

Omaha Delegates to Woman's Club Convention Named

Eleven Members Elected to Attend Federated Meeting at North Platte Next Week.

Eleven delegates were elected to attend the federated club convention next week at North Platte at the meeting of the Omaha Woman's club Monday afternoon in the Burgess-Nash auditorium. The club president, Mrs. Charles Johannes, will attend, as will Miss C. L. Hempel, by virtue of her state office. Elected delegates were: Mesdames J. W. Gill, Edgar Allen, H. J. Holmes, Harriet MacMurphy, Earl Stanfield, W. A. Baldwin, L. M. Lord, E. H. Ward, A. L. Ferrell, John Haarmann and Dr. Anna Halston. Alternates will be the Mesdames Ray J. Abbott, Thomas Jones, Madge West Stuphen, W. L. Hogue, W. W. Davenport, A. Hugh Hippie, E. F. Magaret, J. T. Johnston, George Magney, Joseph Bushman, W. F. Reish.

Miss Patterson Speaks.
The chief speaker of the afternoon was Miss Eugene Patterson, who was introduced by Mrs. C. T. Hubbard, leader of the art department. Miss Patterson, who has just returned from two years in Prague, spoke of "The Art of Czech-Slovakia."
"The art of today in Czech-Slovakia is of a high standard," she declared. "Their artists follow the old masters more closely than do their fellows in other European countries. Their etchings are especially fine, and those of Simon are well known in America."

Art Is Remarkable.
The peasant art is most remarkable and is the most interesting of all. One sees it evidenced in the national costume, which varies from province to province, but which includes an elaborate head dress of exquisite linens, and embroideries on richly colored fabrics. The girls make their costumes themselves and with the possible exception of china and Japan, there are no national costumes equally beautiful. The people are Slav, and they have music and color and rhythm and gaiety in their souls, which all comes out in their singing, their folk dancing and their clothing. The cottages, simple whitewashed affairs with thatched roofs, are often a riot of color inside. The walls are stenciled, pottery which has been in the family for two hundred years stands about, and they possess priceless handwoven linens.

Pleas for Understanding.
Beside their artistic capabilities Miss Patterson admires the citizens of the little republic for their powers of organization. She sketched briefly the geography and history of the country and made a plea for closer understanding between the United States and Czech-Slovakia.

"There are several important things Americans should know about them," they were the founders of the little nation; they are the only country since the war whose exports have exceeded their imports; their constitution was drawn and signed in Independence hall in Philadelphia just as was our own, and Mrs. Masaryk, the wife of the president, is an American woman, brought up in Brooklyn."

Miss Patterson lived in the home of the Masaryks during her stay in Prague, and described Mrs. Masaryk as a woman of great charm, musical and artistic ability and a staunch American. The Omaha girl was en-

Municipal Music Endorsed.
Other speakers of the afternoon were Mrs. Heister Brunson Copper of the City Concert club, whose plea for municipal music gained endorsement from the club for the measure to come before the voters on election day providing for an appropriation of $15,000 for music in Omaha.

As Mrs. A. B. Blank spoke briefly in behalf of the Y. W. C. A., which will hold its annual finance campaign next week, and Mrs. M. D. Cameron gave a few impressions of the meeting at Chautauque.

Mrs. C. L. Hempel asked all members who had registered for the elections to stand, and of the 200 women present, only 25 remained seated. She urged 100 per cent registration before election day.

Federal Workers Destroy Barbary Bushes in State
Lincoln, Oct. 16.—Agents of the United States Department of Agriculture destroyed 3,700 common barberry bushes in Nebraska this summer, according to a report just sent to Washington by A. P. Thiel, state leader of the federal forces. The total number of barberry bushes eradicated in this state now has reached 86,683. It was announced. The eastern half of the state has been covered in a farm to farm survey. More than 10,000 sprouts have been grubbed out in places where bushes were previously dug up.

