Bryan Is Arousing Dry Voters

Noted Democratic Spellbinder Makes Votes for Republican Senatorial Nominee Where Schedules Cross.

Oppose Cancelling Debt

Plattsmouth, Neb., Oct. 14.—(Special Telegram)—Emphasizing the wanton manner in which the democratic federal reserve board brought on deflation which resulted so disastrously to the farming interests of the state, R. B. Howell, republican nominee for United States senator, on his tour today hammered home his constructive program to enthusiastic crowds at all of the six stops made. W. J. Bryan, who is campaigning in the interest of his brother, Charles, crossed and recrossed the Howell schedule during the last three days, and it was stated at each place, that Bryan's loud cry that the prohibition question is a dead issue has resulted in arousing the voters, who are deeply and sincerely interested in the problem, to a realization, that if the nation is to be kept dry, friends of prohibition must be elected to public office.

At Crab Orchard, O. J. Werner, editor of the Herald, had charge of the meeting and had all arrangements made prior to arrival of Walter Anderson and R. B. Howell, republican candidates in this district.

At Fremont, P. A. Brundage, editor of the Telemachus, Chiefly, Mrs. Brundage, Miss Hazel Chapin, Miss Hazel Woolsey and J. C. Moore, republican chairman of Johnson county, met Mr. Howell at Crab Orchard and escorted him to Fremont. There, the band played prior to the speaking, which was held in the hall of the owners of the Telemachus. Chiefly, said that Johnson county has a normal republican majority of about 300.

"Howell will carry the county by at least 100 majority and possibly double the normal vote," Thurber said.

Inquiry, through the territory traversed by Mr. Howell during this week's trip, revealed the fact that republicans and democrats alike resent the effort of the third term democratic senatorial candidate to dodge responsibility for the deflation brought upon the country by his demagogues, completely on a defensive and without a single constructive suggestion in the way of the people of this section.

At Plattsmouth this evening, one democratic said in speaking of the wet and dry issue, "Two years ago Hitchcock was for light wines and beer, seeking wet votes in a democratic national convention. Now he is trying to beguile dry voters in a prohibition state."

Two Men Injured in Queer Auto Collision

William Manell of South Omaha, and an unidentified motorist are in Paxton Memorial hospital as a result of a queer collision of two automobiles at Twenty-fifth and Cass streets Saturday afternoon.

Manell was riding a Yousser Plumbing company truck with Phil Yousser, who was driving around the corner, when another car coming from the opposite direction, also rounded the corner. Both cars bore down on two machines parked on the west side of the street, according to a city police officer. The Yousser side machine saw the accident, and in attempting to avoid striking the parked cars, the other two machines collided. One machine was knocked up on a five-foot terrace.

Yousser suffered cuts and bruises, as did also Nelson Pearson, 2540 Deane street, who was with Yousser and Manell in the truck.

Mexican Rebel Officers Executed by Firing Squad

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 14.—Catastrophe Abasco and Ricardo Palacios, captive rebel officers, were executed by a firing squad at Tephahines, Durango, Tex. on Saturday evening, according to a city police officer. The rebels were shot by a city military headquarters by Gen. J. J. Mier, commander of Juarez.

British Pays $915,000 Interest on Debt to U. S.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Payment of $915,000 to Great Britain as interest on the debt incurred for the purchase of silver from that country during the war was reported to the treasury by the Federal Reserve bank of New York.

The People's Voice

Setting the Bee Right on Bryan.

To the Editor of the Omaha Bee: An editor feels hurt when his policy is at all criticized. You are so wrong on the Bryan business though, that someone should make an attempt to set you right.

For a long time you have been trying to make W. J. Bryan consistent. Should you succeed, the state, the nation and the world would have no Bryan.

Force him to track his hind and front wheels on any political road and he will go to the scrap pile. You surely know that, don't you? We want Bryan. He is a good man with all of his anxiety for "deserving democrats." There are thousands of voters who wait patiently to see which way Bryan goes so they will know that the other way must be the right one.

I followed him through all the prohibition fights. Once he opposed county option "because each community has the right under a democratic government to do as a majority directs." When he said that I voted for county option.

We made so many dry spots in the state that the people asked for state-wide prohibition. I waited to hear from Bryan. At last he told the W. C. T. U. that county option was real democracy. Then I knew enough to vote statewide. It went that far and the Bryan car went dead. He was for states' rights on prohibition after that. Finally the thing was headed to go over the top and Bryan has been hitting on all six since that.

Now he says the war is over, so asks us to bury the "bloody shirt." Those who can see the blood on the brewer's and distiller's shirts have waited to see what position Bryan would take, and know now how to vote. We follow him by voting against him. In that way we have him with us the next time as the country has progressed. On the new issues we will continue to wait for the Bryan pronouncement, then go into the polls and vote.

Now you quit your kidding. Do not destroy Mr. Bryan's influence for doing good. The people are hearing him and are ready to follow him in the way aforesaid. If you do not quit it, you and your office will be deprived of tobacco in all forms for three hours on election day.

