

Market Reports by State Radio Start Tuesday

Department of Agriculture
Announces Schedule of Station in Nebraska
Capital.

Lincoln, Oct. 7.—(Special).—That market reporting by radio is destined to become a big factor in aiding the farmer to market his products to better advantage is the opinion of the department of agriculture officials.

The service now being given by the bureau of markets and marketing, state department of agriculture, has met with much favor from the beginning of the rural population in all parts of the state. These letters further indicate that large numbers of individual farmers are taking advantage of the reporting service through the use of their own receiving sets.

The custom of posting reports is being encouraged by the bureau as a means of extending the benefits of the service. Special receiving blanks are available on request for convenience in taking the daily reports and these forms are suitable for posting.

Chiropractic Health Talks

(By DR. BURHORN)

One of the most remarkable things of this period is the number of persons that will assume to tell you what Chiropractic can or can't do for suffering humanity.

If an individual wished to be absolutely certain about what the law is on a certain subject, he would go to a good lawyer—the same rule should apply to Chiropractic, he should go to a Chiropractor who devotes his entire thought and attention to the practice of straight Chiropractic.

Paralysis is an affection characterized by loss of muscular power or by the sense of touch, taste or smell becoming impaired from injury to a nerve by accident or disease.

Since it is possible for the vertebra to become slightly displaced, due to strains, jars, wrenches, falls, blows, muscular contractions, exposure to wet and cold, shocks, poisons, etc., thereby pinching the nerves passing between the vertebrae and restricting or obstructing the nerve force from the brain to the organs or tissues—this is the real cause of disease.

It is the pressure on nerves which causes paralysis, nervousness, dizziness, headaches, constipation, stomach troubles, rheumatism, hysteria, neuritis, neuralgia, tonsillitis, anemia, backaches and heavy bearing-down pains in the pelvic region.

The restoration of nerve current to normal by freeing the nerves of pressure will establish normal function and give nature a chance to cure.

Dr. Burhorn's office is located on the fourth floor of the Securities Bldg., southeast corner Sixteenth and Farnam Streets. Office equipped with 12 private adjusting and rest rooms and a complete X-ray apparatus. Office hours: 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Phone Jackson 5347 for appointment.

Omaha Vet and Bobbie "Back to Land"

Clarence Darlow, Omaha ex-serviceman, and his first self-built ranch cabin; his first harvest of pumpkins and his sole companion, "Bobbie."

"Back to the land" is a highly satisfactory experience for this ex-serviceman, Clarence Darlow, son of Mrs. Alfred Darlow of Omaha.

Piles of golden pumpkins, sheaves of wheat and corn, delectable honey dew melons and cantaloupes, and even the lovely spud are included in the autumn harvest of the young Omaha on his 163-acre claim near Yoder, Wyo.

Darlow took up the claim April 29, under the government's plan for ex-servicemen. He expects to remain on it until December, the federal plan providing that the 13 months he spent in the service shall be subtracted from the required number of months for residence on his claim.

"But he likes it so well I'm afraid he won't want to come back," said his mother.

Young Darlow built his own shack, lining it with beaver boards and making it thoroughly comfortable inside.

He took along a phonograph in his Ford load of household supplies when he set out in the spring. The "canned music" and his Scotch collie, "Bobbie," are his only companions.

A sparkling stream, as yet unnamed by the owner of Darlow claim, runs through 23 acres of his land. It is not far from Torrington, Wyo.

Darlow is a nephew of Gustav Borglum, famous sculptor.

Fire Destroys Pickle Factory; Loss of $225,000

Several Families Flee to Streets When Blaze Burns
Homes in Same Block.

Fire that turned the sky crimson, shooting volleys of sparks skyward, attracted curious thousands, partly destroyed the large plant of the Haarmann Vinegar and Pickle company and nearby homes at Twentieth and Center streets Friday night.

The damage is estimated at $225,000.

There were many thrills. Mrs. B. Israel, a widow, who owns a little grocery store at 1922 South Twentieth street, adjoining the Haarmann plant, aroused her three children and carried them from their sleeping quarters on the second floor of the grocery store. Flames blocked her path. When she reached the front door she had to retrace her steps and carry them to safety through the rear entrance. Her store was completely destroyed. She carried little insurance.

Prays for Home. Mrs. H. Nielsen, 1922 South Twentieth street, sat on a little bundle of belongings she had carried from her home and prayed that her home be saved.

"It is the only thing I have left in the world," she cried. "I haven't a cent of insurance on it." The house was partly destroyed.

Mrs. W. M. Post, 1925 South Twentieth street, who was asleep at the time of the fire, was overcome by the dense smoke and was carried to safety by M. V. Miller, a volunteer traffic officer, who resides at 4619 Fontenelle boulevard.

Henry Ruder, 2448 South Twentieth street, who was adding the firemen, was overcome by smoke and was carried to a nearby corner by Paul Zimmer, 114 South Thirty-eighth avenue, and Robert O'Donnell, 2111 Arbor street.

Neighbors, residing in houses near the scene of the fire, stood in shivering groups, near their bundles of belongings, praying for their homes, upon many of which there was no insurance.

But to William Duckels, ex-serviceman, and his large family, there came real misfortune. He is a striker, out of a job. Everything he had and his family had was destroyed. They occupied part of the second floor of the Israel grocery store.

The fire originated at about 10 o'clock in the northwest section of the large Haarmann plant, which occupied almost a half a square block. The structure, mostly of wood construction, burned like Christmas tinsel, and the flames, fanned by a strong breeze from the north, spread the fire rapidly.

By the time the general alarm, bringing all fire apparatus to the scene, was turned in, the west half of the structure was a seething furnace.

The strong wind carried burning debris and sparks as far south as Vinton street.

Men and women climbed to the roofs of homes in the vicinity and extinguished sparks and burning debris with buckets of water.

The hillsides nearby were lined with people, the scene resembling a great amphitheater. The stage and its attraction was the huge fire giving off sparks like skyrocket. There were thrilling fire engines and hundreds of rushing, struggling firemen with lines of pulsing hose pouring millions of gallons of water that the flames caught and absorbed with a hiss.

Office Is Saved. The office and part of the storehouse was the only part of the plant saved from complete ruin. The 12 tanks, with a capacity of 50,000 gallons of vinegar each; 20 cars of pickles and thousands of gallons of cider and thousands of dollars' worth of ingredients used in the manufacture of several products sold by the Haarmann company were a total loss.

D. G. McGuire, manager of the company, said Friday night that he believed the fire originated from sparks from the power plant of the city gas works, which is directly north of the west end of the factory, where the fire originated.

"I was at the plant at 9 o'clock, one hour before the fire broke out," said McGuire. "I saw sparks flying toward our building from the gas plant. I watched them for a second or so and then they subsided. I am almost certain that the fire originated in this way."

The three-story mash house of the company was burned to the ground.

Gas Plant Protected. Firemen fought with all their effort to keep the fire from spreading toward the mammoth storage tanks of the city gas plant, but at no time were they in immediate danger.

Following is a list of owners or tenants of homes damaged by burning debris:

John Warner, 2025 Center street; Peter Jensen, 2023 Center street; Mrs. Mary Burke, 1933 South Twentieth street; Aaron Sigel, 1930 South Twentieth street; Mary Perry, 1922 South Twentieth street. Shortly after midnight they were able to return to their homes.

Out of one house Policemen Nelson, Ryan and Sullivan carried several canary birds following a fearful appeal by the owner.

Officials of the Haarmann company said that immediate steps would be made to resume business.

Firemen were still on the job early Saturday morning.