The United States is fighting the common barberry bush because it has been convicted by plant disease experts of being the principal source of black stem rust which damaged cereal crops in seven northwestern states to the extent of $200,000,000 in the three-year period, 1919 to 1921. The government plans to destroy every barberry bush in 13 states from Lake Huron to the Rocky mountains.

The prospective mother is serving a term of 10 years.
One baby already has been born in the penitentiary.

Common Sense

Are You a Burdensome Guest?
When you are a guest at a home where there are no maids, don't be "under foot" all the time.

Give your hostess time to do the work she must do, undisturbed. If you cannot really be of assistance to her in the performance of her home duties remain in your room, or go out somewhere for a part of the day, so that your hostess may have time to plan and carry out her plans. The guest who just "sits around" all the time, her "ever-presence" making one feel that she is lonesome or needs to be entertained, is the one whose visit is dreaded.

It is different if a guest knows just what to do and can fit into the home scheme of things and relieve the one who is entertaining her.

But if you are really a guest, and in no sense fit into the place as "one of the family," remember that "short visits make long friends."

It is an easy matter to remain longer in a home than one is really welcome.

There is always extra work where a guest is concerned, and while in some households your companionship may be very desirable, in busy families it sometimes works a hardship. Be thoughtful.

Air Mail Night Flying Test to Be Made Next Week

Flares Placed 24 Miles Apart Will Mark Course Between Chicago and Cheyenne.

Mount Clemens, Mich., Oct. 16.—C. F. Egge of Washington, superintendent of the air mail service, left here today for Chicago on one of 12 mail ships that are to be placed in the aerial mail service between Chicago and San Francisco. Mr. Egge is to supervise the night flying experiment on October 23, in which flares will mark the course from Chicago to Cheyenne.

This experiment with flares, Mr. Egge said before his departure, will mark the first step by the government to afford mail service on a regular schedule, night and day, entirely across the continent.

The flares are to be placed 24 miles apart and will be visible for 12 miles. Attendants will operate the signals and report by radio on the passing of planes.

Mr. Egge said the government hoped soon to turn the air mail service over to private bidders and had no intention of competing with private enterprise in this respect. Bids would be asked for the aerial service in the same manner that contracts now are made for mail carrying by rail and steamship lines.

Of the mail planes leaving here four will be stationed at Chicago. The others are to proceed to Omaha, Salt Lake City, Reno, Elko, Nev., and San Francisco.

No information with respect to night flying in this division has been received here, according to Frank H. Tower, manager of the local air mail field.

"There may be an experiment with improved lights on each landing field, aided by the moonlight, but it would take six or eight months to install the regular beacon lights the department contemplates," he said. "I don't see how we could do it as soon as next week."

D. P. Colyer, superintendent of the division, is expected home tomorrow from the Pulitzer races in Detroit, where Egge now is, and may have additional information, Tower said.

Nebraska Girls Win Poultry Show Honors

Lincoln, Oct. 16.—(By A. P.)—The Thayer county poultry club demonstration team composed of two girls, Golda Marvin and Gulla Curtis, both of Hubbard, representing the state of Nebraska, won the national championship in club demonstration at the National Dairy Show and Poultry exposition at St. Paul Saturday.

This team was sponsored by County Extension Agent L. C. Christie of Hebron and was coached by Mrs. George R. Curtis of Hubbard. The girls have been engaged in club work only during the past year, poultry specialists at the Agricultural college of the state university declare. They were accompanied to St. Paul by Charles T. Cornman, agricultural college extension specialist in poultry, and by Mrs. Curtis.

During the contest at St. Paul, the team triumphed over the team sent from Sioux City, which won second place, and took first honors at the recent Nebraska state fair and at the Sioux City fair.

Don't Envy Perfect Health—Enjoy It!

You Can't Be Happy When Every Day Brings That Nagging Backache and That Tired, Weak, All-Worn-Out Feeling.

ARE you one of those unfortunate folks who is always envying the good health and happiness of others? Do you arise in the morning lame and stiff? Drag through the day with your back a dull, unceasing ache? Evening find you "all played out," thinking only of a little rest before tomorrow's weary grind? Do friends and family wonder why you are so discouraged and out of sorts?

