

Viva La France!

Members of The Omaha Bee's Good Will Delegation, Back from tour, Pleased with Graciousness and Hospitality of French Hosts.

Miss Katherine O'Brien amid ruins of the church at Montfaucon.

Alliance John Drisko photos

Group of Good Will delegates at the monastery adjoining the cardinal's palace at Verdun. Miss Irene Rice, Alliance, Neb., is third from the right.

Omaha members of the Good Will delegation photographed in the Swiss village of Marie Antoinette at Versailles.

Visiting a dugout at Fort de Vaux. Left to right, Miss Nellie B. Donn, Omaha; Miss Cecilia Green, Philadelphia; Miss Elizabeth Pace, Council Bluffs, and Miss Ella B. Fenn, Omaha.

A trio of delegates with their "French sweet-hearts" at Ste. Menehould. Left to right, Miss Ruth Neagle and Misses Mary Leary and Anna McNamara, Omaha.

Visiting the war-damaged cathedral at Verdun.

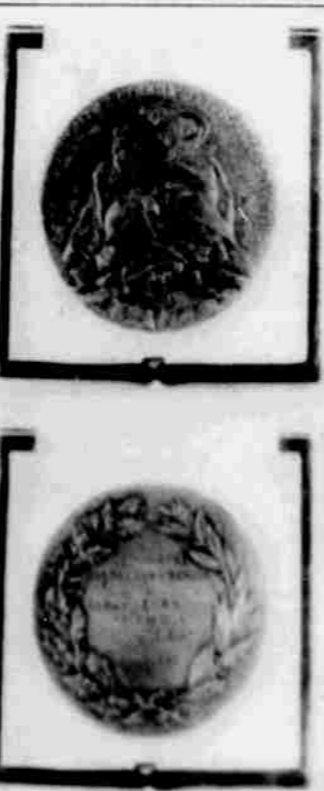

Cardinal Lucon, who kept vigil at Reims cathedral during the war, refusing to leave during the successive bombardments, received the Good Will delegation in front of the damaged cathedral. Left to right, Miss Ruth Neagle, Elmira; Miss Katherine O'Brien, Omaha; Cardinal Lucon; Miss Green, Philadelphia; Miss Rooney, Schenectady; Miss Rackorman of the American Committee; Miss Anna McNamara, Omaha, and Miss Dougherty, Williamsport, Pa.

Miss Nellie B. Donn photographed with the bronze palm presented by the Good Will delegation to the city of Verdun.

A French peasant woman is shown telling a group of Good Will delegates the story of American bravery at Chateau Thierry. Left to right, Misses Ella Fenn, Elizabeth Kaufman and Kathleen Rissler, Omaha; Madame le Petit of Chateau Thierry; Mrs. Otto Brewer, Wichita, Kan., and Miss Molly Seale, Dallas, Tex.

Obverse and reverse of medal presented each member of the Good Will delegation by the French ministry of liberated regions, in personal recognition of each delegate's aid to France.

Delegates sampling the products of the famous Pommery champagne cellars at Reims.