As Experts Do

There are 12 vital tests used by automotive engineers in judging different makes of cars. Their method is now available to the public.

Three years ago we gave to the public the accepted standards of comparison used by the leading automotive engineers. Previously their method had been a trade secret because it was so technical.

We simplified the method yet retained every fundamental element of comparison. We introduced then the first Marmon Demonstration week. We prepared a score-card which made it possible for anyone to compare several cars and know exactly what each could do.

So welcome and so successful was this plan that we have continued it and now announce the Third Annual Marmon Demonstration Week, October 9 to 14.

' We invite every car owner to take advantage of this great educational opportunity. Marmons will be available for all who wish to conduct comparisons. The score-card shows how to put cars through the 12 vital tests of performance and how to score and compare.

This invitation is open to all, whether or not in the market for a new car. Those who accept will not be importuned to buy. Remember, we have advocated higher standards of comparison for three years and we hold
