15, respectively.

L. M. Swindler, charged with unlawful borrowing of bank funds, will be tried October 23. The trials of Sam Grace, charged with embezzling $65,000 from a railroad organization of which he was treasurer; E. R. Gurney, president of the defunct Lion Bonding company, and C. E. Heaney, charged with embezzling funds of the Omaha Refining company, were continued.

Dorsey stated that Thomas Mattera probably would be tried during the month of November. Attorney General Clarence Davis appeared in district court with Dorsey while the men were being arraigned.

Early Ruling Expected on Dry Navy Question

Washington, Sept. 30.—(By A. P.)—Early decision by the United States supreme court upon the question of federal judisdiction over foreign vessels engaged in illegal activities outside the three-mile limit, was predicted in government circles, after information had been received that United States Judge James M. Morton at Boston had "certified" that question to the highest tribunal in the case of the schooners Grace and Ruby.

With the October term of the supreme court opening next Monday, the government is prepared to ask for expeditious consideration of the question as constituting the crux of the prohibition enforcement campaign along the coast lines of the United States.