"Peace, Not War, Is Aim of Enemies"

Pratt Begged Bonar Law to Take Premiership Three Years Ago. Never Betrayed People

Manchester, Oct. 14.—(By A. P.)—Prime Minister Lloyd George's speech to the liberals of the Manchester Reform club this afternoon, expected to be a historic utterance, was a disappointment because the premier gave no intimation regarding his plans or his program. In that respect his oration was similar to that of Austen Chamberlain at Birmingham yesterday.

Of his address of one hour and 20 minutes, Mr. Lloyd George devoted nearly an hour to a defense of his near eastern policy and to ridicule of his critics.

In a brilliant peroration, recalling his services to the nation, he said: "I cast myself on the people because I have never betrayed them."

"Not War Mongers." The prime minister received an enthusiastic welcome when he reached the Forum club for luncheon before delivering his eagerly awaited political speech. The huge crowd outside the building extended practically the whole length of the street on which the club is situated and the premier's appearance was the signal for a great burst of cheering.

In beginning his speech at the luncheon, Mr. Lloyd George referred to the near eastern crisis, declaring to the people of this country must not believe that their government had endeavored to rush Great Britain into war.

Are Peace Makers. "We have not been war mongers, but peace makers," he said. A great array of journalists eagerly pressed upon his words and rushed them off to the four corners of the globe.

Mystery Supposed to Involve Liquor Plot Is Cleared Up

Chicago, Oct. 14.—James A. Pugh, Eastman Springs, Mich., soft drink manufacturer and former Chicago business man and political leader, cleared the mystery supposed to involve a bootlegging plot, explaining briefly that Earl H. Cummins, a chemist at the drug factory, "a great chemist, but a darned poor business man."

Pugh said he had shipped 87 carloads of ginger ale to the Bush terminal warehouse in New York on the strength of a visit made to New York last spring by Cummins. The chemist had returned and persuaded him, Pugh said, that a large drug syndicate in New York would take the ginger ale.

The drug syndicate, however, did not order the ale and meanwhile Pugh says, he is paying storage on it.

Democrats of State in Revolt Against Bryan

Hundreds of Farmers Attend Randall Meetings—Support for Republicans Is Growing.

By P. C. POWELL, Staff Correspondent The Omaha Bee. Superior, Neb., Oct. 14.—(Special Telegram)—Charles H. Randall, candidate for governor, closed a successful week of campaigning here tonight with a big meeting at Odd Fellows hall. With Attorney General Clarence A. Davis, who has been with him since Wednesday, Mr. Randall will drive to Lincoln tonight.

Throughout the week, Mr. Randall has received optimistic reports from friends who say that the falsehoods and misrepresentations in the state campaign are dawning upon the people and there is a strong revulsion against Bryanism. In several towns, democrats have volunteered the information that they absolutely would not vote for Bryan.

Six Towns Visited. The meetings today started at Napoleon. Towns visited were Bloomington, Franklin, Riverton, Red Cloud, Guide Rock and Superior. Farmers by the hundreds waited on street corners to hear the speakers. At Bloomington, Representative A. F. Byrum met the party and introduced the speakers. A. T. Ready, editor, and James Conkling were in charge of arrangements at Franklin. At Riverton, J. M. Pollard, candidate for state representative; William Cowan, and F. A. Leonard were in charge. At Red Cloud, E. S. Garber, county chairman, was waiting for their arrival. They were introduced by J. S. Gilman.

After Years of Separation

Supreme Court Asked to Decide if Fresh Water Mussel Is "Wild"

Washington, Oct. 14.—Disciples of Isaac Walton and wearers of furs have much at stake in a case upon which argument was begun in the supreme court yesterday, where it afforded much amusement.

The proceedings were docketed as James S. McKee and others against Benjamin Gratz, and was brought to have reversed, the decision of lower federal courts holding that the fresh water mussel found in the Mississippi river and its tributaries, and from the shell of which "pearl" buttons are manufactured, when taken from nonnavigable streams, is the property of the owner of the land.

New Record Is Made in Air Classic

Lieut. Maughan, Flying Curtiss Pursuit Plane, Averages 206 Miles an Hour in Pulitzer Trophy Race.

Omaha Has Leased Wire. Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, Mich., Oct. 14.—Lieut. R. L. Maughan, flying a Curtiss high speed pursuit plane, an army entry, won the Pulitzer trophy here in a race in which all world's records, official and unofficial, were broken for 50, 100 and 200 kilometer courses.

The fastest lap in the race, which was flown in three flights, was made by Lieut. L. J. Maitland, who flew a sister ship to Maughan's and also an army entry. He made the first lap at a speed of 216.1 miles an hour. Maitland finished second in the race. Maughan's average speed for the five laps was 206 miles an hour.

Huge Crowd Sees Race.

The triumph of the army flyers, who brought to the United States the world's premier honors for the greatest speed ever traveled by human beings, was witnessed by a crowd of 50,000 who literally went wild as the aviators made the hazardous turns at the pylon in front of the grandstand with their planes almost upside down.
