

Mary Hight Makes First Nebraska Speech for G. O. P.

Decares Women Will Not Forget Record of Democratic Senator on Suffrage Question.

Lincoln, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mary Hight of Illinois spoke at noon Monday to Burlington employees of the west Lincoln roundhouse. It was her first appearance in Nebraska on behalf of the republican ticket.

During her career as a public speaker, Mrs. Hight has campaigned in 27 states. Prohibition is the only state issue on which she touches.

"But Mr. Bryan says that prohibition is not an issue in this campaign," she was reminded. She replied: "Then why is he here, she replied: 'Why are they expecting him in Illinois to campaign for Jim' Reed at Kansas City, Joplin, Springfield and St. Joseph? And why is he going into Illinois to campaign for a congressional candidate who, up to a few months ago, was not a few months ago, was not?'"

"We women have long memories," said Mrs. Hight in an interview. "We remember that two years ago Mr. Bryan promised that if two years hence Gilbert M. Hitchcock were a candidate for re-election, he would return to Nebraska to campaign against the senator. We women want to know the sort of influence a man may have who does one thing today and a contradictory thing tomorrow. No woman in the United States agreed with him that prohibition is a dead issue. Nor is Mr. Hitchcock fooling the women of Nebraska. We know that he never was for suffrage."

"No man in the world is going to repudiate the right of women to vote and then 90 days prior to election, pat them on the back, call them lovely ladies, and say he appreciates their problems and get by with it. The women of Nebraska will not permit him to go back to Washington. They are going to vote for Mr. Howell. They know he is a safe man with whom to place their problems. And the problems of our women are essentially the problems of the husbands and children."

Muck, about 40 years old, was traveling about the country accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Hardin, also of Lincoln, who also are blind. The three were engaged in canvassing for money with which to establish a library for blind people and to equip it with books printed in raised letters. It is said that Wednesday night the three gathered in the hotel at Wickenburg and checked up on their accounts. Mr. and Mrs. Hardin, destitute, are still in Phoenix, hoping that some means can be found whereby they may return to their home in Lincoln.

Gathering certain weeds growing in the prison yards, the prisoners placed them in buckets of water, according to the investigators, and after the concoction reached the desired degree of fermentation, the inmates swallowed it, following it up with a chaser consisting of water in which sugar and yeast had been dissolved. The result, the investigation showed, was a startling gas that lasted almost indefinitely.

Mrs. Bennett is a very charming young woman."