It's time, then, you were giving some attention to your kidneys! The kidneys, you know, are the blood-filters. Let them fall behind and the effect on your blood and nerves is quickly apparent. Your back aches, you suffer sharp, stabbing pains and feel dull, nervous, irritable and depressed. Your head aches, you are dizzy and apt to be annoyed by bladder irregularities.

Heed these early warnings! Realize that your kidneys have fallen behind, and give them the help they need before some serious kidney sickness develops. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have brought new health and strength to thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Omaha Folks:

M. A. WOODMAN, 4169 Quincy St., carpenter, says: "I had a severe attack of kidney trouble. My back was so lame and sore I could not do my work. The kidney secretions were irregular and I had to get up during the night. The tired, dull, sluggish feeling was annoying. Doan's Kidney Pills from Solomon's Drug Store put me in good shape. Doan's can't be beat for kidney medicine."

MRS. LEROY HURD, 2023 S. 17th St., says: "I could hardly get around because of the pains in my back. They would cut through my kidneys and feel like needles sticking into me. I could hardly bend, and my kidneys were disordered. A member of my family had used Doan's Kidney Pills and advised me to try them. I only used a couple boxes of Doan's, and have not been troubled since."

State Income Tax Proposed by Farm Bureaus of State

Executive Board of Federation Outlines Legislative Program at Meeting Held in Lincoln.

Lincoln, Oct. 16.—(By A. P.)—Provisions for a state income tax, taxation of municipally-owned public utilities, taxing of privately-owned public utilities on their rate-making value; repeal of the Smith mortgage law; abolition of the federal state "dollar - matching" plan and revision of the present high school curriculum to provide for a more practical system of courses and greater local control over public schools, were the outstanding features of the legislative program of the Nebraska Farm bureau federation, adopted at a meeting late last week of the executive board and presidents of some 40 county farm bureaus.

The meeting of farm bureau heads, held here, recommended a joint Farm bureau Farmers' union legislative committee to present farmers' demands to the coming legislature, if possible.

Oppose Present Courses.
The farm bureau officials went on record as opposed to the present uniform charge made for high school tuition for rural students and declared that the present high school curriculum is "designed to provide credits for college entrance, rather than to equip the student with a practical education," and they believe that the curriculum of each high school should be left in the hands of the local authorities; also that the uniform examination questions sent out by the state superintendent should be discontinued. They oppose also the proposed "county unit" plan of school government.

Other legislation demanded by the Farm bureau federation is as follows: Laws making possible the organization of a farmers' finance corporation.

Laws to make public the tax rolls of each county and township.

Creation of township boards of equalization, but retention of the county board of equalization.

Cooperation with other states in abolishing the "dollar-matching" system of federal-state road building.

Legislation that will leave the larger percentage of automobile license money in the county for maintenance of county roads.

Continuance of appropriations for eradication of bovine tuberculosis and agricultural extension work.

A law with proper safeguards, so that the state may buy land where sold for taxes.

Want Loan Limit Raised.
On the subject of national legislation, the Nebraska Farm Bureau federation officials ask that the limit of federal farm loans be raised from $10,000 to $15,000. They expressed opposition to the proposed ship subsidy; to cancellation of foreign debts; the transfer of the bureau of markets from the Department of Agriculture to the Department of Trade and Commerce; the sales tax. They support the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway project and declare that tax-free securities be made subject to taxation and such exemption be discontinued. Repeal of the provisions of which they declare will take control out of the hands of local authorities.

In connection with the recommendations for the taxation of municipally-owned public utilities, it is also recommended that bonds and other securities of governmental subdivisions, now exempt from taxation, be brought into the poll rolls.

The Smith mortgage law, which the farm bureau officials demand be repealed, exempts farm mortgages from taxation, placing the entire burden of the tax value of the farm upon the man owning the equity in the farm and having possession. They believe that the farmer should be taxed only on the equity he owns.

"Make Tax Rolls Public."
