

Enthusiasm for the monarchists is still prevalent in Bavaria, as shown by the demonstration given Von Hindenburg on his arrival in Munich recently. Photo shows the Field Marshal and Prince Leopold of Bavaria surrounded by members of the old military organization.
Pacific and Atlantic

Austria's leaders in the attempt to save the nation from collapse. Left to right—Minister of Finance Segur, Chancellor Seipel and Dr. Riedel, Ambassador to Germany, photographed after a visit to Dr. Wirth, German Chancellor, in Berlin.
Pacific and Atlantic

Edward V. ("Eddie") Rickenbacker, former automobile racer and American overseas aviator, and his bride, who was Mrs. Adelaide Durant. International.

The Shorham Mystery Tower, one of England's secrets during the war, is being scrapped. The part already removed is seen at the top left of the photo.
Foreign Photo News.

Miss Edith Tower (left) of New York and Miss Martha Van Meter of Lexington, Ky., students at Columbia University, recently hiked from New York to Lexington for a visit before resuming studies at the college.

Col. Herman H. Harjes, well known banker, snarped, at Deauville during one of the polo matches.
Pacific and Atlantic

Mrs. Clarence Wyckoff and Mr. Clarence Crummins at the costume dance on "The Night Boat," the Crummins estate at Noroton, Conn.
Photograms

Heavy rains in Washington and its vicinity marked the early part of last month. In North Rosemont, Va., the residents made use of the flooded streets as a swimming pool.
Harris & Ewing